HE HAD BURNED VALUABLE PAPERS

Woman Charges Her Brother-in-Law With Revengeful Act Against Her.

A strange story of revenge yesterday related by Miss Jennie B. Patterson of Chester street, Brushton, who made information before Justice Samuel Coleman of Wilkinsburg, charging her brother-in-law, William Lawrence, of burning valuable insurance and pension documents. Miss Patterson avers that Lawrence was animated in his alleged act by spite in not receiving a share of a legacy.

The trouble is said to be the outcome of an old family quarrel. The papers belonged to Mrs. Emma Patterson of North Avenue, Wilkinsburg. Some time ago a relative of Mrs. Patterson died, leaving her a comfortable income from an insurance policy. Lawrence, who was also related to the insured, it is alleged, believed himself entitled to a share of the money and burned a quantity of papers, including some valuable pension documents.

ELLEN M. STONE'S PLEA.

Active Action by This Government Needed to Protect Turkish Missions.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 5.—A feature of tonight's session of the Women's Board of Missions was an address by Miss Ellen M. Stone, who was held in bondage for months by brigands of Bulgaria. The future of mission work in Turkey, Miss Stone said, depends largely upon the action of our government concerning the payment of the ransom turned over to the brigands who held her fellow-workers and herself in captivity. Orders have been issued that the missionaries shall not leave the lines of railroad. Mission work, she said, had been limited, and added action on the part of the United States is necessary to make it safe for the missionaries to resume their efforts in fields where there is such a need for the gospel.

The machine organization leaders concede the defeat of their county ticket, the loss of the two state senators, the South Side and city congressmen, but claim that half of their legislative candidates have been elected and that there is a chance for Congressman Graham, of the Allegheny district. The machine managers give the county to the Citizens by a majority of 7,000 to 8,000.

The Citizens claim the county by 7,500 to 10,000, the election of all their congressmen and both state senators, and give the organization but three members of the legislature, admitting, however, that the result in the First, Eighth and Third districts is in doubt. The Citizens claim that full returns will show that Congressman Graham has been defeated by a substantial majority for Shiras. The leaders of the parties last night sized up the situation as follows:

Secretary Ostermaier of the machine city committee: "The whole Republican county ticket has been defeated by a majority of 7,500 to 8,000 for the Citizens candidates. I base this estimate upon the vote cast for sheriff. The count of the bulk of the vote for sheriff gave Fahnestock, the Citizens candidate, 43,796, and Mackrell, the Republican candidate, 36,-950. This gives Fahnestock a lead of 6,846, with 154 districts to hear from.

Ostermaier Talks Fight.

"I know nothing about the vote for congressmen. I understand from the returns received at headquarters that we have elected eight of the 16 members of the legislature. They are Lutz and Wagener, in the First district; Kirker and Esler, in the Seventh; Moore and Mawhinney, in the Sixth; Cook in the Third, and Scott, in the Eighth.

"The defeat sustained by the organization will not discourage us. We have 60,-000 Republicans who are steadfast and the fight will be kept up at the city elections in February. The organization will throw the primaries open to all Republicans and keep hands off. So far I have heard of but two Republicans mentioned for the nomination for city recorder. They are District Attorney Haymaker and ex-Mayor Diehl."

Chairman Robertson of the Republican county committee: "The Republican county ticket has been defeated by about 8,000. Dr. Barchfeld has been defeated for congress on the South Side by about 400. The contest in the Allegheny district is in doubt. All I know about it is that Mr. Graham claims his re-election by 300 to 400. We will get eight members of the legislature."

The Citizens' Claim.

Chairman Evans of the Citizens county organization: "We have elected our county ticket by majorities ranging from 7,500 to 10,000. James W. Brown has defeated Dr. Barchfeld for congress on the South Side by 1,500 and H. Kirke Porter has beaten James Francis Burke in the city district by 2,500. George Shiras III. has been elected in Allegheny.

"We have lost two legislative candidates in the Seventh district and R. H. Heath in the Sixth district. The First district, the Eighth and one candidate in the Third district are in doubt. John M. Goehring has defeated Charles A. Muehlbronner for state senator in Allegheny, and W. S. Woods has defeated Thomas J. Ford for Senator Flinn's seat."

W. H. Graham: "I have been elected by a majority of 600 to 700. Mr. Shiras carried Allegheny city, but I expect the returns from the country districts to wipe out his majority. Tomorrow will decide the matter."

George Shiras, III.: "The result of the contest for congress in the Allegheny district is uncertain, but I believe I have been elected. I got a majority of about 800 in Allegheny and expect a majority of 300 in the boroughs below Allegheny. The vote from the boroughs and townships above Allegheny will settle it."

Muehlbronner Admits Defeat.

Charles A. Muehlbronner admits his defeat and also claims that Congressman Graham has been beaten by 800 votes. "The whole ticket has gone up," said Mr. Muehlbronner.

John M. Goehring, the opponent of Senator Muehlbronner, claims his election by 1,000.

Dr. S. S. Woodburn and other Allegheny leaders of the Citizens party claim that all four members of the legislature in Allegheny have been elected. The majorities of John Francies and Joseph Powell, in the Second district, are put at 1,000 or more, and a majority of several hundred is claimed for Gilchrist and Stewart in the First district.

The returns compiled at Citizens headquarters yesterday showed a majority of 1,211 for James W. Brown, the Citizens candidate for congress in the Thirty-second district. This was the vote of 162 districts, with the following districts to hear from: First of Twenty-fourth ward, Fourth of Twenty-fifth ward, Third of Twenty-sixth ward, First of Thirtieth ward, First and Second of Thirty-second ward, First of Thirty-fourth ward, two districts of the Thirty-eighth ward, Coraopolis, three wards in Homestead, one district in McKees Rocks, Monteeth, West Liberty, First and Second districts of Baldwin, First, Second and Fourth districts of Chartiers township; First, Second, Third and Fifth districts of Collier; First of Finley, Second and Fourth of Lower St. Clair, First, Third, Fourth and Fifth and Seventh of Mifflin, Third of Moon, First and Fifth of North Fayette, Second, Fourth and Fifth of South Fayette, Union, Second of Upper St. Clair.

Brown Will Win by 1,500.

The Citizens managers say that the returns from the missing districts will increase Brown's lead to 1,500.

The record of the vote for congressman in the Allegheny district, kept by the citizens headquarters, gave Graham a majority of 154 in 80 districts, with 41 districts in Allegheny city and 30 from country districts and boroughs to hear from. The majority for Shiras in Allegheny city was over 800. The total vote in 80 districts was as follows:

Graham 8,137, Shiras 7,983. Twenty-nine of the 41 city districts not accounted for give Shiras a majority of 543 and six outside districts give Graham a majority of 142. This, summed up, gives Shiras a majority of 247, with the following districts to be heard from: Tenth district of Second ward, Allegheny; Third of Fourth ward; Seventh of Fifth ward; Third and Eighth of Sixth ward; Fourth of Seventh ward; Third of Ninth ward; Fourth of Tenth ward; Second and Fourth of Eleventh ward; Second and Fourth of Thirteenth ward; Brackenridge and Emsworth boroughs; First ward of Sewickley; First ward of Sharpsburg, First and Second wards of Tarentum, Fawn, Franklin, Hampton and Harmar townships; three districts of Harrison township; First of McCandless, Marshall township, Third of O'Hara, First and Second of Ohio, Third of Reserve, Third of Ross, Second and Third of West Deer.

Ex-Mayor Geyer, who has been recognized as the organization candidate for recorder of Allegheny, stated last night that Tuesday's election had not changed his determination to run for the office.

DAYTON HAS DEFEATED M'GRAW FOR CONGRESS

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—A. G. Dayton has defeated John McGraw for congress by a majority of 1,259.

TO EVERY CONTINENT.

Pittsburgh Wire Nails and Steel Tubes Shipped All Over World During Month Just Past.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The combined foreign shipments of the American Steel and Wire Company's wire and wire nails and the National Tube Company's iron pipe made by those concerns in the Pittsburgh district through eastern ports last month broke a new record of monthly exports, no less than 12,000 tons having been forwarded to various parts of the world. This shows an increase of 50 per cent over similar shipments made in September.

The wire and wire nail shipments aggregated nearly 9,500 tons. This tonnage shows an increase of nearly 80 per cent over the total exports made during the previous month. The wire exports amounted to 5,647 tons, the principal purchasers being Australia, South America and South Africa, but sales also being made to England, China, Japan, Cuba, Colon, Mexico and Manila.

The shipments of wire nails, which amounted to 3,747 tons, were forwarded principally to the far east, 1,471 tons having been sent to Hongkong, Shanghai and Yokohama.

The National Tube Company's pipe exported in October through New York, Baltimore and Philadelphia, amounted to nearly 3,000 tons, being an increase of about 90 per cent compared with the exports of September. Europe, Mexico, South Africa and the far east were the chief buyers.

BOTH SIDES GO ON GUARD DUTY

Citizen and Machine Representatives Watched Election Returns.

AFRAID OF FRAUD

Representatives of the Citizens and the machine sat last night beside the big burglar-proof safe in the prothonotary's office. They were there to see that the official returns of Tuesday's election were not tampered with.

The official returning board meets at noon today to canvass the vote. Yesterday the returns were received at the prothonotary's office. The duplicate copies are always open to the inspection of the people. Throngs of interested persons crowded the office and fought for a chance to examine the result in certain districts. The business of the office was practically suspended. The papers were strewn in all parts of the big room. Some were thrown on the floor and trodden upon, while a few were torn into pieces. At 3 o'clock the clerks were ordered to gather the papers and put them in the vaults, and after that hour the public did not have an opportunity to study returns.

The Citizens thought it wise to have special precaution taken to guard the returns last night. The judges of common pleas court No. 2 were requested to detail a man to do guard duty in the prothonotary's office last night. It is the first time such a request has been made, but the court consented. J. E. Clinton was named by the judges. When he appeared in the office Prothonotary A. J. McQuitty became very angry. During the controversy Judge Elliott Rodgers appeared and explained matters.

The returns are in a big safe and McQuitty and Chief Clerk Hamilton carry the keys. The latter was requested to turn his key over to the prothonotary, and this made him angry. In the meantime the commissioners heard what was happening and they detailed John C. Mercer, superintendent of county buildings, to watch the ballots and Citizens. All night the two men sat beside the vault. Deputy Prothonotary John Bradley says that the returns for all of the 380 districts, save five, are in the safe.

CAST HIS BALLOT AT THE AGE OF 106.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Patrick Kervin of St. Clair township, Westmoreland county's oldest resident, cast his vote yesterday. He was taken to the polls in a carriage, but went to the booth unassisted and marked his ballot. Mr. Kervine was born in Ireland 106 years ago.

He has the distinction of voting for every president since Andrew Jackson. He remains a stanuch Democrat, and yesterday his vote was "straight."

ABOUT $150,000 IN BETS CHANGED HANDS

Men With Money to Wager on Citizens' Victory Could Not Get Full Action.

Last night it was estimated that about $150,000 in bets changed hands on the result of the election in Allegheny county. Although John Staley spread the news that he had $100,000 to bet on the election, he was unable to place all of it. Last night's return showed that he had won about $40,000. The money Staley had to bet was ready for over a week, but as the fight narrowed down to a contest in which friends split on results, he was unable to get his money out.

One of the most active betters on Tuesday's results was F. M. Newberry. Newberry and John P. McTighe pooled their money early in the fight. Last night Newberry said that he and McTighe had cleaned up about $9,000 on bets in which their own money was staked on the last election. Money which they bet for others, brought about $15,000 in returns.

There was not much money put out on Burke and Porter, as the fight was considered for some time before the ballots were cast as greatly in Porter's favor. However, some men offered odds of two to one on Porter, and there were some takers.

Barchfeld, who made a somewhat better fight than Burke, had supporters with money to back their candidate, but in all the Newberry-McTighe combination was only able to make a clear winning of $2,-700 on the South Side doctor.

WIRELESS MESSAGE CROSSES THE OCEAN

Commander of Warship Off Nova Scotia Coast Claims He Received One.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SYDNEY, N. S., Nov. 5.—The success of wireless telegraphy as a means for transatlantic communication is practically assured, if the statement of Commander Martin of the steamer Carlo Alberto is to be believed.

Martin said in an interview this morning that a wireless message was received off Sydney harbor on Saturday on board the warship from the station at Cornwall, England. This message is by far the longest yet transmitted by wireless telegraphy. The distance from this harbor to Cornwall is greater than that from Tablehead to Cornwall.

On board the warship Carlo several messages were received from the Cornwall station on the way out, among them being messages of congratulation to Marconi from the czar of Russia and King Humbert. The Carlo Alberto can send messages only 150 miles, but she can receive from any distance.

The messages were all in the Morse code, and all, without exception, were completely taken.

Remarkable Bowling Record.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Ben Stell, a member of the Rival Bowling team, tonight accomplished the remarkable feat of rolling a perfect score, getting 300 12 straight strikes in a competition in which teams of five men played in a three-game series.

SMALL STEPSONS' SHOCKING CRIME

They Shoot Their Stepfather Dead and Try to Burn His Body.

A DELIBERATE PLOT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Columbus, Neb., Nov. 5.—Gerhard Borchers, living a few miles northeast of Humphrey, was killed by his 14-year-old stepson, Herman, who had bought a shotgun for the purpose. The boy held the muzzle of the gun close to the back of the unsuspecting stepfather's head as he sat in the house and fired.

Then, with the assistance of his brothers, August, 10 years old, and John, 8, a team was hitched to the body and it was dragged to the straw-stack in a nearby field, covered with straw as completely as possible and the stack set on fire.

Such is the story obtained this morning by Sheriff Byrnes from the lips of the three children, who are now separately in his custody, and who agree in nearly all the details of the plot and its execution, differing only in the amount of responsibility placed upon Herman, who implicates the other boys in nearly equal measure with himself, while they place the blame almost entirely upon him.

They say the shooting took place Friday. They say Herman took the money with which to purchase the gun from the stepfather's pocket, while he claims that his father gave him $10 with which to buy a gun, and that his father knew he bought it.

The motive they give for the crime is that the stepfather, with whom they had lived alone since their mother's death last spring, did not treat them kindly. The neighbors do not know of any mistreatment of the children by their stepfather.

The boy who did the shooting was the son of Mrs. Borchers by a former marriage, though he took the name of Borchers when his mother married the second time, and has been known and treated as a son of the murdered man.

Gerhard Borchers was a highly esteemed resident for many years of the Humphrey neighborhood, an active member of the Baptist church.

After committing the crime the boys remained at home until Sunday and then drove 10 miles to the farm of their uncle, John Borchers, near Platte Center, telling him that their father was very despondent of late; had left home rather mysteriously on Thursday, and was still missing.

A coroner's jury is in session today at the scene of the crime.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY FINISHES HIS TRIP

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(Special.)—The World this morning says: "Admiral Schley and Mrs. Schley arrived last evening on the Mallory liner Concho from Galveston. They have been visiting in Texas with Mrs. Schley a number of places which I had long wanted to see,' said the admiral, 'and I have had a most delightful trip, barring the rough time on the Gulf of Mexico. I have not had a chance to keep track of what has been going on politically.'"

CARRIE NATION HURT.

Is on Lehigh Valley Train That Runs Into Pennsylvania Engine.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The Black Diamond express of the Lehigh Valley railroad, which left Jersey City westward bound at 12:12 p. m., was wrecked near the Jersey City meadows shops, east of Newark, about 12:20 p. m., and 15 people were more or less seriously hurt. One coach and the engine were overturned. The express ran on a siding and collided with a Pennsylvania railroad engine, standing there.

One of the passengers hurt was Mrs. Carrie Nation of Kansas. Her head was slightly cut. The Pennsylvania engineer was also slightly hurt.

Democrats Gain in Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.—Complete returns show that Maryland's representation in the next house will be four Republicans and two Democrats—a gain of two seats for the Democrats.

DEFEAT ENDS DAVID HILL'S FOND HOPES

He Had Staked His Political Future on the Election on Coler.

ODELL'S FIGHT BADLY MANAGED

Party Workers in Greater New York City Simply Laid Down on Him.

THE BEATEN CRY FRAUD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 5.—The official pluralities for governor in the various counties of the state, as reported to Gov. Odell by the county clerks, shows a total plurality for Odell of 135,972, and a total plurality for Coler of 123,085. Odell's plurality over Coler being 12,887.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Nov. 5.

David B. Hill down and out and the Republican party in New York city practically swept out of existence—these are the most interesting disclosures following the state election of Tuesday.

Mr. Hill today surveyed the wreck his leadership had made of splendid political opportunity. He caused his state committee to send broadcast stories that the Republicans had stolen the government, and by means of fraud had reversed the will of the voters of this state.

Mr. Hill's orders were to claim everything. His followers threatened to demand a recount of the votes, and some of the more excitable at the Hoffman house headquarters declared that they would impeach Odell if he was inaugurated governor. They ceased such talk when they were reminded that they would have to begin the impeachment proceedings before a Republican senate.

Ballot Machine Count.

The discovery has been made that in a few districts in Erie county the vote which Coler received on the "rooster" ticket was not counted on election night. It has been ascertained, however, that the ballot machine in nearly every instance did record the votes as being cast for Mr. Coler, but did not classify them as being supplied by the Greater New York Democracy. It is doubtful if enough votes will be found to overcome Odell's lead.

Mr. Hill's loss of the state is a hard blow to his presidential ambitions. He had expected to carry the state for his ticket and then go before the Democrats of the south and west and tell them he had redeemed the state of New York, and if he were named for president by them in 1904 he would guarantee to give the Democrats the electoral vote of New York. He has only succeeded in making New York debatable on local issues.

Mr. Hill and his immediate friends are not the only set of politicians who come out of the shoot on Tuesday's affray with motives impugned and plumage in tatters. Gov. Odell has reason to feel the deepest resentment toward the Republican leaders in New York, and especially in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx. That this county, which in 1900 gave the Democratic candidate 76,000 plurality, should roll up for Coler on Tuesday 80,000, would make it appear to an outsider that, as an organization, the Republican party has ceased to exist on Manhattan Island.

Poor Work in the City.

All over the city on election day, and for weeks before that time, the Republican county committee "laid down." Practically nothing was done for the state ticket. At the outset the state committee was told it would not be permitted to interfere with the way the campaign was to be conducted for Odell in New York. The state committee, therefore, kept hands off, and all was ripe for a political plot against Odell, which seems to be clearly indicated by the returns.

The defeat of John C. Davies for the supreme court in the Fifth district is a severe disappointment to President Roosevelt, who had him nominated over the protests of Senator Platt.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—"It will be time enough to discuss the election when the votes are properly counted. The contest was a very close one and complete returns have not been received. Until they are officially known I do not care to discuss the election," was David B. Hill's reply to The Gazette correspondent's query as to whether it was proposed to contest the election of Gov. Odell.

BLAMED IT ON LOW.

Lemuel Quigg Explains What He Believes Caused Republican Slump in New York City.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(Special.)—The World this morning says: When the question was put to Lemuel Ely Quigg last night, "How do you account for the big Democratic vote in New York city and the big Republican vote up the state?" Mr. Quigg replied:

"No considerations entered into the voting in New York city different from those which were felt up the state, except such as have been created by Mayor Low's administration. The drift against our party here, therefore, signified the purpose of the people to hold us, as a party, responsible for Mayor Low.

"Public disappointment at the result—or, to be more accurate, the lack of results of Mr. Low's local government—is various in kind. Three things were confidently expected. First, that he would reduce expenses, not with a pair of scissors, but with an ax; second, that he would enforce the laws, not some of the laws, not the simple and easy ones, but all of them; third, that he would expel from office and power what he and all the other fusionists declared to be not a political party, but a conspiracy for public plunder."

BEAVER MAN'S LAST BATTLE IN POLITICS

He Says So, at Least, but His Friends May Say Not for Awhile.

FLORIDA TRIP STARTS TODAY

A Large Party of Pennsylvanians Going With Him to the South as Guests.

GREATEST QUAKER VOTE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Public Ledger Building, PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 5.

Late returns received by Chairman Quay add to and emphasize the Republican victory of yesterday. The Democratic congressional representation has not been increased and the possible limit is now placed at four members.

Col. Quay is satisfied. His predictions have been verified. His plan of campaign was successful in every respect. His friends regard the outcome as a personal triumph of memorable magnitude.

"This is my last battle," said the senator to The Gazette correspondent this evening. "You may say I am out of politics. The pace is too strenuous for one of my years, and in the future I shall be a spectator."

Two years ago, in the Academy of Music, in this city, the senator made a similar statement. Party pressure, however, was too strong and he remained in the saddle. Those who know him best say he will continue to ride, at least until the next legislature has elected a United States senator to succeed Boies Penrose. That he will always be the dominant force while life lasts, is not an extravagant prophecy.

Plan for the Florida Trip.

At 7:20 o'clock tomorrow morning many of the Republican leaders will leave for a two weeks' rest at San Lucie, Fla. Those who will go in the special Pullman car "Courier" are Senators Quay and Penrose, Insurance Commissioner J. W. Durham, James P. McNichol, Congressmen Foerderer and Burk, Senator George Vare, Joseph H. Bommer, Secretary W. R. Andrews, Attorney C. S. Brown, Directors English and Haddock, Sheriff-elect James L. Miles and Charles B. Hall. Later on the party will be joined by E. A. Devlin, Harry Shack, David H. Lane, Gus Muller and Horatio B. Hackett, senator-elect.

While away the United States senatorial and Philadelphia mayoralty campaigns will be discussed. That Penrose will be the organization candidate for re-election, is taken for granted; but who will be picked as successor to Mayor Ashbridge, is not known.

Secretary Andrews of the state committee, is authority for the statement that, outside of Allegheny county, there will be 36 stalwart Republicans in the next senate; that there will be 144 in the house, and that this number may be increased to 150. He also looks for material gains in the senate. On joint ballot Secretary Andrews claims 180 stalwart Republicans who will go into the senatorial caucus and abide by its decision. This number, he says, is positively assured by returns now in.

Guessing on Allegheny Delegation.

How the Allegheny delegation will line up, is a matter of speculation, and prevailing opinion being it will act with the majority.

There is some speculation on the speakership, and among other names heard are those of Harry Walton of Philadelphia and George Kunkle of Dauphin. It is understood that William T. Marshall of Allegheny is defeated.

The cabinet of Gov.-elect Pennypacker is being selected by those who are always willing to push along a good thing. One portfolio, that of insurance commissioner, may be considered settled, it being generally accepted that Israel W. Durham will succeed himself.

W. W. Griest, secretary of the commonwealth, by reason of the splendid majority given by his county, Lancaster, seems to be in line for a re-appointment, although the name of Frank M. Fuller of Fayette is heard in this connection. Should Griest succeed himself, Mr. Fuller might be tendered the attorney generalship, and, in this connection, mention is made of Col. J. A. Waltree of Scranton. Col. Waltres was a candidate for governor but withdrew in the interest of Judge Pennypacker.

Who will get the banking commissionership is a matter of speculation; that Gen. Frank Reeder will not succeed himself, is admitted.

Elkin Out of Cabinet.

From friends of Gen. John P. Elkin I learn that he will not accept a place in the Pennypacker cabinet, even if it should be tendered him. It is announced that Mr. Elkin intends to be a gubernatorial candidate four years hence, and because of this he does not think it wise to accept office under the incoming administration. Those who ought to know assert that Mr. Elkin could succeed himself if he desired, but they say he will not do so.

Chairman Quay was swamped by congratulatory telegrams today. President Roosevelt, cabinet members, senators, congressmen, national and state Republican leaders were cordial in their messages of congratulation.

More votes were cast in Philadelphia last Tuesday than at any other preceding election of any sort. The presidential vote of 1896, when, throughout the state, a vigorous campaign had been waged, had been the banner vote, but Tuesday's vote exceeded the 343,893 cast for all presidential candidates in 1896 by at least 5,000, and the excess probably will be 8,000 when the scattering votes are all in. The vote cast for McKinley in 1900 was about 14,000 less than Tuesday's vote.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

Miners Appeal from Arbitration.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—The arbitrators of the miners' strike in the department of the Pas-de-Calais today gave a decision against an increase of the present rate of wages, holding that the rates are proportionate to the selling price of coal. The delegates of the miners were dissatisfied with the decision and expect to carry the matter to the chamber of deputies.

COOPER WINS FOR CONGRESS

Kennedy Meets With Severe Loss in Greene County.

BIG VOTE FOR ACHESON

Washington County More Than Offsets What He Loses in Beaver—Complete Returns in Western Pennsylvania.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

UNIONTOWN, PA., Nov. 5.—Complete returns from Fayette county show some surprises. The state Republican ticket has about 350 plurality and the Prohibitionists more than doubled any previous vote, receiving 755. For congress the county is very close. A. F. Cooper, Rep., only claiming a plurality of 142. Cooper carries the Twenty-third district by a plurality of 1,800. O. W. Kennedy, Dem., for congress, was badly treated in Greene county and has only 1,060 plurality there, while Freeland, the Greene county candidate for senate in the Fortieth district, has a plurality of 2,000 and defeats W. E. Crow of Uniontown. Crow has a plurality in Fayette county of about 900. A. A. Thompson, Richard Davis and L. F. Arensburg, Rep., are elected to legislature by narrow margins. The entire Republican county ticket was elected, as follows: Logan Rush, register and recorder; Peter E. Sheppard, prothonotary; Richard A. McLean, treasurer; Alvin J. Stentz and Martin E. Townsend, commissioners; Albert S. Moser, poor director; Newton Newcomer and Joseph H. Humbertson, auditors.

WAYNESBURG, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Greene county complete: Pennypacker, 1,861; William M. Brown, 1,869; Isaac B. Brown, 1,869; Pattison, 3,531; Guthrie, 3,541; Nolan, 3,549; Swallow, 88; congress, Allen F. Cooper, Rep., 2,195. Oren W. Kennedy, Dem., 3,261; legislature, N. P. R. Rogers, Rep., 1,900, James K. McNeely, Dem., 3,496; senator, William E. Crow, Rep., 1,959, B. N. Freeland, Dem., 3,898.

Acheson Gets Big Vote.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Practically complete official returns from this county give Pennypacker a majority of 2,398. The whole Republican ticket is elected, and Capt. J. B. Gibson will be the Democratic member of the board of county commissioners, having defeated A. B. Hecker of Washington by 175 votes.

Congressman Acheson's majority is 4,127. He was notified tonight that he had a majority of 1,562 in Lawrence county and that Beaver had gone against him by 150 votes, leaving him a majority in the district of 5,279. His majority is the greatest ever received by any candidate in this county.

BEAVER, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Complete semi-official returns in Beaver county are as follows: Pennypacker, 5,436; Pattison, 3,565; W. M. Brown, 5,055; Guthrie, 3,365; I. B. Brown, 5,210; Nolan, 3,307; congress, Acheson, Rep., 3,318; Eckert, Dem., 3,411; senate, Samuel P. White, Rep., 5,359; Lewis W. Reed, Dem., 3,413; assembly, Ira F. Mansfield, Rep., 5,652; John T. Taylor, Rep., 5,168; Henry H. Wilson, Dem., 3,444; T. Frank Covert, Dem., 3,193; register and recorder, James S. Mitchell, Rep., 5,427; Frank Fayler, Dem., 3,382; sheriff, Howard Bliss, Rep., 5,382; S. M. Hemer, Dem., 3,384; treasurer, Thomas B. Bradshaw, Rep., 5,427; James Anderson, Jr., Dem., 3,650; clerk of courts, John H. Sturgeon, Rep., 5,376; John T. Aye, Dem., 3,629; commissioners, James C. Coleman, Rep., 4,632; George A. Carey, Rep., 4,789; James L. Mayhew, Dem., 3,828; John Hindeman, Dem., 3,851; coroner, Dr. James R. Gormley, Rep., 5,-360; Harry J. Coyle, Dem., 3,190; auditors, David F. Funkhouse, Rep., 5,351; James B. Edgar, Rep., 5,108; David B. Hartford, Dem., 3,332; Henry J. Bock, Dem., 3,296.

W. M. Brown Leads Ticket.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The complete returns of Lawrence county were compiled late this afternoon. The hardest battle was between James Flynn, Dem., and James S. Young, Proh., for commissioner, the former winning by about 1,700. County Chairman John B. Brown tonight received a telegram from Senator Quay, announcing that William M. Brown of this city leads the state ticket. The following are the complete results in Lawrence county: Pennypacker, 4,043; William M. Brown, 3,930; I. B. Brown, 3,887; Pattison, 2,184; Guthrie, 2,-064; Nolan, 1,169; Swallow, 708; Brumbine, 610; Marquis, 830; Slayton, 737; Barnes, 771; Gould, 747; congress, Acheson, Rep., 3,059; Eckert, Dem., 1,186; Bailey, Proh., 727; legislature, Pomeroy, Rep., 4,261; McConnell, 4,145; McKee, Dem., 1,756; Walker, Dem., 1,646; Breckenridge, Proh., 727; Bell, Proh., 763.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Election returns from 148 of the 150 precincts have been received and unofficial estimates point to the election of the entire Republican ticket. Pennypacker will carry the county by 800. Col. George P. Huff, candidate for congress, leads the ticket. He has a majority of 1,500. All the candidates for county offices will have majorities of about 2,500. The Democrats will secure one minority commissioner. Earnest and Price are in the lead of Funk. Mowry will be the Democrat on the board. Greensburg did not go solidly Democratic, as in former elections. Col. Huff carried the town by 404 and Gallagher, candidate for recorder of deeds, was given a nice majority in the five local wards.

Galbreath's Majority Is 1,656.

BUTLER, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Complete returns from the 68 precincts in the county give Pennypacker a plurality of 935, and Col. Huff 1,540; A. M. Douthett 160 for assembly, over his running mate, Thomas Hays, and 1,531 over the two Democratic competitors. Hays' majority is about 1,200. James M. Galbreath has a majority of 1,656 over McQuistion for judge and the balance of the county ticket is Republican by majorities from 800 to 1,500. The county officials elected are: Sheriff, M. L. Gibson; prothonotary, J. C. Clark; register and recorder, J. P. Davis; treasurer, W. S. Dixon; commissioners, Robert McClung, J. L. Patterson, G. F. Easley; coroner, J. C. Atwell; auditors, H. C. Hazlett, G. S. Hustleton.

FRANKLIN, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The official returns from Venango county are: Pennypacker, 4,163; Pattison, 3,520; Swallow, 1,423; William M. Brown, 4,211; Guthrie, 3,690; I. B. Brown, 4,372; Nolan, 2,822; Joseph Sibley, Rep., for congress, 4,945; Watson, Dem., 2,529 (Sibley's plurality in the district, 2,416). For assembly, Capt. H. E. Cummings, Rep., for state senate, 4,215; McCalmont, Dem., 3,212; legislature, Dr. Magee, Rep., 4,807; Bryan H. Osborne, Rep., 4,393; Fawcett, Dem., 2,685; Oiler, Dem., 2,503. Republicans were elected to the county offices by pluralities ranging from 1,100 to 2,500.

MERCER, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Complete returns give Pennypacker 5,378; Pattison, 4,920. Sibley's majority for congress is 1,710 in the county. The Republican legislature and county tickets are elected by pluralities running from 900 to 2,400. D. A. Lutton was elected minority commissioner and J. A. Patterson minority auditor.

BROOKVILLE, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Unofficial figures for Jefferson county are as follows: Pennypacker, 3,881; Pattison, 3,413; Swallow, 460; congress, Smith, Rep., 4,524; Smiley, Dem., 2,830; assembly, Vastinder, Rep., 1,134; States, Dem., 2,216; sheriff, Curry, Rep., 4,040; Gleason, Dem., 3,307; prothonotary, Blood, Rep., 4,048; Whitehill, Dem., 2,684; register, Reitz, Rep., 4,339; Beck, Dem., 3,025; treasurer, Means, Rep., 4,406; Woods, Dem., 2,889; commissioners, Webster, Rep., 4,054; Hauch, Rep., 4,079; Hawk, Dem., 3,307; Wingert Dem., 2,863.

INDIANA, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Indiana county gave Pennypacker a majority of 1,600. Republican congressman, assemblymen and county officers were elected throughout, with Neal won as sheriff over Eagle by 454 votes.

BEDFORD, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Yesterday's election was the hardest fought battle here in years, and although the Citizens succeeded in reducing the Republican majority in the county, the Republicans elected the entire ticket, except one candidate for legislature, Dell Deming beating Oster, Rep., by 68 votes. The official count shows a majority on the state ticket of 228. The following ticket was elected: Congress, Alvin Evans; state senate, W. C. Miller; representatives, Joseph T. Alsop, Rep., E. Dolly, Dem.; sheriff, Henry W. Cogan; prothonotary, E. H. Blackburn; register and recorder, Aaron Garber; treasurer, I. S. Guyer; district attorney, Simon H. Zell.

Evans Wins Easily.

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The unofficial vote of Blair county shows that both the state and county Republican ticket has been carried by majorities ranging from 1,500 to 2,000. The vote for Pennypacker is 6,301, Pattison 5,060; W. M. Brown 6,891, Guthrie 4,712, I. B. Brown 7,171. Alvin Evans wins for congress by a magnificent majority, receiving 7,062 votes over 4,245 cast for Robert Creswell, his opponent. For assembly Lee Pitcairn, Rep., gets 6,888, and his running mate, W. H. Irwin, 6,760; O. H. Hewitt, fusion legislative candidate, 4,570 and C. J. McCullough, Fusionist, 4,586. The Republican county ticket elected, M. H. Mosser and J. A. Smith commissioners; James Stiffler, poor director, T. C. McCartney, coroner; Howard Sell and William Roberts, auditors; M. Scott Gwinn, surveyor. J. R. McFarlane is elected Democratic commissioner over the present incumbent, Charles Hughes, by 219 plurality. The Democratic county auditor named is William Hays of Hollidaysburg, over Simon Newall of Altoona, by 51 plurality.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Nov. 5.—Cambria county complete: Pennypacker 8,908, William M. Brown 8,057, Isaac B. Brown 9,007; Pattison 8,004, Guthrie 8,807, Nolan 8,254, Swallow 529, Grumbine 968, Marquis 288; congress, Evans, Rep., 6,949; Cresswell, Dem., 8,187; legislature, Davis, Rep., 6,402; Hohmann, Rep., 5,779; Bell, Dem., 8,329; Somerville, Dem., 8,550.

I. W. Oldshue, M. D., 534 Grant street. Office hours, 10-12, 2-8. Patients will receive prompt attention during these hours.

ART TREASURES TO BE SEEN TODAY

The Loan Exhibition in Carnegie Galleries Rival Any in Europe.

VALUE IS INCALCULABLE

Latest Painters of World Represented by Masterpieces; Corot, Daubigny, Murillo, Van Dyke, and a Score of Others.

A rival of the most famous galleries of Europe is the loan exhibition which opens today in the art galleries of the Carnegie Institute. It is the finest exhibition of its kind ever held in America, with the exception of that at the Centennial exposition in 1878. Some of the rarest paintings in the country, masterpieces from the brushes of painters of different periods from the time of Rubens and Rembrandt, Murillo and the later Dutch, French and English schools, are represented.

The collective value of the exhibition of art is incomprehensible, while its commercial value, reckoned in dollars and cents, and indicated by the insurance of $2,000,000, is enormous. The most cherished paintings of some of the finest private collections of the country have been loaned to grace the walls of the Carnegie art galeries.

Some Famous Paintings.

"The Evening: Antique Dance," by Jean B. C. Corot, owned by the Jay Gould estate; the pastile "Les Moulin des Tubebelles," by Charles Francois Daubigny, loaned by W. L. Elkins of Philadelphia; "The Water-wheel," by M. Hobbema, and the "Portrait of the Princess Helena Leonora de Sievere," by Van Dyke, both loaned by the Art institute of Chicago, from the famous Demidoff collection; "The Abbe" and "The Madonna," by Van Dyke, and loaned by the A. M. Byers estate; the classic "Caracalla," Sir Alma Tadema, loaned by George Oliver; "The Burgomaster," by Franz Hals, owned by Charles M. Schwab; "The Assistant," by Rembrandt, also owned by Charles M. Schwab; and Rembrandt's portrait of his wife, "Saskia," loaned by A. M. Byers estate, and "Angels at the Tomb of Christ," by Edouard Manet, founder of the impressionist school, together with examples of the art of Sir Joshua Reynolds, Sir Thomas Gainsborough, Sir Thomas Lawrence, Jacob van Ruysdael, J. M. W. Turner, Sir David Wilkie, the members of the Barbizon school, and others of more recent years among some of the notable paintings in the collection.

Corot Well Represented.

Corot's great painting, "The Dance Angele," owned by the Gould estate, is without doubt the most interesting and distinctive work appearing in the exhibition this year. The exquisite beauty and poetic charm of graceful dancing upon the ground, while a luminous atmosphere pervades the whole composition, makes it a most striking painting.

There are no less than eight Corots in the exhibition, second in interest being "The Dance of the Nymphes," loaned by the A. M. Byers estate.

The Barbizon school, of which Corot was a foremost figure, is strong in its representation in the exhibition. Sharing in the poetic charm but with a quieter sentiment and feeling is "Le Moulin des Goebelles," by Daubigny, the property of W. L. Elkins of Philadelphia.

The placid stillness of the approaching twilight, the cattle lingering in the cooling stream, in whose depths are reflected the cottages upon its banks, the fine perspective and the restful peace of the painting make it the central one of a group of smaller works by the same artist, the painter of exquisite lanscapes.

Rousseau and Millett.

Other representatives of the Barbizon school are Rousseau, who is seen by his "River Seine," loaned by Miss Helen Gould, and the "Old Oak," loaned by E. Burgess Warren; Diaz, with his strong paintings of the forest of Fontainebleau; Dupre, with his marine scenes, and Jean Francois Millet, the painter of the humble life of the peasantry. Four paintings by Millet show his temperament and passionate devotion to the beauty in humble things. "Counting the Flock," in a tiny vestige of the sheep-fold, full of action; "Returning Home," is after the manner of the painting of "the Angelus," his most famous work, and "The Milk Carrier" is another phase of the life he loved to depict, while "The Country Lane" is a pastorale in line and color.

"The Accountant," by Rembrandt, is given a place of prominence in the east gallery. The richness of color and the strength and character of the figure are unrivaled. It was purchased a few months ago by Charles M. Schwab.

Many Priceless Gems of Art.

In the same gallery are the two paintings from the Demidoff collection, loaned by the Art Institute of Chicago. The portrait of the Princess Helena, by Van Dyke, and "The Water Wheel," by Hobbema, hang side by side. They are valued so highly as works of art that they were brought from Chicago, boxed and under lock and key, by the secretary of the institute, who carried them into the car with him, not trusting them to the express company. They are among the notable features of the exhibition.

A portrait of the "Iron Chancellor," Prince Bismarck, by Franz Lenbach, and owned by Charles M. Schwab, commands admiration. It is wondrously strong and vigorous in treatment, the rugged and sturdy character of Bismarck standing out in bold relief. Beside it hangs one of the few religious paintings in the collection, "The Triumph of Religion," a painting beautiful in color and composition, attributed to Murillo.

One of Tadema's Masterpieces.

Upon the same wall hangs a superb work of Sir Alma Tadema. It is his "Caracalla." Within the setting of a beautiful Roman palace walks the ruler of the Roman empire, his path strewn with rose leaves by the graceful dancing maidens, while others follow him through the columned halls. In delicacy and beauty of color and harmony of its architectural and classic background the painting is one of the finest by this artist. John W. Alexander is represented in the same gallery by a portrait of Andrew Carnegie, the founder of Carnegie institute.

Jules Breton, with his sturdy yet charming peasant folk, and Henry Le Rolle and Leon A. Lhermitte have interesting paintings. The sweetness and serenity of womanhood and the roguishness and wingsomeness of childhood are seen in the "Mother and Child," by George De Forest Brush, loaned by the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts. Dagnan-Bouveret's "Madonna With the Rose," with its tender, reverent spirit, and Toby Edward Rosenthal's "Forbidden Longings" also attracted attention.

Some Splendid Examples.

A splendid example of the work of Anton Mauve is "The Woodcutters," loaned by Joseph Jefferson, which hangs in a conspicuous place in the west gallery. James McNeill Whistler has two paintings in the west gallery. One is "The Falling Rocket," which was so severely criticized by Ruskin and was the cause of the famous lawsuit, one of the most unique ever tried in a court of justice.

"The Standard Bearer," by J. L. E. Meissonier and loaned by Henry W. Oliver, is a fine example of the work of this artist, who devoted himself to the perfection of the minutest detail and became famous as a genre painter.

Two of Henner's heads, several examples of Rosa Bonheur, though not of her best; Sir David Wilke's "The Escape of Mary, Queen of Scots, from Lochleven Castle;" Fortuny's "Courtyard, Alhambra," with its richness of coloring, Sir Francis Millais' portrait of "Little Mrs. Camp," a sweet, childish figure, together with some of the famous examples of the work of the portrait painters of the English schools of a century ago, and the landscapes of John Constable, some of those exhibited showing his best work, are among the paintings in the west gallery.

Gerome's Two Pictures.

Jean Leon Gerome is represented by two paintings, the well known "Police Verso," and the more striking "The Two Majesties," showing the king of beasts, solitary in the desert, watching the sinking sun.

"The Wreakers," by John M. W. Turner, whom Ruskin profoundly admired and criticized to his greater advancement, loaned by the A. M. Byers estate; "Le Pardon," by Charles Cottet, a conspicuous painting over the stairway and loaned by Henry Kirke Porter; several superb examples of horsemanship by Ad. Schreyer; three of George Innes' beautiful landscapes; "The Abbe," by Van Dyke; two of Zelm's gorgeous Venetian pageants and two landscapes by Henri Joseph Harpignies, are those notable paintings which hang in the central gallery and complete the magnificent collection of 325 paintings.

A press view of the loan exhibition was given last evening and the galleries were crowded by artists, newspaper representatives and their friends. This afternoon at the conclusion of the Founder's Day exercises the galleries will be opened to the public, remaining open until January 1, 1903.

BOY SANK EXHAUSTED WITH CORPSE IN ARMS.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—While Benjamin Seyler, aged 13, and Benjamin Gorsuch, 14, were gunning at Cove, Pa., the former's gun was accidentally discharged, blowing his head off. Gorsuch, thoroughly frightened, picked up the dead body of his little friend and tried to carry it home, but sank exhausted en route and was found later with the body in his arms.

SHIRAS-GRAHAM CONTEST CLOSE

It Estimated That Majority Either Way Will Not Exceed 200.

LUTZ AND WAGENER LOSE

Citizens Party Men Are Elected to the Legislature in the First District by the Small Majority of 145.

Both George Shiras III, the Citizens candidate, and W. H. Graham, the machine candidate, in the Twenty-ninth, or Allegheny congressional district, are claiming their election by a very narrow margin and it may require an official count and possibly a legal contest to decide the matter. At midnight Mr. Shiras stated that the returns received up to that hour showed that he had a majority of 664, with 10 districts to hear from. He said he was confident that the returns from the missing districts would hold his lead. Mr. Shiras claimed that complete returns from Allegheny city showed that he had won in the city by 1,103 votes.

At a late hour Mr. Graham refused to give out any figures regarding the vote in any particular district, but claimed that he had returns to show that he had been elected by 400 majority. He was asked how the vote stood in certain missing districts and declined to furnish this information. "I do not intend to give out any ammunition to the other side," he said. "The result will be known tomorrow and the other side will then be forced to admit my election."

Mr. Shiras stated last night that Gilchrist and Stewart, the Citizens candidates, had been won in the First legislative district beyond all doubt. "They will have several hundred majority," he said.

Lutz and Wagner, the machine candidates in the First district, were not very sanguine of success last night. Lutz was eager for information and called up several newspapers asking for final returns.

Gloom, deep and oppressive, pervaded Allegheny city hall, the ring headquarters, last night. The overwhelming victory of the Citizens ticket in Allegheny county seemed to stun the Northside ringsters. Recorder John R. Murphy and a few of the faithful ones sat silently about the hall. When asked as to what the situation looked like to him Recorder Murphy said: "I guess the entire Citizens ticket has won." Further than this Murphy would say nothing.

The Republicans claim and the Citizens agree that J. Carson Mercer has won the minority membership on the board of county commissioners. Dr. Evans, chairman of the Citizens committee, stated yesterday that Mercer had run ahead of his colleague, W. W. Murray.

COLLINS IS IN AGAIN.

Man Who Escaped from Central Station Jailed for Old Offense.

William Collins and Frank Henry were locked in the Central police station last night on charges of entering a building with intent to commit a felony on information made by Inspector Will before Police Magistrate B. McKenna on March 12 last. It is alleged they broke into John Kane's liquor store at No. 1615 Fifth avenue, and H. Obernauer & Co. at No. 1400 Fifth avenue, also the wagon shop of Philip Muellck in Forbes street. Collins was once arrested on a similar charge, but made his escape from Central police station.

The desk sergeant was showing some visitors about the place, and while explaining the locks of the cells opened Collins' cell door, but neglected to lock it. After the sergeant passed out of the department with the visitors Collins opened the door and made his escape. He was captured and served 15 months for it.

DOCTORS INDORSE SWAMP-ROOT

For Uric Acid, Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

East Atlanta, Ga., March 1st, 1901.

DR. KILMER & CO., Binghamton, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—While it has never been my habit or inclination to recommend remedies the ingredients of which are not all known to me, it seems as if I should make an exception in the case of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. My experience, so far as I have tested it in my practice, forces me to the conclusion that it is a remedy of the greatest value in all uric acid, kidney, liver, bladder and other inflammatory conditions of the genito-urinary tract. I now take pleasure in prescribing Swamp-Root in all such cases with a feeling of assurance that my patients will derive great benefit from its use. I shall continue to prescribe it in other cases in my practice with the expectation of the best results.

Very truly yours,

(A. J. Balle, M.D.) A. J. Balle M.D.

Gentlemen:—I have prescribed that wonderful remedy for kidney complaint, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, with most beneficial effect, and know of many cures by its use. These patients had kidney trouble, as diagnosed by other physicians, and treated without benefit. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root effected a cure. I am a liberal man and accept a specific wherever I find it, in an accepted school or out of it. For desperate cases of kidney complaint under treatment with unsatisfactory results I turn to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root with most flattering results. I shall continue to prescribe it, and from personal observation state that Swamp-Root has great curative properties. Truly yours,

(L. Barstow Irish, M. D.) L. Barstow Irish M.D.
276 9th St., Borough of Brooklyn, N. Y.
Sept. 24, 1901.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves who have kidney ailments, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

Sample Bottle of Swamp-Root Free By Mail.

EDITORIAL NOTE—If you have the slightest symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble, or if there is a trace of it in your family history, send at once to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., who will gladly send you by mail, immediately without cost to you, a sample bottle of Swamp-Root and a book telling all about Swamp-Root and containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. In writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say that you read this generous offer in the Pittsburgh "Daily Gazette."

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

President Roosevelt Talks to Masons on Wider Brotherhood of Man.

AN IDEAL REALIZED

Within the Fraternity Is Sort of Government Our Ancestors Hoped to Build—Anniversary of Washington's Initiation.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—President Roosevelt was the principal guest today at the sesqui-centennial anniversary celebration by the grand lodge of the Most Ancient and Honorable Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons of Pennsylvania, of George Washington's apprenticeship into the masonic fraternity. The president was also the orator.

The celebration was limited to one representative from each subordinate lodge in this state, together with the members of the grand lodge and its committees.

Grand Master Tennis delivered the address of welcome, Charles A. Gallagher, M. W. grand master of Massachusetts, responding. President Roosevelt was then introduced. He spoke as follows:

"No man can be insensible of the honor of addressing a body like this on an occasion like this. I should think that every man would be a better man for having been here.

Attraction in Masonry.

"One of the things attracted me so deeply to Masonry, that I hailed the chance of becoming a Mason, was that it really does live up to what we, as a government, are pledged to, of treating each man on his merits and as a man. When Brother George Washington went into a lodge of a fraternity he went into the one place in the United States where the idea of our government was realized as far as it is humanly possible for mankind to realize a lofty ideal. Each one of us naturally is interested especially in life as he sees it from his own standpoint. Each one of us that is worth his salt is trying to do his share in working out the problems that are before all of us now at the beginning of the 20th century. And no does any man in public life, whatever his position be, if he is interested at heart, he has the desire to do some kind of substantial service for his country. He must realize that the indispensable pre-requisite of success under our institutions is gentleness in the spirit of brotherhood. Masonry should make, and must make, each man who conscientiously and understandingly takes up his obligations, the best type of American citizenship, because Masonry teaches him his obligations to his fellows in a practical fashion.

The Lesson of Brotherhood.

"It is a good thing to read the Declaration of Independence every Fourth of July; it is a good thing to talk of what Washington and his fellows did for us, but what counts most is how we live up to the lessons that we read or that we speak of. The lesson of brotherhood, first and foremost, is to learn, that lesson with a full heart, on the one hand, and without a weak head, on the other. The lesson of brotherhood—that is the lesson that has got to be taught and got to be learned and applied to men as a people, if we are to solve the great industrial and social problems of today.

"If we could get wage workers and employers in any given occupation or in any given district to act in a fair spirit toward each other the result, I guarantee what will happen. Is not that true? Do you not think so? (Cries of Yes, Yes.) Exactly. And I will guarantee it. If that thing could happen we would come always into the ledge, each respecting his brother and each wanting to do what was good for his brother; each recognizing that in our government every of us has to be his brother's keeper. Masonry not only bids us and teaches us in this direction, but makes us ashamed to overlook that stumble and fall, and for the wives and little ones of those who are beaten down in the harsh battle of life. Many things it teaches us to make us feel that there are not any obstacles; it does not teach us to make believe that life can somehow be made soft and easy for everyone; it cannot be. For many of us life is going to be very hard. For each one of us who does anything it is going to have hard stretches in it; otherwise men would not do anything. If a man does not meet with difficulties; if he does not put himself in a way where he has to overcome them, he would not do anything that is worthy of being done.

Helps Man Help Himself.

"Masonry teaches and fosters more in the man the qualities of self-respect and self-help; the qualities that make a man stand by himself, and yet it must forestall self-respect, who appreciates as it should be appreciated, the beautiful and solemn ritual; it must foster in him a genuine feeling for the rights of others and of the feelings of others. Masons help one another in a way that is free from that curse of self-condemnation. Help given in a spirit of arrogance does not benefit any one. Help must be given rationally, with a feeling of cordial good will.

"Now, in our life of today, in our great complex industrial centers, what do we need most? We need most each to understand the other's viewpoint; to understand that the other man is at bottom like himself. Each of us should understand that and try to approach the subject at issue or any problem that arises, with a firm determination not to be weak or foolish. That is helpful to your neighbor.

"It is not possible to present the idea that I would like to bring out—to have all the best of all classes represented in Masonry in every district, but it is possible for each of us to go out into the world trying to apply in his dealings with his fellows the lessons of Masonry as they are taught in the lodge and as they are applied to the brotherhood. And so we can practically learn from Washington how to deal with the problems of today.

Greater Than the Greatest.

"It was not Washington's genius alone that made him a great man of all time. Your worshipful grand master, here today spoke of the great colossal world figures of Alexander, of the career of Hannibal, the mightiest warrior of the ages; of Caesar and of Napoleon, each of whom combined in a wonderful degree the capacities of emperor, ruler and law giver. Great men, but twice fortunate the nations that number none of them among its men. Great men who loom ever larger through the ages, but well it is for us that we see their figures through the mists across the seas. Great men, but a greater far was Washington, a greater far was that man who should have been a Mason—Abraham Lincoln. Great men, but less great than our heroes, because our heroes really did have in them the power of their fellow men to themselves; to prefer the state to their ambition, to their own fancies or real well being, because our heroes were heroes for us primarily and not for themselves.

"We are not here to have a chance, any of us, to do any work that remotely approaches the work done by them. But each of us has his work, and accordingly as the aggregate all of us do or not do our several tasks in the spirit in which Washington and Lincoln did theirs, will we be judged. Accordingly as this is done or not done will this nation, developed or fall in the century which has opened before us.

Two Lives Compared.

"Washington and Lincoln—Washington, who, when he came into a lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, came there on an exact equality with any humble farmer or mechanic, or any one else who is in that lodge; Washington, the Virginia country gentleman, the gentleman farmer, a man brought up for work. Of course, no man can be a good citizen or do good for our government if he has not been brought up for work, but he was brought up to work under comparatively easier and softer conditions than the majority of his fellows. Washington on one side and Lincoln on the other. Lincoln, the uncouth farmer's boy, who read first by the grinding toil and poverty of a small cabin on the frontier. The man who worked with his hands; the man who never knew what it was to walk in the soft places of the earth, and who made his way up until in our Pantheon his figure stands beside the dead hero of Mount Vernon.

"Washington and Lincoln; we look at them in this country alike. We are incapable of baseness—that is, if we are good citizens—incapable of looking down on Abraham Lincoln because of his birth and bringing up. We are incapable, if we are good citizens, of almost greater baseness of affecting to look down upon Washington because he was well brought up. There are two things to be remembered. There is just that much of a temptation before our people, a temptation that is just as important to be overcome and thrust to one side, the temptation to defy improperly the lack of material being, the lack of success.

The Simple Life.

"As there is temptation to bow down overmuch to succeed, there is also a lack of appreciation. There is a little book that has been recently printed translated from the French, written by an Alsatian, Frank Wagner, who, if he is not a Mason, ought to be. It is called 'The Simple Life,' and I wish it could be circulated as a tract in numerous quarters of our country. The writer dwells especially upon two sides—to the weakness of paying overmuch heed to material considerations, showing what we all of us recognize in theory or practice, that it is just exactly as bad to adopt an attitude of hatred of those who have succeeded as it is to adopt an attitude of arrogance towards those who have failed. And the fault is the same in each case, the inability to put one's self in one's brother's place, and the inability to rise superior to the non-essential of a man's career. To flatter or to cringe to the powerful are not vices in contradiction to one another; they are the same kind of vice in different manifestations; the demagogue and the courtier. The demagogue, who will for his own selfish purposes flatter one set of people, and the courtier will for his own selfish purpose flatter a single individual, are, after all, two people who stand on the same level of baseness, each according to his lights, striving to flatter power as he fancies he sees it without regard to whether he is doing good even to those he flatters.

Man Must Be Elevated.

"To flatter a mob, or to fail to realize that each man with whom we must deal, a man with something in common with ourselves, cannot ever be made a good citizen by being nursed, but can by being trusted and elevated. These are lessons to learn from Washington's own career—Washington who fought to make a state out of hunters and choppers and plowmen; Washington, who fought for independence and put down disorders, also who realized that it could only be prevented from recurring by righting any wrongs that had caused it. Washington did his work, not only because it was given him, but because he possessed to a marked degree the qualities that every one of us has in him if he chooses to develop them, because his name was a synonym for honesty, courage, common sense—the three qualities for the lack of which no brilliancy, no genius can atone, whether in a man or in a nation.

Stewart L. Woodford, former minister to Spain, delivered the concluding address.

The president was escorted to the railroad station and he left for Washington at 5:40 p. m.

At the banquet which followed the formal exercises after President Roosevelt had left for Washington toasts were responded to as follows: "In Memory of Our Deceased," George W. Guthrie, Pittsburgh; "The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania," Gov. William A. Stone; "The Day We Celebrate," Governor-elect Samuel W. Pennypacker.

NEW OFFICERS AND MANAGERS ELECTED

United Presbyterian Women's Association Held Twenty-Fourth Annual Meeting.

The United Presbyterian Women's association yesterday held its twenty-fourth annual meeting in the Fourth United Presbyterian church, Allegheny. Mrs. H. C. Campbell, the president, presided and made her annual address. At the morning session the report of the treasurer, Mrs. M. J. Steele, was made and shows that for the year the receipts were $8,250.97 and the disbursements $8,198.32. The receipts of the Memorial hospital were $3,486.16 and the disbursements $3,244.11. The Orphan's home receipts were $6,967.76 and the disbursements $6,079.60. The Home for the Aged receipts amounted to $12,573.83 and the outlay was $9,696.65.

At the afternoon session, outside of the election of officers and a board of managers for the various homes and institutions of the associations, the principal topic of interest discussed was the site for and building of the Memorial hospital.

The general sentiment was that the grounds in Sandusky street, near Erie street, donated for the purpose by the late Dr. James Herron, were not suitable. It was deemed advisable to sell the property donated and locate the hospital in the East End, Pittsburgh. The matter, after considerable discussion, was referred to the advisory committee, with power to act. The board will meet next week to consider the matter.

The Fourth United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, was selected for the next meeting, which will take place the last Friday of this month. Officers and managers were elected as follows:

President, Mrs. H. C. Campbell; vice presidents, Mrs. L. B. Duff, Mrs. N. W. Stevenson; recording secretary, Miss Etta Clark; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John McElwain; treasurer, Mrs. M. J. Steele; honorary vice presidents, Mrs. D. Craig, Mrs. Jane S. Clifford, Mrs. Thomas M. Armstrong, Mrs. Catharine Whitesell, Mrs. Thomas McCance, Mrs. Ellen Black, Mrs. Mary Munroe, Mrs. W. J. Reed, Mrs. W. W. Grier, Miss M. A. Pressly, Mrs. W. J. Robinson, Mrs. Thomas Jamison, Mrs. Joseph McNaugher; advisory board, the Rev. Dr. Samuel Collins, Mr. H. C. Blair, Mr. Thomas M. Armstrong, Mr. D. Reid Blair, Mr. Joseph McClelland, Mr. Peter Lyle, Mr. P. Burchfield, Mr. James E. McKinney; board of directors, Mrs. S. B. Donaldson, Mrs. Jean S. Sands, Mrs. J. W. Scott, Mrs. J. FALLS PROVED FATAL IN CASES OF TWO MEN

Braddock Mill Worker Rolled Off Church Wall and Foreman Tumbled Over Cliff.

Daniel Sadler, 45 years old, employed at the Edgar Thomson steel works, was found dead yesterday morning at Tenth street and Braddock avenue by Police Lieutenant Howard. It is thought by the dead man's friends that he met with foul play. The police are of the opinion that he fell off a high wall of a new church, where he had been sleeping, and was instantly killed.

At the post-mortem examination held yesterday by Dr. G. H. McGeary and Dr. A. W. Schooley, it was found that he had five broken ribs, several fractures of the skull, and was horribly crushed. Sadler was last seen about 10:30 o'clock on Tuesday night. He was intoxicated and was walking toward the place where he met his death.

John Birmingham of Swamanca, N. Y., who fell off a cliff on Second avenue on Tuesday night and broke his neck, died at the Mercy hospital yesterday morning. Birmingham was a foreman for a Cleveland contracting company and had been drinking heavily on Tuesday. He was 30 years old and was identified by his brother Edward.

MINNESOTA'S NEW RECORD.

Gov. Van Sant Is Re-elected by Nearly 75,000 Majority.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 5.—With the receipt of more complete returns, the majority of Gov. Van Sant assumes large proportions. It is at least 50,000, and may go as high as 75,000—a record-breaking majority in Minnesota. The governor apparently has run considerably ahead of the rest of the state ticket, although the entire ticket is elected by about the normal majority.

Eight of the nine congressmen are Republicans, the lone Democrat being ex-Gov. John Lind, who defeated Loren Fletcher in the Fifth district.

SPECIAL FISCHER PIANOS FOR CHRISTMAS GIFT GIVING

It is a positive treat to see the magnificent J. & C. Fischer pianos on view at Hamilton's. The stock of these instruments just now shown at this old Penn avenue house is the most noteworthy ever assembled. It comprises many exquisite pianos in white mahogany, satinwood and other fine woods. Some of them are beautifully carved, others are of plainer design. The instruments for gift purposes. Those who have had the good fortune to see these pianos have been so favorably impressed by them that various customers have requested that their orders for accepted now and the instruments which they selected be delivered at Christmas. Other persons who have gifts to bestow will do well to follow this example and make their selections as soon as convenient. For it is rare, indeed, to have the opportunity to select from such beautiful pianos as these.

The J. & C. Fischer pianos need no introduction to the people here or elsewhere. They are very popular, and justly so. In Pittsburgh alone there are over 18,000 of them in use, the merits of these charming instruments need not be dwelt upon at length.

Every piano of repute has some distinguishing quality which gives it individuality. It is the fine, brilliant, vibrant quality of the Fischer which distinguishes it from all other pianos, as in point of brilliancy it is superior to all other pianos of whatever name. Those who enjoy music that sparkles—music that is full of dash and color—find that the Fischer more completely realizes their musical ideal than any other piano on the market.

You are cordially invited to see this special collection of Fischer pianos at Hamilton's.

The stock here comprises instruments of other high-class makes, peculiarly appropriate as Christmas gifts. And among these the Schumann occupies a unique position. It has the distinction of being the best moderate-priced instrument procurable, and is really more meritorious than various pianos costing from $100 to $200 more. The Hamilton and the Smith & Nixon pianos are also found here. And being here upon many rent basis they are worthy of the reputation of this store and worthy of customers.

Whether you wish to secure a piano for gift purposes or for your own home, you will certainly be interested in examining some of these unintrusive. You need have no hesitation about coming in. For in every case terms are made to suit the purchaser. And should you have an old instrument which you wish to exchange in part payment for a new one, it will be accepted at its full value.

Perhaps you would like a catalogue? If so, send for it at once. It will be mailed to you free.

S. HAMILTON.
Hamilton Building.
335 and 337 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh.

Sole depot for A. B. Chase, Fischer, Schumann, Hamilton, and other fine pianos, and the "Angelus," the only real piano player.

THE CHILDREN ENJOY

Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well-informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by fathers and mothers.

Syrup of Figs is the only remedy which acts gently, pleasantly and naturally without griping, irritating, or nauseating and which cleanses the system effectually, without producing that constipated habit which results from the use of the old-time cathartics and modern imitations, and against which the children should be so carefully guarded. If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines, when medicines are not needed, and when nature needs assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs.

Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic syrups and juices, but also to our original method of manufacture and as you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. The genuine article may be bought anywhere of all reliable druggists at fifty cents per bottle. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.—is printed on the front of every package. In order to get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine only.

WHITE HOUSE ANNEX

For the First Time President Roosevelt Today Will Use the New Executive Office Building.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—President Roosevelt tomorrow will for the first time transact business in the new executive office building just west of the White House and opposite the navy department. The first cabinet meeting held since July will be held there on Friday.

The building is designed as a temporary structure, but probably will house the labors of the president for a half decade at least. It was planned when President Roosevelt found both his family and his office force cramped in the White House. It was decided that the executive force should be removed from the White House and that the historic building should be a dwelling place only.

The cost of the office building, which in architectural design harmonizes with the white house, is a little more than $50,000. It is one story in height. On the first floor the most prominent apartments are the office of the president and the cabinet room which open into each other. They are large, well lighted and airy. The walls are covered with olive-colored tapestry, and curtains of the same tone drape the windows. The furniture is of mahogany and the cabinet table a massive affair. Around it were today placed ten chairs, one for the president, one for each of the eight members of the cabinet, and a ninth, which it is expected will become the position of the secretary of the department of commerce, which it is the desire of the president that congress shall create. Secretary Cortelyou's office adjoins that of the president.

Three Barns Burned.

CANONSBURG, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Farmers in this section are greatly excited over the burning of several barns within a week. The structures belonged to the Van Emans estate, Robert B. Bell and the Russell estate. The barns were filled with crops and none of them was insured. The fire which destroyed the last barn also consumed a threshing machine and a valuable horse.

GRAND JURY FAILED TO INDICT MISS BANE

Woman Charged With Murdering Her Rival Released at Wheeling.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WHEELING, W. VA., Nov. 5.—Miss Rodella Bane, charged with the murder of Miss Gay Smith, who was her rival in the affections of Henry Nolan, is a free woman. The grand jury today refused to indict her, after hearing the statement of Chief of Police Ritz, to whom Miss Bane, it was alleged, confessed, after her unsuccessful attempt at suicide, that she pushed Gay Smith off the ferry boat into the Ohio river. This was the only testimony against her.

The failure to indict was a surprise and is thought to have been the result of sentimental considerations, coupled with the fact that the state has virtually acknowledged its inability to convict Miss Bane.

Counsel for Miss Bane declare that they would have established an alibi for her. They claim that her so-called confession was made while she was under the influence of chloroform and after being hounded by the police until she was willing to say anything to get rid of them.

Miss Bane will return to her home at Short Creek, where she taught a Sunday school class.

POLITICS CAUSED FIGHT.

Youngstown Man Is Arrested for Attacking Party Opponent.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—As a result of the election, there was an interesting incident on the street this afternoon. "Billy" Radcliffe, an intimate friend of Tom L. Johnson and late candidate for sheriff on the Democratic ticket, was met on the street by "Patsy" Kane, a prominent Republican politician.

Kane handed him a circular in which Radcliffe had said that he had been nominated by Kane in convention so that he might be slaughtered. He characterized Kane as a gambler and a saloon keeper, and appealed to all good citizens to vote for him, thus downing the "rotten element in the Democratic party. When Kane asked him if he wrote the letter, Radcliffe said that he did. Kane landed on Radcliffe's nose and Radcliffe went out into the center of the street. Kane was afterward arrested and released on a deposit.

CHARGED WITH BIGAMY.

Sharon Man and Woman Are Taken Into Custody.

SHARON, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. Ella Street was arrested here last night on a charge of bigamy preferred by Anthony Pelly, who claims to be her legal husband. Pelly says that a short time ago he and his wife separated, but were not divorced. She was employed as housekeeper for George Steel.

Pelly went to Warren, O., where he learned that the couple had been married October 4 by Justice E. O. Dilley. With the duplicate of the marriage license, Pelly returned here and caused the couple's arrest. Steel and the woman were taken to jail at Mercer today for trial. They were unable to secure bail.

WRECK VICTIMS DEAD.

Two Fatalities Result from Train Collision in Ohio.

COSHOCTON, O., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Two men are dead and two others fatally injured as the result of the Wheeling & Lake Erie wreck at Pleasant Valley yesterday. The dead are Chris Reinbold, engineer, of Canton, and Thomas Maston, section hand, of Coshocton. The fatally injured are Charles Anthony, fireman, of Canton, and John Fowelson, section hand, of Coshocton.

Bert Evans, the section hand who neglected to lock the switch and thus caused the wreck, is crazed by grief at his home here. He admits that he opened the switch to admit a hand-car and forgot to lock it.

Pittsburgh Man Injured.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Archibald Ferguson of Morningside avenue, Pittsburgh, is lying seriously injured at the Shenango Valley hospital here, as a result of walking off a Pittsburgh & Western railroad bridge near West Pittsburgh last night. This morning he was discovered by railroad men. Ferguson had been working on the railroad.

Canonsburg Pastor Called.

CANONSBURG, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The Rev. James M. Cork, for six years pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, has received a call from the First Presbyterian congregation of Mauch Chunk, Pa. It is understood that the call will be accepted.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

ASHTABULA, O.—Frank Miller, aged 24, a brakeman, whose home was at Swanville, Pa., was killed by the cars while switching in the yards at Osgood.

CUMBERLAND, MD.—Rudolph Baxter, a young lumberman, was killed at Walkman, on the West Virginia Central Railroad, by a log rolling upon him.

LISBON, O.—Forty children were excluded from the public schools of this county on account of small pox. Of the four cases developed one of the victims, Mrs. Mary E. Burnip, is dead. Part of the city has been quarantined.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Samuel Phillips, who was arrested here charged with many robberies, is accused by William Hess of stealing a large quantity of silverware from the Hess restaurant. Hess has identified many articles found in Phillips' trunk.

GREENSBURG, PA.—Burglars made three visits in South Greensburg and secured plunder amounting to $500. At the road house of C. P. Steiner they looted the barroom, securing $100. At the homes of William Donaldson and Thomas Corliss jewelry and wearing apparel were secured. Timothy Welsh of Greensburg has been arrested.

DR. J. M. EVANS SUES OFFICERS FOR $50,000

Claims That He Has Been Damaged by False Imprisonment.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 5.—As the outcome of the arrest of Dr. John M. Evans of Phoenix, Ariz., on complaint of the directors of the Keystone Gold and Copper Mining Company, charging misappropriation and larceny of some $45,000 of the funds of the company, Evans has brought suit against Chief of Police McDowell of Youngstown; Charles B. McLean, W. S. Huselton, S. Strasberger and W. J. Strasberger for $50,000 damages for false imprisonment. The suit was filed this morning by Jones & Anderson.

The petition alleges that Evans was falsely and maliciously arrested on October 7, 1902, and has been illegally held ever since. It is claimed in the petition that Dr. Evans before the arrest had always borne a good name and that as a result of the conspiracy against him he will be followed by the odium of arrest.

The hearing was started this morning. Dr. Evans was placed on the witness stand and told his side of the controversy regarding the sale of the different mines of the Keystone Copper and Gold Mining Company to that company. He said that he had invested his money in them and then had sold them out to the company. Charles B. McLean, W. S. Huselton and W. J. Strasberger were placed on the stand for the prosecution. The hearing will continue tomorrow. The ground on which the requisition papers are being fought is that they are not sufficient to take Evans into Pennsylvania and that he is not a fugitive from justice.

HOY'S MAJORITY INCREASED.

Clarion County Returns Show a Victory for Democrats.

CLARION, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Complete returns from this county give Pattison 1,117 majority. J. K. P. Hall, Dem., was elected to the state senate without opposition; W. O. Smith, Rep., to congress; L. P. Arner, Dem., to the state legislature by 845 majority.

J. A. F. Hoy, Dem., was re-elected to state legislature by 508 majority. This is about 200 more of a majority than Mr. Hoy had in 1900. Mr. Hoy has been the recipient of a number of congratulating telegrams from his numerous friends throughout the state and he feels highly pleased at the result, coming especially at this time.

Want Suburban Trains.

IRWIN, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Towns along the line of the Pennsylvania railroad between Pitcairn and Greensburg are making a move toward getting a suburban service from Pittsburgh. An Irwin committee waited on Superintendent O'Donnell and made a request for additional trains in and out and two more trains to the city on Sunday. Superintendent O'Donnell stated that the matter would be brought up at the next meeting on schedules.

PRISONERS ESCAPED THROUGH JAIL ROOF

Three Men Gain Their Liberty at Night in Summit County, O.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

AKRON, O., Nov. 5.—The second jail delivery here within six weeks took place last night, when three prisoners escaped from the Summit county jail by cutting their way through the roof.

Those who escaped were Joseph Coy, sentenced to 11 years for assault upon his mother; William Block, charged with grand larceny, and Walter Wolf, who pleaded guilty last week to larceny and was sentenced to pay a fine of $2 and costs.

Wolf was one of the seven prisoners who escaped September 27 and was captured at Wheeling.

Joliet, Ill.
MEDERINE REMEDY CO., Duluth, Minn.
Gentlemen:—I had been afflicted with Rheumatism in the bones of the legs for many months, and although I tried doctors and advertised remedies, I got so little relief that I was in despair, when a friend advised me to try MEDERINE. I bought the treatment, and before it was gone my rheumatism had left my legs, and believe me I was a new man. MEDERINE is certainly rightly named a Guarantee Blood Cure. For the benefit of those suffering from Rheumatism, refer them to me, and I will cheerfully tell them all about MEDERINE, and what it has done for many other iron workers in the Illinois Steel Company's mills in Joliet.

Ideal of Music Lovers
The Steinway and the Pianola.
There are two names which music loving people frequently find linked together in their minds. The association of these two names is unconscious, perhaps, but upon examination it will almost invariably be found to exist. Those two names are the Steinway Piano and the Pianola, the only perfect Piano Player. The connection between the two is not strange, when it is remembered that they have a common ideal. And that ideal is "PERFECTION." The makers of the Steinway could not be satisfied with the knowledge that their piano was merely as good as any other. Nor would they be satisfied to know that it was better than any other. The fact is, they do not consider the relative merits of other pianos. The Steinway cannot be compared with other pianos, because it is so far in advance of all other pianos that comparison is out of the question. The Steinway stands alone. The great stimulus that keeps the manufacturers of the Steinway keyed up to the highest pitch of effort is a steadfast devotion to the ideal of perfection. And it is a well-known fact that all of the world's great masterpieces, whether of music, of art, or of literature, of architecture or what not, were the result of great ideals. The manufacturer who sets out merely to produce a marketable instrument is incapable of producing a great piano. In the case of the Steinway the commercial idea has been subordinated to the artistic ideal, with the result that it stands today the peerless piano of the world.
The same high spirit has made the Pianola the only perfect piano player. There are numerous devices for playing the piano. But there is only one piano player. That is, there is only one piano player by means of which any person can reproduce with faithful precision and perfect expression any piece of music that has ever been written. In the Pianola science has conferred one of the greatest blessings on mankind. Formerly but few people had the opportunity to enjoy good music. The Pianola has made it possible for everybody. Anybody can operate the Pianola and it plays any make of piano. It is not fastened to the piano, but is simply placed in front of it. Even the world's greatest musicians are glad to avail themselves of this wonderful device. They declare it stimulates their appreciation of music. It will do as much for you and will immediately put you in command of the world's best music, enabling you to produce it at your will.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1902.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

The success of the county ticket of the Citizens is no longer disputed and the only open on is the size of the majority. The ring has cleaned out of the court house, and there's nd of that. The City hall has yet to be simiy cleaned out, but that will be attended to next ruary.

The defeat of the Republican county ticket ght not to have been necessary, and it would ot have taken place had it really been a party icket. Had the primaries been postponed until after the state convention, and the party reorganized so as to make the control fairly representative of party interests, the result would have been otherwise. The wisdom of such a course was made so manifest by the result of the election last February that it might seem that sheer arrogance and folly dictated the course actually pursued. The probability is that the local leaders of the old organization were entangled in obligations inspired by the Stone-Flinn recordership deal. And now the question comes up, does that deal still bind the old organization, and will it require a ring ticket to be put up for the next city election?

The fuller become the election returns the more satisfactory becomes the general result for the Republican party. Although the congressional majority is not large it is decisive, and so far as the effect upon party conduct is concerned a moderate majority is better than a big majority. Big majorities encourage party presumption, while moderate majorities confer opportunity with full understanding that its party value depends upon the use made of it.

While the exact size of the majority in congress has not been determined the indications are that it will be large for an off year election. In 1886 the Democrats carried the house by a plurality of 19; in 1890, the Democratic plurality was 156; in 1894, during Cleveland's term when the Republican party was in opposition, the Republican majority was 135. In 1898, the mid-year of McKinley's first term the Republican majority was just 13. In our political history a landslide in the off year indicates that the party whom it favors will carry the ensuing election; a mere decline of party strength or even a reversal of party control by a narrow majority, indicates nothing more than unsettled conditions, while for the party in power to retain control of the house is a decided vote of public confidence, indicating that if the trust reposed is justified by results, the ensuing presidential election will take the same course. Regarded from this point of view the result of the congressional election is a genuine Republican party triumph.

There can be no doubt as to what influence the general success of the Republican party is due. Every shrewd observer has noted that a marked change in the situation, with great improvement of Republican prospects, followed the campaign tour of President Roosevelt and the success of his interference in the coal strike. He has inspired the people with confidence in his force and sincerity of purpose. They see that he shows no inclination to evade responsibilities, but meets them frankly and courageously, and they give him their support. They want leadership and he gives it to them. The doubtful point remains whether he can make good his leadership in dealing with congress, especially with the senatorial oligarchy. The settlement of that point probably involves the issues of the next presidential election and will decisively affect the course of our constitutional development.

A significant feature of the general election returns is the way in which the western states lost to the Republican party on the silver issue are all coming back. The Dakotas, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Utah, Washington, Nebraska, and even Colorado are all back in the Republican column again. Fear of losing the electoral votes of these states caused the Republican party to go to extreme lengths in silver legislation, but when it faced the issue and came out uncompromisingly for the gold standard it gained much more than it lost, and now it has gotten back in addition what it lost then. This teaches a lesson that ought to encourage party leaders to be honest and sincere in dealing with political issues. Shuffling and evasion practiced to avoid offending this and that interest preserves party harmony at the expense of party strength. A good many party managers thought that President Roosevelt was too rash in giving offense to Wall street interests by agitating the trust question, but had he not done so, where would the Republican party be now?

The result in New York discredits ex-Senator Bill's leadership in a way that will be exceedingly damaging to his political prospects. He has lost all the prestige he gained by his fight against free silver and Bryanism by his complete abandonment of Democratic principle in framing the platform of the state campaign. His motive in demanding that the national government should go into the business of mining anthracite coal was to take a demagogic advantage of popular excitement over the coal strike, but before the campaign got far along the coal strike was settled and the government ownership plank became such a drag upon the ticket that Coler, the party candidate for governor, repudiated it on the stump. Coler made a splendid run in New York city, but his gains were offset by the Democratic losses in the rural counties and in Hill's own home county. The returns show that Coler's friends have grounds for holding that Hill's blunders defeated Coler. The result leaves Hill in a bad hole, which probably will not worry Senator Gorman, who has regained his seat in the senate and is making no mistakes in carrying out his plans for gaining the leadership of his party.

MORAL INFLUENCES IN POLITICS.

Judge Pennypacker's election by so large a plurality may be accepted, in part at least, as a tribute to the high character and eminent qualifications of the man himself. Party influence and the strength of party ties contributed, of course, a large share of the result, but we are sure that the Republican candidate by the integrity and soundness of his life and the uprightness of his public and private record attracted to his support a very large element among the more thoughtful voters of all political faiths in the state. The most bitter opponent of the ticket dared not assail the character or question the fitness of the man who stood at its head. Indirectly, however, there were malicious efforts to fasten upon the candidate for governor a certain odium because of personal and political relations which antedated his nomination for governor. That they were ineffectual bears indisputable testimony to the soundness of the average voter's judgment and his sincere respect for high character and honest simplicity of life both in public and in private.

The selection of a man like Judge Pennypacker to be governor of the state of Pennsylvania is a distinct and gratifying triumph of the best moral influences in the political life of America. All the merely partisan and prejudiced testimony that can be adduced will not destroy the luminous fact that a party which can command the public services of men like Theodore Roosevelt and Samuel W. Pennypacker is not without a large and saving measure of healthful moral influence.

A UNIVERSAL POSTAGE STAMP.

Adoption of the recommendation made by Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger for a universal postage stamp would provide a great convenience for the business world. It is an up-to-date idea that sooner or later will be accepted by the progressive nations of the world. Mr. Shallenberger's plan "requires that every letter shall have upon it the stamp of the country to which it is mailed, and yet a stamp that may be conveniently paid for in the country which has invited the reply." Mr. Shallenberger is a neighbor to Pittsburgh, being a resident of Beaver county, and thereby virtually a Pittsburgher. His idea is so good as to compel indorsement, no matter from what source, but coming from him local pride adds to the local interest in it. Mr. Shallenberger has been fruitful of practical suggestions for the betterment of the postal service, and many of them have been adopted with profit. We hope that the universal postage stamp he suggests may be quickly adopted. It is one of those seemingly small things that will be promotive of much good. Perhaps Mr. Shallenberger also intends that the universal stamp may be purchaseable by a correspondent in any country adopting it, for inclosure to his foreign correspondent for return letter. We think he probably does. It is at least a natural development of his idea as interpreted to the public in the press dispatches, and if not contemplated by him he will probably see the force of the suggestion and incorporate it with his further recommendations.

A QUICK TRIP TO NEW YORK.

What is meant by the promise President Cassatt is said to have made to convey passengers in 90 minutes from the new Pennsylvania railway station in New York to the Broad street station in Philadelphia appears when the present time schedule of trains running between the two cities is consulted. Ninety minutes is only one hour and a half. The limited's time from Philadelphia to the Twenty-third street ferry in New York city is now two hours and twenty-four minutes, or, to put it another way, 144 minutes. To make the distance from station to station in 90 minutes will necessitate clipping 54 minutes, or nearly an hour, from the running time of ferry and railroad train. Other trains do not now make such fast time as the limited, and it is not to be assumed that all will be scheduled to cover the distance in an hour and a half. But the running time of all will be proportionately reduced. The distance between Broad street, Philadelphia, and Twenty-third street, New York, is covered by some of the so-called fast trains, with the help of the ferryboat from Jersey City, in a little less than three hours, and by others in a little more than three hours, and after this there is the journey by street car or other conveyance to be considered, adding something to make the actual time schedule longer.

This promised reduction in the time of the journey between Philadelphia and New York is important to Pittsburgh people, whose journeyings to New York are frequent, and many of them may be incredulous as to the possibility of accomplishing it. Incredulity would be justified were the saving of time to be accomplished by the fast running of trains alone. But the greater saving will be in the avoidance of the delay at and on the ferry. En route to New York, much valuable time is now lost in disembarkation from the train and transfer to the ferryboat at Jersey City and in the trip by boat to the New York station. There will be none of this when the trains run directly into New York through the tunnels, and there will be the further saving of time for passengers in the cutting out of the crosstown trip now necessary. When all this is taken account of incredulity vanishes and the task appears a comparatively easy one. It will cost the Pennsylvania railroad many millions of dollars to accomplish this reduction of time in its passenger service, but it will be a good investment for it and a good thing for the traveling public.

THE PRINCE IN THE FOG.

It is really too bad that the clerk of the weather did not pull out another stop or touch a different button, so that the fog might have rolled away and permitted the sunlight to illuminate Pittsburgh for the visit of the crown prince of Siam. The visitor from the land of the white elephant saw one beautiful city under unfavorable conditions, but as it is our industrial life he came to view perhaps it doesn't make much difference after all. He may see the beauties of nature and handsome and stately residences almost anywhere, but manufactories such as Pittsburgh has are not discoverable in many localities. The young man saw these, and while his visit to them was short they doubtless made a lasting impression. Pittsburgh, however, has beauties of nature and architecture and artistic landscapes of which its people are won't to boast, and while they feel pride in their great mills and workshops, it is gratifying when they are able to surprise visitors with pleasing prospects that are all the more pleasing because of their unexpectedness. It is not always our useful and undisputable attainments and our solid achievements that we desire to impress strangers with. These are but common things. The kitchen and the laundry and the coal shed and the other things are well enough in their way, and we couldn't get along without them, but it is into our parlor we prefer to usher the guests, and we would rather have them view our flower beds and our foliage plants than our kitchen garden. But it is the things we live on and that sustain us that the visitor comes to learn about, and having seen them his mission is fulfilled. When the sun shines we may beguile him into viewing our adornments, but when fog hides everything as it did yesterday adornments and utilities are made of one piece by the prevailing gloom. However, if the prince did not see all we would have had him see we still rejoice in possession.

Col. Guffey is to be congratulated upon the attacks the Philadelphia North American is making upon him. Apart from the personal compliment involved by the demonstration it affords of his ability to think and act for himself, it is a political advantage to be decorated by its censure. The success of those whom it opposes is really remarkable.

The Philadelphia North American may not accept the honor, but the large majority for Pennypacker was in some measure due to the fact that that journal was against him.

The Republican party won out on Tuesday because it had both a leader and a record, with especial emphasis on the leader phase of the situation.

That little fable about the pitcher going to the fountain once too often seems to have had the conventional ending again.

That gentleman who was nominated to succeed the Hon. D. B. Henderson in congress now has the laugh on the other fellows.

It seems to be definitely settled that the Hon. William Allen Hearst will break into the Congressional Record this winter.

We can all settle down now and discuss the various ways of preparing Thanksgiving dinners, and like exciting subjects.

Returns from the south indicate that the "Lily White" party has occasion to be very blue over the results.

Yesterday's fog must have reminded the prince of Siam of his brief stay in "dear old Lunnon."

The Muddy Water party will now have an opportunity to take a salt water trip.

New York has again demonstrated that she knows how to pull off a Garrison finish.

Delaware, it would seem, has failed again in the attempt to do Addicksize itself.

Evidently the Oyster Bay people do not vote as they shake hands.

Judge Was Puzzled.

From the New York Times.

When Judge Warren Foster came back to the bench after his vacation he was not aware that Mr. Jerome had added to his staff a deputy assistant by the name of Nott. A case came up before the court in which Mr. Nott represented the district attorney's office. The assistant in the preceding case was Mr. Krotel. When the clerk of court called the title of the case Judge Foster asked:

"Is Mr. Krotel the assistant in this case?"

"I think Nott," replied the clerk.

"But don't you know whether it is Mr. Krotel or not?" asked the court.

"I said I thought Nott," answered the clerk.

"But are you not sure?"

"Yes, I am sure it is Nott."

The judge looked at the clerk in amazement.

"Then, if you are sure it is not—what are you talking about? I trust you are not trying to make sport of the court," and Judge Foster's gavel beat the bench nervously.

"I certainly was not, your honor. I thought it was Nott. Now I am sure it is Noti, for I have just looked at the papers."

What might have burst from the court then can only be conjectured, for at the explosive moment Mr. Nott came forward and explained the situation to the judge.

Australia's Misfortunes.

From the New York Mail and Express.

For a country only fairly launched under a new system of government, the Australian commonwealth is undergoing more than its anticipated share of misfortunes, discouragements and discomfitures. The reaction against federation is in full progress, and political discontent has reached the point where the premier has been mobbed in the street. The drought, one of the severest and most protracted of modern times, gives no signs of relaxing its grip.

It has destroyed sheep by the scores of millions and beggared small settlers. Its appalling scope and significance are seen in the statement just published that the commonwealth, almost entirely an agricultural country, must import $7,500,000 in foodstuffs during the ensuing year. Its exports will be reduced about 7 per cent below the dwindling figures of the preceding year. Meanwhile the credit of the country among its other partners in the British Empire has been diminished by the parsimony of its parliament in declining to vote the grant to the governor general sent from England, under the promise of which he had consented to remain in office.

The Changed Grizzly.

From Outing.

There are numerous reliable statements of grizzly bears having attacked men, but nowadays the grizzly does not seek out his human victims, as there are credible statements that his forefathers used to do. Neither does he lie in wait, and, pouncing upon a hunter, tear him into bloody shreds in delighted fiendishness, as the old-time stories used to tell.

The change in the grizzly's disposition is likened by veteran hunters to the change in the character of the white cousin of the grizzly, the polar bear of the Arctics. When the stations for the Hudson's Bay Company were established, the diaries of the men there often referred to the fright of attacks by polar bears. Many a navigator in the Arctic seas has been clawed and chewed to death by polar bears. But for nearly a century the polar bear has not been regarded as so very fierce, and nowadays it is looked upon as a cowardly beast. Association with armed men has modified the polar bear's disposition.

Getting an Education.

In this land of innovations the sight of a father and son earnestly seeking an education at the same institution of learning can hardly be regarded as unusual. The University of Pennsylvania has on its rolls two such students. Ernest Medoff, the father, is 45 years of age, and Joseph Medoff, the son, is 25. Both will be graduated in the same year. The father is taking a three-year course in architecture, and the son is taking the arts and sciences course.

Loans to Turkish Farmers.

Turkey possesses an extensive system of agricultural banks under government management, the purpose of which is to furnish small loans to farmers. The capital is provided by a light annual tax on agricultural property. Principal agencies have been established in 65 cities, capitals of provinces (vilayets) or counties (sanjaks), and there are 803 branches in less important places.

Tribute to Marchand.

Col. Marchand of Fashoda fame is about to be presented by his French admirers with a map of Africa, done in blue enamel, with the two routes followed by him in his explorations done in brilliants. Fashoda will be marked by a large diamond.

TIGER FALLS BACK UPON FRAUD CRY

Odell's Plurality Also Resurrects Movement For Separate Statehood.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.

In face of the agonized howls of "fraud" by Tammany and D. B. Hill, Odell's plurality remains. Painful as it may be for Democrats in New York city to admit it, the "farmers" up the state recognize a good governor when they see him, and determined that there should be no change this time. The assertion of some of Coler's followers, that there has been dishonesty on the part of the Odell forces up the state, is not taken seriously, and when the excitement of the contest has cooled, as it will in the course of a few days, there will be nothing more said about fraud by anyone, most likely. The fact is that the tremendous sweep of Greater New York seems to have turned the heads of Coler's adherents. They are under the delusion that Greater New York means the whole state, and when the will of the majority differs from that which they hold desirable, they want a recount and to go behind the returns. One of the demands of the disgruntled Colerites is that the state be divided, with Greater New York as one state and the rest of New York state another. This is not a new idea, and it comes up every time there is legislation at Albany which does not agree with the notions of Tammany hoodlers; but it is never stronger than at a time like this, when a Republican victory is rather close. There are busy times at the wigwam, and those who arrange calculations to be used in fighting the manifest will of the people, as exemplified in the election of B. B. Odell, have a fine showing, from their own point of view. It is possible that there will be a whittling down of Odell's plurality by a thousand or so, because a few votes of the Greater Democracy, which were overlooked, have since been discovered; but it is not supposed that it will affect the general result, Tammany hall and David B. Hill vociferously to the contrary notwithstanding.

Danger from Fireworks.

Fireworks never got a severer blow in New York than was dealt when a mortar gave way and set off a ton or so of crackers and bombs in Madison square last night. The question has often been raised whether it is proper to have a big pyrotechnical display in the heart of the city, with the possibility of some vagrant skyrocket or cannon cracker flying off at a tangent and killing somebody. According to the reports today, many remarks were made by men of standing in the community before the display began; and when the disaster occurred, and it seemed as if the infernal regions had broken loose, there was not so much surprise as dismay. The holding in bail of $10,000 of the experts in charge of the works when they blew up, is good enough, so far as it goes; but the sentiment of the city is that a stringent regulation of fireworks displays in streets is needed.

Carrie Nation True to Her Principles.

Carrie Nation evidently does not require a press agent. Her dashing away of the spirituous liquors offered to her as she lay bruised and half stunned in a railroad wreck today was a capital advertisement of her temperance principles, whatever may be the general opinion of their wisdom under desperate circumstances.

Where Silver Is Unpopular.

Here is a little story about a well-known Pittsburgher curren today, which I reproduce just as I get it: "Strange how a little bit of distance affects things," said Harry Davis of Pittsburgh in Herald square the other day, as he stood jingling together several silver dollars. "Almost a crime to have these," he continued, nodding toward the money in his hand. "Landed today with four of them; been insulted twice, and came almost licking one fellow. Took me some time to figure out what it all meant, but now I know. You see, in my town, and, in fact, anywhere west, silver has the call. You hand out a $5 bill for a small purchase like a cigar or a drink, and you get four silver dollars and some 'chicken feed.' You never do get greenbacks unless you ask for them, and then maybe you don't get them, because they are not to be had. You just get used to carrying around a dead load of silver. Bought a couple of cigars before I left Pittsburgh and got four silver dollars in change. This morning I wandered up to a cigar store and in a Broadway hotel, asked for a cigar and threw down a dollar, and—well, the expression on the cigar man's face was a study. He felt the coin carefully, looked at it under the light, weighed it in his hand and then bounced it on the counter. 'Pretty good rins,' I ventured. 'Oh, I guess it's good,' he said, and handed out the change. Had the same experience uptown with a fellow who got pretty sassy. I didn't say a word when he felt and scrutinized and weighed and jingled it; but when he started to give it the tooth test I just broke loose and grew quite eloquent on the subject of the idiocy of New York clerks. Wish I had a million of them to take back to Pittsburgh."

Operatic Treat Coming.

I had the satisfaction this afternoon of listening to the score of a new comic opera which will be produced some time this winter, and which I hope will get to Pittsburgh. The title is "The War Joss." The music covers several styles and is equally good in all of them. There are the majestically weird strains of Japanese marches; the "chin-chin" jingling melodies which we associate with the Chinese, with clever suggestions of gongs and drums; the wild refrains of the Muscovite, and the heading, dashing, "git thar" music which we can easily fancy accompanies a roundup of cowboys—lariats, immense spurs, sombreros and all. The composer is a young man named Allen, who is comparatively new in the musical field here, but who will make his mark, because his productions are musical as well as fetching. The libretto is by Mrs. Allen, and is as clever in its way as her husband's music. She is well known to Pittsburghers by her stage name. When "The War Joss" gets to Pittsburgh, remember what I say now about its excellent quality.

Prosy Witnesses in a Dramatic Trial.

Interest in the Molineux case intensifies as the time when a verdict may be expected approaches. It was a dull day in the trial, only handwriting experts being examined, a class of witnesses that are not dramatic enough to suit the average auditor in the court room; but good progress was made in the opinion of counsel. It is anticipated that when the woman who is expected to be such a good witness for Molineux, by swearing that another man whom she could identify, mailed the poison package, goes on the stand, there will be the most interesting period of this dramatic trial. The defense are confident of acquittal; the prosecution seem to be equally certain of conviction. Molineux? Oh! he just sits there, with a perfectly blank expression of countenance. If he speculates on the outcome, he does it internally.

The Morning After.

It has been a tired day for many New Yorkers. The festivities and noise of last night brought the inevitable reaction and little real business was done. Stores and factories were open, and there was action down in Wall street; but everyone was glad when closing time came, and most of them spent the evening at home and went to bed early.

Pittsburgh Fog in Gotham.

That fog which Pittsburgh had yesterday visited New York this morning. At least it seemed like the same, judging by the descriptions of the Pittsburgh affair that we have had. The bay was hidden in a thick gray curtain of vapor and the ferryboats and other craft had a groping time of it. The hoarse whistle and clanging bell sounded weirdly through the mist at frequent intervals, and many a timid commuter from Jersey and Staten Island was glad when he got safely into Manhattan, ugly and uninviting as the city looked in the fog.

Wall Street Bears Desperate.

The "bears" took fright in Wall street when they saw that everything was going up as the result of the satisfaction with the results of the election, and soon they set to work to undermine the market. That is the story of today on 'change. The bears got under the market and sapped the strength out of it, so that the entire list of active stocks at last sold a fraction under Monday's closing prices. There will be "something doing" tomorrow, the wise ones say.

Roosevelt Passes Through the City.

President Roosevelt dashed across Manhattan this morning in the fog. He was in a carriage, and was on his way to Philadelphia and thence to Washington, Mrs. Roosevelt came with him from Oyster Bay, but stayed in New York until noon, when she departed to Philadelphia, to join the president and go thence to Washington with him. There was no notice given to the public that the president was in the close carriage which went swiftly from the East Thirty-fourth to the West Twenty-third street ferry house, except that the usual escort of two mounted policemen kept close to the wheels and were on the alert to foil any possible attempt to harm the chief executive. Unhappily, the necessity of this precaution has been emphasized too often to be ignored nowadays.

New Divorce Case Precedent.

With election day out of the way, the grind of the divorce court mill was taken up in the supreme court today. This is an operation that is perpetual in New York, practically. Justice Truax presided today, and he is as familiar with the details of divorce law as anyone in the state. Perhaps that was the reason that he decided the service of a summons on an actor on the stage of a theater in the midst of a performance was not quite regular. This may establish a precedent calculated to change divorce methods, at least in detail, and it has caused quite a little flutter in the "Alimony club."

Albany's Snub of Carnegie.

There is considerable comment in this city over the refusal of Albany to accept a public library from Andrew Carnegie. A popular vote defeated the proposition to accept $165,000 from Mr. Carnegie for a library, and people in this city, which has accepted several millions for libraries, wonder what is the matter with Albany.

The Window Cleaner's Hazard.

Another window cleaner was killed in New York today. He was standing on a window sill on the 11th story of an iron story building, downtown when his foot slipped and he plunged headlong to the ground down an air shaft. It is not strange that window cleaners are killed occasionally. The wonder is that several are not hurled to death every day. These particular workmen take delight in taking chances, as they crawl about the face of skyscrapers from one window to another 100 feet above the ground, and when one of them happens to go down it is always what might be expected. They have safety chains, just as have their brother cleaners in Pittsburgh; but half the time the chains are not fastened, nearly always at the moment that they are desperately needed.

The New Department Store.

Herald square will have its new department store opened in a day or two. Macys, that old shopping landmark known to thousands of Pittsburgh women, has moved into the new store, taking advantage of the election day holiday, but has not yet resumed business. It is many, many years since New York has not had this famous store open on a regular business day. It is a matter of public concern rather than a detail of a private business.

Gloves for the Tailor-Made Woman.

"Mannish gloves" for women are coming rapidly into vogue in New York, whatever may be the case in other cities. They are found to be just the thing to go with tailor made suits and heavy shoes, and are considered distinctly the swagger thing on Broadway.

Lectures in the Schools.

The board of education here has at least one popular custom. It supplies lecturers to speak on useful and interesting topics at the different schools of the city three evenings in the week, to which pupils and the public in general are invited free. Two of the topics at different schools tomorrow will illustrate the broad scope of these lectures. They are "Niagara on Tap" and "Compressed Air." At another school the subject is "Photography," and at still another it is "Land of the Aztecs."

Trust-Ridden Missouri.

From the Greenville (Mo.) Sun.

Missouri has been under the control of the Democratic party for 30 years, and is one of the greatest trust-cursed states of the union; and many of these trusts were originated, legalized and fastened upon the people by the Democratic party. Missouri has a street railway trust known as the transit company, in which millions of dollars are consolidated. This trust became such a special pet of a Democratic legislature. It also has a school book trust, with its hands in the people's pockets, compelling them to pay 30 per cent more for books than the same books are sold for in our neighbor state of Kansas. It also has a gigantic baking powder trust, with its fangs fastened on the people. Evidence in the Cardwell case proved that the street railway trust was permitted and legalized as a reward for the Democratic slush fund. The book trust is greatly due to W. T. Carrington and W. J. Stone, and the baking powder trust was lobbied through by Mr. Stone.

Where the Remedy Lies.

From the Philadelphia Record.

That education may be an evil is the opinion of James Campbell, the chief factory inspector of Pennsylvania, who told the congress of mothers at Pittsburgh that "the educated girl often comes home ashamed of her father and mother and believing that no man is good enough to be her husband." Many of us have seen just such cases as Mr. Campbell deplores, but the trouble does not lie with our public schooling. A common error confounds a smattering of the glories, a mere veneer of book learning, with education, whereas book-learning is merely a step toward education. Again, no amount of schooling can take the place of home training, and virtue must be inculcated at the mother's knee. The remedy for the state of affairs Mr. Campbell laments is obvious; it is a preventive medicine which must be administered by the parents themselves to be truly effectious.

An Eye to Business.

From the Oil City Blizzard.

Now that the election is over, the sagacious business man should bear in mind that the season is at hand when he should arrange for his holiday advertising. Buyers do not put off making their purchases until the last moment.

PERSONALS.

Joseph A. Golden, who is the Democratic congressman-elect from the Eighteenth district of New York, in the upper part of New York city, was formerly a resident of Pittsburgh. His home was here from 1874 to 1890, his residence being in Lawrenceville. In 1886 he was a candidate in the Forty-third senatorial district, making an exceptional run in his home ward and other Republican strongholds. Since locating in New York he has served as a public school commissioner for five years and has been the head of the Grand Army organization of Greater New York for seven years. His brothers, Jerome I. Golden and Attorney William A. Golden, are well-known Pittsburghers.

People at Union station were amused last night by the actions of some alleged friends of a newly wedded couple who were going east on their honeymoon. The entrance to the train shed was crowded and when the gates were thrown open the young couple darted through, followed by a shower of rice. Then a handful of new silver dimes was thrown, and in an instant every colored porter about the station was on his knees, scrambling for the coin. Many of the passengers forgot their dignity and joined in the hunt for the silver.

Charles L. Cole, with his wife and daughter, are at the Hotel Lincoln. They arrived in Pittsburgh early yesterday morning from Dresden, Saxony, with the body of their daughter, Anna H., who died in Dresden on June 28 last. Mr. Cole has been consul at Dresden for the past five years. Previous to that time he was general freight agent of the Pennsylvania lines west and resided in Allegheny. He will not return to Dresden for some time.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Among those at the hotels last night were the following persons from nearby towns:

Victoria—J. D. Gray, Erie; E. W. Williams, East Liverpool; J. P. Hines, Steneboro; T. A. Dchamater, Meadville; M. Schlesinger, Wheeling.

Lincoln—Thomas Hillman, Beaver Falls; P. P. Morris, Girard, O.; E. Z. Lewis, Franklin; M. B. Chandler, Canton; W. W. Wilson, Clarion.

Duquesne—Warren McCreary, Butler; T. Thayer Wood, Youngstown; A. A. Thompson, Uniontown.

Seventh Avenue—D. A. Altman, Steubenville; W. F. Frederick, Uniontown; S. S. Weisinger, Petersburg, Va.; W. P. Murphy, Ridgway; J. T. Stuckell, H. B. McIntire, Richard Brown, Indiana; J. C. Bardall, Moundsville; W. L. Klein, Akron; M. G. Bulger, J. T. Ross, Brownsville; S. P. Hooper, Maj. Thos. S. Crago, Waynesburg.

Monongahela—W. A. Hunt, St. Clairville; George Sabia, A. R. McBarney, Cambridge; E. M. Peters, Leetonia; S. S. Henderson, Brookville.

Griswold—J. P. McBride, Wheeling; J. H. Crouch, Bower Hill; R. W. Dinsmore, Burgettstown; J. M. Walsh, Youngstown.

Anderson—J. I. Hudson, Louis Steinfeld, East Liverpool.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Dr. Thomas F. McManus.

Dr. Thomas F. McManus, a well-known young physician of this city, state medical examiner for the Catholic Mutual Beneficial association, died early yesterday morning at his home, No. 1045 Fifth avenue, of typhoid pneumonia, from which he suffered for one week. Dr. McManus was about 40 years old, and had been one of the largest practicing physicians in Pittsburgh, where he has been a physician for 18 years. He was much sought as a consulting physician, and it was his intense devotion to his patients that caused his health to decline about a year ago. During the illness of the late Senator Magee Dr. McManus was called to Philadelphia for consultation. He was a member of the C. M. B. A. and of the Knights of Columbus. He is survived by his parents, a brother and a sister.

Mrs. Nicholson Buried.

The funeral services of Mrs. A. Nicholson, wife of the Rev. Alfred Nicholson, pastor of the East End Presbyterian church, were held at the home yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. There were beautiful floral decorations and many of the neighbors attended the services. The services were conducted by the Rev. S. Edward Young, of the Second Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, assisted by the Rev. W. B. Skron of the Fourth Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh and the Rev. Thomas Parry of the Wilkinsburg Presbyterian church. The interment was in the Homewood cemetery.

Charles A. Mackey's Funeral.

The funeral of Charles A. Mackey of the Pittsburgh Blue Print Company will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of H. Samson, No. 453 Sixth avenue. His death occurred at Fowler, Col., on October 31. Mr. Mackey's office was in the Park building and his home was at No. 510 East End avenue, Point Breeze. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Estella Cramer Mackey.

Remains Brought Home.

At Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, Sixth avenue, funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon over the remains of Anna Houston Cole, eldest daughter of Charles L. Cole, a former official of the Pennsylvania railroad, and now consul at Dresden, Saxony. Miss Cole's death occurred at Dresden on June 28, at which time it was announced in The Gazette.

W. A. Hemmelwright Buried.

The funeral services of W. A. Hemmelwright, who died late Monday night at Braddock, were held yesterday afternoon and the body was taken to Altoona for burial. Mr. Hemmelwright was a wealthy resident of Wilmerding and was a prominent member of the First United Presbyterian church.

Obituary Notes.

Moses Meyers, a grocer, aged 43, died at his residence, No. 1227 Federal street, Allegheny, yesterday morning. The funeral will take place tomorrow at 2 o'clock.

Miss Matilda McKean, sister of Mrs. G. S. Haws, wife of the pastor of the Braddock United Presbyterian church, died at her home in Mercer yesterday morning of consumption, aged 25.

Edward Gallagher, 45 years old, is dead at No. 2207 Penn avenue. He was a native of Ireland and a resident of Pittsburgh for 36 years. He was a member of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church.

Mrs. Mary S. Eichbaum, 79 years old, a daughter of the late Thomas Semple, second mayor of Allegheny, is dead at the home of her son, William W. Eichbaum, at New Castle, Pa. Three sons survive.

The Rev. George Deane O'Neill, chancellor and secretary of the Roman Catholic diocese of Newark, N. J., is dead at St. Anthony's sanitarium, Denver, Col. Father O'Neill's illness began with typhoid fever, which passed into tuberculosis.

Karl Reuber, 61 years old, who some years ago offered his home, No. 4 Boston street, to the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel & Tin Workers for a labor temple, is dead as the result of a fall from the roof of his home about five weeks ago. He was best known as an ardent supporter of labor.

Socialism in New England.

From the Buffalo Courier.

The growth of socialism in New England has become so marked as to attract considerable attention. Socialist candidates have been nominated in all the fourteen congressional districts of Massachusetts, and the vote they secure will be studied with attention. As yet the socialists have no representation in congress. It is well known that they have a considerable minority in the parliaments of Germany and France.

Ungrateful Marie.

From the Atlanta Journal.

Marie Corelli has referred to Mr. Carnegie as a "poor biped." Still, she must admit that he has done a good deal for people who write books.

Speaking of Hoodoos.

From the Buffalo Express.

Caesar had his Brutus, Charles I. had his Cromwell—and the United States has a 13-cent postage stamp.

Philadelphia Inquirer.

The general result of the elections throughout the country may fairly be interpreted as expressive of popular satisfaction with the national administration. There are few indications of a Democratic reaction, and the control of the next congress will remain with the Republicans. Outside of Pennsylvania, the widest interest was felt in the state electi in New York, which usually gives ear indication of any change in the politi drift. The contest proved closer th was anticipated, the Democrats polli an extraordinary majority of the vo in Greater New York; but the Repu lican majority in the state is apparen sufficient to overcome this and to r elect Gov. Odell. It is probable th demagogic blunders, which were witho excuse, have cost Senator Hill and h candidate a victory that sounder state manship might have won.—Philadelphi Ledger.

If prosperity be the result of Republican administration, as the organs and orators of that party have been vociferously asserting it to be in every part of the country, especially for the last four months, the verdict of the election, no matter what the final count of the votes may show it to be, can make no change. The hold of the Republican party upon the government remains unshaken. It has the president and the senate. There can be no reversal of its policies as affecting existing conditions forced upon

CROWN PRINCE OF SIAM IN PITTSBURGH

Royal Party Spent Busy Day and Saw Many of the City's Industries.

VISITED THE STEEL MILLS

Smoky Atmosphere, Proverbial to Pittsburgh, Was Much in Evidence—Came Down River from Homestead in Swift Yacht.

The crown prince of Siam, Chowfa Maha Vajravudh, with his suite, was entertained in Pittsburgh yesterday. It was the first time that a scion of royalty had stopped over in Pittsburgh since the visit of the Prince of Wales in the 60's. The crown prince was the guest of Francis J. Torrance and spent a busy day in visiting places of interest about the city and the big steel plants of Braddock and Homestead. At noon a luncheon was tendered by Mr. Torrance at the Duquesne club, and in the evening his royal highness received a few friends at tea in his private car at the Union station. The party left for the west on a special train at 9 o'clock.

A dinner to the prince had been planned to take place at the Monongahela club on the top floor of the Peoples bank building last night, but was abandoned because of the late hour at which the carriage drive to Allegheny was concluded. When the prince did not call at the club it was reported that he feared a ride in the elevator to the top of the tall skyscreaper and had fought shy of the proposed dinner. Such, however, was not the case. The man who some day will rule over a corner of the Orient, has been to the ton of buildings higher than any Pittsburgh skyscraper, and would have found no novel experience in riding to the skylight of the Peoples bank.

Prince Chowfa will doubtless carry away with him an impression of Pittsburgh that will agree in every particular with the proverbial fame of the Smoky City. A dense, smoke-ladened fog obscured the sun and while his royal highness was driven through the downtown thoroughfares, it was almost impossible for him to distinguish objects a block distant.

For the first time in his life he was given the opportunity to view the wonders of a modern American steel plant. He enjoyed a swift ride in a steam launch and was entertained in the dizzy heights of a skyscraper so far above the ground that the roofs of the adjoining buildings could not be seen through the clouds of fog.

Prince Had a Busy Day.

The prince had heard much of Pittsburgh. In his own country he had seen a great variety of the products of its factories, and last night when he bade adieu to his hosts he said that the city's industries had exceeded his expectations. Miles of busy railroad yards, mills that covered more ground than many European farms, and buildings that yesterday literally towered above the mists, caused his inexpressible surprise.

"My journey through America thus far," said the prince, "has been like a tour through wonderland. In the east, I was particularly impresed by the simple and sturdy character of the American soldiers at West Point and Ft. Myer.

"The naval school at Annapolis was an institution that interested me, and here I have had a chance to see the results of America's industrial progress. This is truly a great and wonderful city."

Was a Close Observer.

Prince Chowfa is small and quite youthful in his manner and appearance. He speaks English faultlessly and in his conversation evinces the thoroughness of his European education. He resembles the Japanese of the official class and wears the conventional garb of occidental countries. He is a close observer and does not hesitate to ask pointed questions about everything that arouses his interest.

The special train arrived at the Union station about 8 o'clock and after breakfast in the dining car, the party was taken to Homestead. After visiting the steel mills, they returned to the city on C. A. Painter's yacht, Winona, sailing down the Monongahela past the mills and blast furnaces to the Market street wharf where carriages were taken to the Duquesne club.

The room on the second floor of the club, where the luncheon was served, was elaborately decorated with flowers and the flags of Siam and the United States entwined on the walls. There were no addresses and a toast to the prince and the royal family by the host and a compliment in return were the only formal utterances. The guests from Pittsburgh were:

Met Prominent Citizens.

James McCrea, Col. A. J. Logan, Calvin Wells, W. L. Mustin, George T. Oliver, Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, H. K. Porter, W. E. Corey, A. J. Barr, Charles A. Rook, John B. Finley, H. P. Bope, D. C. Ripley, W. H. Seiff, James H. Willock, C. A. Painter, Frank L. Robbins, Frank Moore, William B. Schiller, Joseph T. Nevin, James A. Chambers, S. H. Church, Col. Chambers McKibbin, H. J. Heinz, D. L. Gillespie, Theodore Ahrens, Jr., Dr. W. J. Holland, John G. Bennett, John R. McGinley, George Westinghouse, Robert Pitcairn, Thomas M. Armstrong, A. M. Jenkinson, Col. L. F. Loree of Baltimore, Hon. Edward Loftus, secretary of the Siamese legation, and Hon. J. H. Gore of Washington, beside the members of the royal party. During the day the national emblem of Siam, a red flag with the figure of a white elephant, flaunted above the door of the club.

The afternoon was spent in driving through the business section of the city and in viewing the plant of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company in Allegheny.

DEATH REVEALS SECRET OF LOVE

Bodies of Pastor and Young Woman Assistant Found Locked in Fond Embrace.

THE GAS IS TURNED ON

Not Even Suspicion of Attachment Reaches Members of Church of Which He Is Popular Pastor and She City Missionary.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

OMAHA, Nov. 5.—Clasped in each other's arms, lying on the floor of the pastor's study in the German Baptist church, early today, Oscar Berndes, janitor of the church, discovered the dead bodies of the Rev. W. C. Rabe, pastor, and Augusta Busch, a missionary and assistant to the pastor. Death was caused by asphyxiation. The room was filled with gas, a jet and a burner of a small stove being partly turned on.

The bodies were on the floor, the woman's head being on cushions. There seems to be little doubt that death was accidental.

It is believed that the pair fell asleep, the stove flame blew out and the gas escaped. The bodies were rigid and death evidently occurred during the early hours of the previous evening. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

Missing All Night.

Miss Busch roomed at the home of Janitor Berndes and Mr. Rabe at the house of Harry Dirksen. Miss Busch went to the Dirksen home yesterday morning and remained there until about 9 o'clock in the evening, engaged in sewing. She met Mr. Rabe on her way and that the two went to his study in the rear of the church, where the tragedy occurred. They had been good friends, but no stronger feeling was apparent to those who knew them.

Mrs. Berndes supposed the young woman was in her room until Mrs. Schalkau, housekeeper for Mr. Rabe, reported that he had not been at home during the night. Then it was discovered that Miss Busch had not occupied her room, and a search was made this morning.

The janitor went to the pastor's study, found the door locked and the key on the inside and he detected the gas. Quickly he summoned a police officer and the door was broken open.

Bodies Found on Floor.

In the center of the very small study the bodies lay, the heads a few feet from the door. The woman's face was covered with froth and had begun to turn purple. One gas jet above the pastor's table was only partly turned off, and from a stove gas was slowly escaping.

It was thought at first that the two had committed suicide, for on the table was an open letter, a neatly arranged bouquet, Mr. Rabe's watch and glasses, and his hat. Miss Busch's gloves and handkerchief, and neatly folded upon the back of a chair was her jacket. The letter was found to be an answer to another letter, which Mr. Rabe had received. There was nothing in it to indicate suicide.

Mr. Rabe was 54 years of age. He came to Omaha from Buffalo, N. Y. His wife is attending a missionary school in New York, and one son, Carl, is with her.

Miss Busch was 31 years of age and had been a missionary in Omaha for five years. She came here from Chicago, sent by the church missionary school. She, too, was held in high esteem, and was very popular.

Where the Art Spirit Pervades.

HIGH ART in Millinery is taste and talent expressed in velvets, felts, chenille braids, chiffons, silks, ribbons, flowers, feathers, ornaments and the other hat-making materials.

Cost counts for very little.

What makes the trimmed hat a thing of beauty is the manipulation of the frame into a pleasing shape, the skillful draping of the covering materials, and the deft placing of the garniture so as to impart that finishing touch which gives character and harmony to the creation.

Genius in millinery is the production of hats that are in accord with the accepted mode and yet sufficiently unlike other hats to give individuality to the production.

Judged by this standard—the only correct one—the trimmed hats that come from our workrooms are worthy works of millinery art.

But in this instance at least high art is not linked with high prices. Look at array of headwear in the glass showcase containing our best hats.

Shirred maline, interlacings of chenille braid, scratch felt, panne velvet, mirror velvet, shirred silk and fur beaver are the materials most in evidence. And the trimmings are ostrich plumes and pompons, flat wings, mink tails, curled breasts, folds of silk and handsome bows of rich ribbon. The color scheme—black, white, black-and-white, red, green, blue and gray. And now the prices—$7.50 for a handsome creation; $10, $12, $15, $18, $20, $25 and $30 for the finest of all, with most of the money in the long, sweeping ostrich plume.

On the Five-Dollar Table

Here are some lovely hats in silk velvet, scratch felt and other good materials, just as tastefully trimmed as the more costly ones, with quills, wings, breasts, pompons, bows and streamers. Creditable headwear for any purpose.

On the $2.98 Table

Another line of made hats, every one of them in good materials, trimmed with taste, shaped with care and altogether so pleasing that one is led to wonder whether the price-card hasn't been misplaced.

Misses' Hats

These are one of our strong points. See what beautiful drooping flats in the correct colors we have, trimmed with ribbon bows and streamers, until $1.98 seems a trivial price for so much of beauty—and the very spirit of young girlhood pervading the entire line.

Ladies' Wraps and Suits

'Tis flood-tide now in the part of the store devoted to Ladies', Misses' and Children's Cloaks, Suits, Skirts and other Ready-to-Wear Apparel.

Never was a more attractive line—a more comprehensive line—a more stylish line—coupled with lower prices in the height of the season.

Continuance of warm weather has had its effect, and dozens of makers of the best garments have let us have the best products of their workrooms to sell at prices that savor more of February than they do of November. To specialize a few would be like offering a brick as a representative of a great building. You need to see them, to compare them, to try them on, to note the effect in the mirror—and then to look at the figures and realize how much more you have been asked to pay for garments no better—not in Paris—not in London—not in New York—but right here in Pittsburgh.

BUTCHERS LEFT 15 ABATTOIRS

Union and Non-Union Men Went on Strike Yesterday.

PRICES NOT AFFECTED

Employers Offered to Pay Advance Demanded, But Would Not Recognize the Union—The Firms Involved.

The organized and unorganized butchers of Pittsburgh and Allegheny went on strike shortly after the whistles blew in the plants at noon yesterday. This action was decided on at a meeting held last Sunday evening, the demand being that the employers sign the wage scale and recognize the union. Fifteen firms refused to sign the scale.

It was shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the men began to arrive at Moorhead's hall. As the striking butchers from each firm arrived they were greeted with cheers. Addresses were made by Calvin Wyatt and T. H. Winn, general organizers of the American Federation of Labor.

The men claim they have closed the following firms: Pittsburgh Provision & Dunlevy & Bro., Cyphers Packing & Denholm Bros., Rea & Co., William Heller, Fried & Rineman, Martin & Mitchell, Henry Lohrey, John Seiler Co., Hirsch & Sons, William Smith, Frank Winn, Herman & Schott and Lewis Zolg.

Several firms offered their men the rate, but would not recognize the union. There are about 200 non-union men in the meat houses affected by the strike and all went out with their comrades. The total number of union and non-union men out is about 600. The strike will affect about 300 drivers. The action of the non union men was quite a surprise to the firms, as they had been depended on to keep the plants in operation.

Most of the retail butchers have promised the strikers that they will buy no meat from the firms until the strike is settled. The strike does not affect the packing and slaughtering houses in the least, as they recognize the butchers' union. The strike will not affect the consumers in this vicinity, but will affect the western packers.

The butchers' organization, which is known as No. 128, of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters' and Butchers' Workmen, met this morning to hear reports of committees. Pickets were stationed at the plants yesterday and they will be closely watched.

The board of business agents of the various trades is expected to indorse the strike today, and if it does other trades may go out in connection with the construction of the new plant of the Pittsburgh Edison Company, under construction on Herr's Island.

Mr. Dunlevy of Dunlevy & Bro., one of the largest employers of butchers in the city, said: "We pay good wages and have for over time. We do not object to the short day in winter, but so far as it is in summer is concerned, that is a different matter. A shorter summer day would mean that we would lose much of the meat spoiling. Meat is high now, and if we have to pay higher wages we will have to quit the business." Mr. Cyphers of the Cyphers Packing Co. said that his firm would pay its men on their merits. He employs 40 men and says he will not sign the scale.

ANNIVERSARIES ARE TO BE CELEBRATED

Y. M. C. A. Announces Interesting Program for Next Week.

The officers of the Young Men's Christian association of Pittsburgh have arranged the celebration of anniversaries in the branches. They have also arranged for a week of day prayer meetings and meetings in the evening, of 45 minutes each.

The 36th anniversary of the Central branch will be celebrated in the First Presbyterian church, Wood street, next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. Sylvester F. Scovel of Wooster university will deliver an address. In the afternoon at 4 o'clock a prayer meeting service, which is held in all the Young Men's Christian associations throughout the world on that day, will be observed at the Association building, Penn avenue and Seventh street. The service will be conducted by Thomas J. Gillespie.

Beginning November 10 there will be prayer meetings of 45 minutes each, and commencing at 9 o'clock every night next week, in the Central branch. There will also be singing by a male quartet and music conducted by J. E. Griggs.

There will be day meetings at the same place during the week, from 12 to 12:45 o'clock. The following is the program for the week, and the list of speakers: Monday, the Rev. Allen D. Carlisle, "A Prayer for a Revival;" Tuesday, the Rev. William J. Russell, "An Intercessory Prayer;" Wednesday, the Rev. Worthington B. Slutz, "Our Eyes Are Upon Thee;" Thursday, the Rev. David F. McGill, "United Prayers;" Friday, the Rev. William A. Kinter, "Divine Supplies Unfailing;" Saturday, the Rev. William J. Reid, Jr., "Sabbath School Lesson."

The 20th anniversary of the Pennsylvania railroad department will be celebrated in the car repair shop at Pitcairn, Pa., Sunday afternoon, November 16, at 3 o'clock. The meeting will be addressed by Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of St. Louis, president of the Wabash Railroad Company. A special free train for invited guests will leave Union station at 2 o'clock, stopping at all way stations and returning to Pittsburgh at 5:30.

The 25th anniversary of the East Liberty branch will be celebrated in the East Liberty Presbyterian church Sunday evening, November 16, at 7:45 o'clock. The meeting will be addressed by the Rev. Dr. Francis L. Patton, president of Princeton seminary.

PORTO RICO IS REPUBLICAN.

Government Promises Prosecutions on Charges of Fraud.

SAN JUAN, PORTO RICO, Nov. 5.—There were no serious disorders anywhere in Porto Rico yesterday. The election, which resulted in a sweeping Republican victory, passed off quietly. This was largely due to the fact that Gov. Hunt sent 22 special representatives, covering the whole island, with plenary powers to adjust differences summarily.

Federico DeGetiauwas was re-elected resident commissioner at Washington by a large majority. The Federals have ten delegates in the legislature and the Republicans 25. In most of the turbulent districts and cities, Guayama, Cayeye, San Lorenzo, Aibonito and others, the Federals, through intimidation, abstained entirely from voting and lost five delegates to the legislature. Fraud was charged everywhere and the government has promised prompt prosecutions.

Americans Threaten Vengeance.

MANILA, Nov. 5.—As the result of the killing of an American bartender named Armitage, who was shot yesterday by a native policeman who had quarreled with him, the governor of the province has requested Gen. Bell to furnish military protection against a party of unemployed Americans who are threatening vengeance.

PRESIDENT SUPPORTED BY BOARD OF TRADE

If Favors Appointment of Expert Commission to Take Charge of Tariff Question.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Tariff reform was considered at the monthly meeting of the board of trade today, and a resolution was introduced that a committee of the board be appointed to support the suggestion of President Roosevelt that a permanent non-partisan expert tariff commission be created.

There was opposition to reviving the question at present, and the resolution was referred to the active commission.

Resolutions endorsing the Ray bankruptcy bill and urging congressional action on trade marks were passed. A resolution to inquire into the report that the "coal distributors of this city have a concert of action in fixing the price of coal" was referred to the committee on city affairs.

T. S. Sharretts, special United States tariff commissioner to China, gave an address in which he said New York would come to look upon the Asiatic race as customers of great value.

THE PINKHAM CURES

ATTRACTING GREAT ATTENTION AMONG THINKING WOMEN.

Mrs. Frances Stafford, of 243 E. 114th St., N.Y. City, adds her testimony to the hundreds of thousands on Mrs. Pinkham's files.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies were first introduced skepties all over the country frowned upon their curative claims, but as year after year has rolled by and the little group of women who had been cured by the new discovery has since grown into a vast army of hundreds of thousands, doubts and skepticisms have been swept away as by a mighty flood, until to-day the great good that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her other medicines are doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many of our leading scientists, physicians and thinking people.

Merit alone could win such fame: wise, therefore, is the woman who for a cure relies upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

BAN JOHNSON SAYS LEACH WAS THE TROUBLE MAKER

YALE'S ELEVEN IN POOR PHYSICAL CONDITION

CLAIMS LEACH WAS THE LEADER

Ban Johnson Says He Did All Business Through Tommy.

DREYFUSS DOUBTS IT

When Catcher Jack O'Connor and Pitcher Jesse Tannehill were summarily dismissed from the Pittsburgh club for being the alleged ringleaders in the effort to break up the champion team and wean some of its players over to the American league, the charge was emphatically denied by the players in question.

Both O'Connor and Tannehill admitted having been dealing with the officials of the opposition league, but they insisted that they were not the leaders in the movement. Neither of the players would tell who the party was that had been doing the missionary work among the Pirates for the American league, and contented themselves with saying that it would be known in time, and they would be cleared of that portion of the charges against them. It now turns out that the player who was doing the work was acting to Ban Johnson, president of the American league—Tommy Leach. A special telegram from Chicago says:

President Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club has been throwing stones at the official list of players signed by the American league clubs recently on the ground that it was a huge bluff, and Barney wanted to say that Leach would play in Pittsburgh next year in spite of all claims to the contrary. President Johnson set all Dreyfuss' claims at rest and showed besides that Leach was the ringleader of the players who signed with the American league from Pittsburgh—the "crime" for which Catcher O'Connor was released by Dreyfuss.

"When we came to sign the Pittsburgh players last August," said Ban, "I found that all business must be done through Leach. He was spokesman for the crowd. So I sent for Leach, and it was through him that all my negotiations were conducted. He got the other players together and brought them to me to sign contracts. Moreover, it was through Leach that we paid them their advance money, later. The contract which Leach signed with us is frouzled and calls for his salary whether he is able to play or not. There is no way to get around it and he must play for us, that's all. I don't believe he has any other idea.

"As for these claims that Leach has returned his advance money, they are all rot. We have not seen it. Besides what we did for the players in the way of advance, I promised Leach that if any of them lost anything through signing with us by being released or suspended the American league would make good, whatever Dreyfuss took away from them, and we did pay one Pittsburgh player over $100 of his Pittsburgh salary because he was released for being the ringleader."

While President Johnson would not specify further it is easy to guess that Catcher O'Connor was the player suspected of leading Dreyfuss' pets astray last summer, as he was openly released for that reason.

President Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club, when told of Bancroft's statement last night, said he did not believe a word Johnson said. The claims that the president of the American league finding that he cannot secure Leach for his league next season is endeavoring to belittle the player and make him unpopular by saddling on his shoulders a responsibility that belongs to others. Mr. Dreyfuss refuses absolutely to believe any such accusations against his third baseman.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

Ban Johnson Once More Tells of His Plans.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—President Ban Johnson of the American league was in the city today, having come from Chicago to visit his parents and incidentally to have a talk with Hon. John Bruce, attorney of the organization. Mr. Johnson declared positively that the American league would be in New York next season, despite Mr. Brush's statement that no grounds could be secured. He said further that if it desired, the American could get into Pittsburgh, a company being formed there being anxious to secure franchises.

Mr. Johnson says that he feels sure that all the players who signed American league contracts, including Leach, Conroy and Smith of Pittsburgh, Matthewson and Bowerman of New York and Crawford of Cincinnati, will be found in his league next season. Their contracts are such that they may be reached by law if they fail to fulfill their obligations.

DEFENDS HIS HONESTY.

Jockey Johnny Reiff Enters Suit Against French Newspaper.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—J. Reiff, the American jockey, has begun suit against a sporting paper, La Vieau Grand Air, claiming damages for an alleged defamatory article published in connection with the withdrawal of his license.

The citation declares the paper made false assertions against Reiff's professional honesty. The jockey specifically denies putting St. Saulge at the St. Cloud races. The case will be heard November 26.

CHANCE FOR M'CLELLAND.

Local Fighter May Meet Tommy Sullivan in St. Louis.

James Mason received a telegram from Charley Haughton, manager of the West End club of St. Louis, wanting Jack McClelland to meet Tommy Sullivan of Brooklyn on next Thursday night for 20 rounds. Mason answered that he would accept for the following Thursday, as the notice of one week for a hard man like Sullivan was too short. Frank McCloskey meets one of the 12th. So it would be impossible for Mason to get to St. Louis by the next afternoon, the 13th.

Plenty of Sport for New Castle.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Two Youngstown Athletic teams will play in this city on Saturday afternoon. The Youngstown association football team will meet a picked team composed of old association football men of this town. Both teams have plans. The old New Castle association football team won the championship of Pennsylvania ten years ago by defeating the celebrated Morgan team of Youngstown in a series of games for a championship living cup, which is retained here. Representatives of the Youngstown Golf club are also to play here that afternoon against a team of the New Castle Golf club.

Nonpareils Are Champions.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—By vanquishing the strong Altoona team the Nonpareil of Hollidaysburg today achieved the footballistic championship of Blair county. The home club won by a score of 5 to 0. Plummer made the touchdown.

THE STAR ELEVEN READY FOR JOURNEY

Pittsburgh Team Starts for Philadelphia Tonight to Tackle the Athletics.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 5.—The bruising game with the Philadelphia football eleven left no ill effect on the members of the Pittsburgh team, and all the stars were out as usual today for regular practice.

Fully an hour was spent in punting and passing the ball, after which followed regular lineup, every man on the team being used. Dushane and Sherlock alternated with Richardson at quarterback. John Geiger took his turn at guard, and already he has mastered the signals. Geiger gets off very fast and he will be a strong acquisition for the line.

Practice will continue tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow evening the team will leave in a special Pullman car for Philadelphia for the game their Saturday afternoon with the Athletics. While in Philadelphia the team will stop at the Hotel Windsor, returning on the 11:05 train from Philadelphia Saturday night.

Quite a number of Pittsburgh rooters have signified their intention of accompanying the team to the Quaker City, and among the crowd Hugh Blaney and his quartet, which caused a furore last season when the Homestead team went to Philadelphia.

The Salvation Army is making preparations to give a free dinner to 500 poor women and children on Thanksgiving Day. The baskets will be filled and distributed from the central depot, No. 35 Diamond square. Each basket will contain chicken or turkey, vegetables, cranberries, bread, butter, sugar, candy, etc. The army will given a Christmas dinner to the poor, when it is expected that over 2,000 will be cared for.

There will be a public hallelujah wedding of two members of the army at the Army hall, No. 35 Diamond square, Monday evening, November 4. Gen. William Booth, founder of the army, will preach three times in the Alvin theater, January 25.

YALE'S PLAYERS WORKED TOO HARD

The Team Seems Overtrained and in Need Of a Good Rest.

TIGERS LIGHT WORK

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 5.—No practice for the Yale 'varsity football players was taken this afternoon because the men were found to be a trifle stale. About half of the players reported at the field, but the only members of the team who practiced were Bowman and Vanderpool, who kicked punts awhile.

The coachers say that the team will be all right tomorrow and that the drill will be severe in preparation for the Bucknell game Saturday. None of the regular members of the eleven is afflicted with anything except a little overwork, and every man will be in his place tomorrow, including Kinney. He threw his knee out last Monday. The 'Varsitymen played the third eleven of the 'varsity squad this afternoon, the game closing a tie, 6 to 6.

Scrubs Trouble the Tigers.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The 'varsity lined up again today against substitute players and played a 20-minute game, neither side scoring. The scrubs are improving in getting off plays, and time after time went through the 'varsity line for long gains. Dutcher and E. C. Brown were the guards for the first eleven, and both men played entirely too high in the line to stop many of the scrubs' plays before they had gained some ground. Carothers was at tackle in place of Rafferty and the backs were King, Stevens and Delaney.

Harvard Scrubs Scored Again.

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The 'varsity team gave a further evidence of slumping today when the scrub freshmen team scored. This occurred during a half-hour period between rather a languid secret practice. The freshmen got the ball on 'varsity's 25-yard line, gained 5 for end play forfeit, and stopped Marshall's punt, while one of the boys ran like a deer around 'varsity end, made an 80-yard run and scored. The coaches are interested in the lad. Letherbee got back into the game today after two weeks of lameness. The betting is about 5 to 3 on Pennsy's scoring.

FIGHTING IN A CAPITAL.

Returning Fouchardists Have a Battle With Civil Authorities in Port-au-Prince, Haiti.

PORT AU PRINCE, HAITI, Nov. 5.—Twelve hundred armed Fouchardists are encamped in the outskirts of the city. The situation at Gonaives is serious. Gen. Nord insists upon the surrender to him of political refugees who sought protection in foreign consulates there, and the members of the diplomatic corps protest against the handing over.

The Fouchardists entered the capital November 3, returning from the campaign against General Firmin, and had a conflict with the civil authorities. There was heavy firing during the night of the 3d, when seven persons were killed and many wounded. The disorders continued during yesterday, another conflict resulting in several casualties.

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

—Seven cases of typhoid fever, three of scarlet fever and ten of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

—Fire destroyed two trunks and some clothing in the Kimmel store at No. 520 Wylie avenue at 7 o'clock last evening. An alarm was sent in from box 84.

—William Nash, an employe of Robert McKenzie, proprietor of a special delivery business at No. 439 Seventh street, Pittsburgh, was sent to jail by Alderman Anderson on a charge of embezzlement.

—An "Echo meeting" of the recent missionary convention at Cleveland will be held this (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock in the Fourth Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny. The Rev. William Youngson of Crafton will preside.

—Annie Duff of No. 22 Sandusky street, Allegheny, was arrested in an Allegheny department store yesterday by Detective Lon Kinstein and locked up. It could not be learned why she was arrested. There is no charge against her on the Central station blotter.

—There were 139 deaths in the city last week, the principal causes being typhoid fever 12, smallpox 6, diphtheria 5, pneumonia 17, consumption 15 and violence 11. During the week there were reported 16 cases of smallpox, 34 of typhoid fever, 16 of scarlet fever and 28 of diphtheria.

—A house owned by Hugh O'Connell, in Montgomery, Beltzhoover, Thirty-fourth and Sarah streets, was destroyed by fire last night. Owing to its remote situation on the hillside, the house could not be reached by the fire department. O'Connell's loss on the building is $7,000. John O'Neil, the tenant, lost $500 worth of furniture. There was no insurance.

—George Kornish, a Pole, residing in Sixteenth street, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer A. J. Shultz and locked up in the Twelfth ward station as a suspicious person. No. 7 police station as a suspicious person. No. 7 police station as a suspicious person. He was charged with an assault on another Pole, John Slavmade the same evening and committed to jail in lieu of bail. The results of Slavinski's injuries are to await the outcome of his wife's injuries.

WASH.-JEFF. TEAM AT WORK AGAIN

The Cripples Are Once More in Shape for Hard Struggles on the Gridiron.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 5.—The Washington and Jefferson football players had practice this afternoon for the first time for a week. The rest was an enforced one on account of the number of injuries, but it has done the men good, as they all look in better shape, and the cripples are almost as good as new. Capt. Hayes is back and ready to play his position. His injured knee has improved to such an extent that he can walk now without limping, and Heimberger, Hayes' team mate at tackle, has also doctored a lame leg that has been troubling him since the season opened until it is as good as ever. Loucks, center, is back and in good health. His indisposition is thought to have been the result of over training.

There are but three days in which to prepare for the game with Cornell at Ithaca next Saturday, and the men went through two hours' hard training this afternoon that proved conclusively that they are in good condition. The practice was full of ginger and the 'varsity gave the scrubs a bad half hour. More attention is being given to the backs. Guard Murphy playing at fullback, and good results are expected. Murphy plays much after the style of Bill Inglis, the famous W. & J. player, fast and active and with all probably the strongest man on the team, and the heaviest, and much is looked for from him.

The question as to who is going in at guard in his place is yet unanswered. Gibson was played in his place today, but he is evidently not permanently in that position, for he is too light, although active and aggressive and has gone in there in a pinch. It is believed that the coach has something up his sleeve that he is not willing to make known. The fans here are hoping for the best at Ithaca Saturday, and expect the team to do much better than against Princeton.

BASKETBALL WILL BOOM.

The Junior League Teams Getting Ready for Busy Season.

Owing to a press of business Manager Roth of the Manchester team has turned the correspondence in that league over to Mr. Graham, manager of the Manchester Juniors. The managers of all first-class teams will please take note of this fact and in the future, when writing for games with the Manchester team, address S. W. Graham, No. 1305 Jonella street, Allegheny. Any 16-year-old teams desiring games with the Juniors will address their letters to Graham at once. The Juniors would like to hear from some good team for Monday, the 17th.

The Manchester team will appear on the floor next Saturday in new uniforms of red and black. The jersey will be black with a three inch orange band. Above and below this will be an inch of black and on either side of the three bands will be a stripe of orange. The stockings will be similar to the jerseys, having the three-inch orange bar and the one-inch bars of black and orange alternately. Black pants, red sweaters and white slippers will complete the outfit and will make as pretty a uniform as any that will be seen in a basketball floor this winter.

The Juniors have begun practice in the gymnasium and that there are not enough basketballs to keep this, heretofore, active organization going.

South Side will probably surprise some of the interclub teams when it meets them this winter, especially on the South Side floor. Manchester has secured Louis Hay, formerly of the Tiger A. C., and the Carnegie Steel teams to play forward. Skillinger, Koch and Hay will make a trio of forwards that will be hard to beat.

The Windsor team is not talking much at present, but they will be there with the goods this winter.

The latest surprise A. C. have their new uniforms and will wear them in their game with the Manchester Juniors next Monday. Their colors are orange and blue and these colors are combined so as to make a very neat and pleasing appearance.

There will be two changes in the Manchester Turner ball this season, viz: the stage will be removed and a small one which can easily be replaced by 12-inch ones, the kind used in the Interstate and National leagues. This latter improvement will tend to make the game more scientific and interesting.

The Sterling A. C. has won several games already.

There will be lots doing when the Sterling A. C. and the Manchester Juniors come together.

The State college team will take a trip through this part of the state during the Christmas holidays and will likely play several teams of this locality.

If the A. A. U. rules and the national rules were put together and the best rules of each selected, a very scientific and interesting game would result.

Enterprise A. C. basketball team would like to hear from all 15 and 18-year-old teams with ball. The South Side Y. M. C. A., Homestead High school and Sterling Reserves will play Enterprise will play the Manchester Juniors on Monday, the 10th. Address all games to Ernest Steup, No. 1401 Franklin street, Allegheny.

Kills Woman, Wounded His Sister.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., Nov. 5.—In a drunken row at Saranac Lake last night, John Mabbett shot and killed a woman named Bonette, fatally wounded his sister, Miss Mooney, and shot John McLellan through the lungs. McLellan will recover. Mooney was arrested and Charles Merrill was taken into custody as an accomplice.

Four Held for Murder.

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 5.—Alderman Ramey today held William and Blaine Dodson, Mrs. Lizzie Shambaugh and Mrs. Rachel Erode for court without bail to answer for the murder of Ambrose Geil, the 15-year-old lad who was shot while watching a cake walk through the windows of Mrs. Brode's home.

WAS GOOD DAY FOR LONG SHOTS

Five of Them Turned Out Winners at Aqueduct Track.

BOOKS HIT HARD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Futurita was the only favorite to win at Aqueduct today. The other five events going to long shots. W. R. Condon won the Bellerose stakes, the feature of the card, by a drive from Lyman Hay, Right and True was third. W. R. VAN SANT OUTWITS TWO GREAT MAGNATES

Hill and Morgan Too Late Ordering Campaign Train. Contract Canceled.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PAUL, MINN., Nov. 5.—The fact became known today that James J. Hill and J. P. Morgan were discomfited by Gov. Van Sant last week in a way that they will long remember. It all came about as a result of the vigor with which the governor pushed his campaign.

Gov. Van Sant was preparing to close his work in the northern part of the state by a trip in a special train over the Duluth & Iron Range railroad. To carry out the plan his managers went to the officials of the railroad, made the customary arrangements for the train, got aboard and went out gunning for votes.

They simply availed themselves of the rights of the public to hire a train from a common carrier, but Mr. Hill got word that Van Sant was going in a special train over a railroad in which he was indirectly and Mr. Morgan very directly interested. The thought was astounding to the president of the Northern Securities Company, who got a wire to New York and requested J. P. Morgan that the Iron Range railroad be ordered to cancel at once its contract with Van Sant.

This appeal to "community of interests" did not fail. A message came through from Wall street over a smoking wire: "Cancel contract for Van Sant train immediately;" but for once both magnates proved too slow. The special train was already on its way, and Van Sant had made his first speech from the rear platform upon the evils of autocratic dictation by selfish financiers.

Yet Morgan's order could not be wholly ignored. A reply something like this, it is said, was sent back to Wall street:

"Deeply regret impossibility of complying with your request. Contract already signed, money paid in advance and train on its way north when your message was received."

Slashed His Wife With Razor.

Michael Patko a Slav, living at Oakhill, near East Pittsburgh, yesterday afternoon made a murderous assault on his wife at their home. During a family quarrel, it is alleged, he slashed her across the back with a razor causing probably fatal injuries. He is being held at East Pittsburgh to await the result of his wife's injuries.

CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW.

Central Park Exhibition in New York to Continue a Month.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—More than 150 varieties of chrysanthemums will be shown at the annual flower show, which will open tomorrow in the conservatory in Central park. Many varieties of orchids and foliage plants, as well as chrysanthemums, will be exhibited.

The show will continue for a month.

Election Result Pleases London.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—In banking and commercial circles today gratification was expressed at the election results in the United States. Prices on the stock exchange opened strong; Americans being $1 above parity, but subsequently they eased. There was considerable buying for New York account.

Yacht Sinks, Three Drown.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Henry Van Wert of Brooklyn reported today that a naphtha launch, the Ethel, capsized in the Rockaway inlet yesterday and that the three men and a boy aboard were drowned.

Annual Meeting of Big Corporation Held Yesterday—Reports Made Showing Past Year Was Very Successful One.

The annual meeting and election of directors of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company was held yesterday. Today officers will be elected and at the regular monthly meeting next Monday afternoon, a dividend will be announced. The directors chosen are Leopold Vilsack, M. E. Wainwright, P. W. Mueller, E. J. Frauenheim, Fred Gwinner, T. F. Straub, Joseph A. O'Neill, Marcus Aaron and William Ruske. There was only one member of the advisory committee to be elected, and S. J. Wainwright was chosen. The total number of shares voted was 195,611, out of a total of 241,247.

The annual report of President Mueller shows the company to be in excellent condition, and that the past year was profitable. President Mueller says: "Pursuing the settled policy of this corporation, we have kept all our properties in the highest state of excellence. We have maintained the standard of our product to the highest degree, and have made improvements wherever it was deemed necessary or advisable."

Since the last annual report the company has erected a large storage house, with a capacity of 200,000 barrels output, at the Iron City plant, at a cost of about $200,000. Extensive improvements were also made at the Keystone, and also at the Eberhardt & Ober plants. The total sales of the year were 1,021,708 barrels, an increase of 21,499 barrels over the previous year.

The net earnings were $2,123,025 58, out of which there was deducted for depreciation, etc., $500,000. After paying interest on the outstanding bonds and dividends on the preferred and common stocks, aggregating $1,044,634 11, there remained to be added to the surplus $578,380 40, making the surplus now $1,797,284 38.

During the year the board of directors set apart $50,000 per annum as a sinking fund to meet the payment of the outstanding bonds of the company at maturity.

The following shows the earnings for the year ended October 25, 1902:

By credit balance, October 26, 1901	$1,218,894 02
By gross earnings during year	6,766,538 53

HINCHCLIFFE DID NOT LIKE PROSPECT

Refused Appointment as Detective Because of Citizens Victory—William Reilly Accepts It.

Because of the complete victory of the Citizens ticket, Hugh Hinchcliffe, who was appointed from the police force to the detective bureau, decided yesterday morning not to accept that position and to continue in the ranks as a police officer. His reason for this was when the Citizens get into power next April there is a possibility of his remaining in the police ranks, whereas, if he were on the detective force he would be removed immediately. William A. Reilly, a policeman, was appointed in his place.

Officer Reilly has been on the force for 8 years, and is regarded as a capable and efficient officer. Detectives Frank Muhlland, Charles Aymes and Harry Merritt, who were appointed on the detective force by Superintendent Dommel on the recommendation of Superintendent McAleese, were sworn into office yesterday morning and entered upon their duties.

The detectives who were dismissed looked for the recorder yesterday to demand a hearing on the charges of inefficiency made by Superintendent Dommel. They were unable to find the recorder. A delegation of friends of Detective Harry Jones, who was deposed, went to the recorder yesterday morning.

BRADLEY A SQUATTER.

Asbury Park Council Denies His Rights to Boardwalk and Other Beach Property There.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—James A. Bradley, the "founder," must fight in the courts for his boardwalk and beautiful parks in Asbury Park. Eminent lawyers agree that Mr. Bradley is a squatter on the public domain; that he does not own the boardwalk and parks, and that all this valuable property, footing up into the millions, was practically pre-empted and seized without a shadow of a legal right.

The Asbury Park common council tonight passed unanimously a resolution directing its special beach committee to demand from Mr. Bradley immediate and peaceable possession of the entire beach front and boardwalk, the public parks and lakes and all other property in the city that appears on the original maps of Asbury Park to have been dedicated to the public use. If Mr. Bradley refuses suit for ejectment will be brought.

R. W. GOELET ARRESTED.

Drove His Auto Too Fast to Suit a Bicycle Policeman.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Robert W. Goelet, a member of the well-known family of this city, was arrested today at One Hundredth street and Central park west by a bicycle policeman, who charged that the prisoner had run his automobile at a high rate of speed for a mile along the thoroughfare.

Magistrate Hogan held Goelet for trial in $100 bail. Thaddeus Seth, a real estate broker, signed the bond.

Congestion in Codfish.

JOHNS, N. F., Nov. 5.—Owing to the congested condition of the dried fish market in Europe and Brazil, the price of codfish has dropped from 15 to 9 cent in the local market, and some kinds of codfish are virtually unsaleable.

Woman Aeronaut Killed.

GALESBURG, Ill., Nov. 5.—Dora Morrison, experienced aeronaut of Galesburg, made a balloon here and was instantly killed. She ascended 2,000 feet, dangling her arms as she started, being unable to get herself up to the trapeze bar.

STAGE COACH ROLLS DOWN A MOUNTAIN.

OURAY, COL., Nov. 5.—The stage coach which runs between this place and Red Mountain met with an accident near here on one of the steepest grades of the road, and, with the 14 passengers, rolled down the mountain side 300 feet. One of the horses was killed and the coach rolled over several times in its descent. All the passengers were injured, but none fatally.

LEMARE TO BE HERE FOR FOUNDER'S DAY

City Organist Arrived on the Teutonic Yesterday—This Afternoon's Program.

Arrangements for the annual Founder's Day exercises at the Pittsburgh Carnegie Institute were completed yesterday, after Secretary Samuel Harden Church of the board of trustees received a telegram from Organist Edwin H. Lemare, stating that he had arrived in New York early yesterday morning, and would arrive in Pittsburgh this morning, shortly after 7 o'clock. Mr. Lemare arrived on the Teutonic. The program was held back until it was known definitely that Mr. Lemare was to be present to take part in the exercises.

It was announced yesterday by Secretary Church that the Carnegie Institute would be closed today until after the Founder's Day exercises. Following the inspection a general invitation will be extended to all those present to accompany the trustees in an inspection of the various departments of the institute. The program for this afternoon is an interesting one. It is as follows:

Organ solo	Edwin H. Lemare
Invocation	Rev. William J. Russell
Address	"Wherein Lies Its Great Strength?" Hon. Whitelaw Reid.
Annual report	"The Progress of the Year" Secretary S. H. Church.
Address	"Literature as an Art for Service" Richard Watson Gilder.
Address	"A Word at Parting" Joseph Jefferson.
Organ solo	Edwin H. Lemare

THE BOTTLE MAKERS SUSPECT A PURPOSE

Declare Their Ironclad Price Compact Cannot Be Upset by Reports of Cutting.

Efforts are being made to upset the ironclad price agreement which the flint bottle manufacturers recently entered by the usual custom of circulating reports that parties to the agreement have already started to cut the prices. Such a report was printed in a morning paper yesterday and was promptly denied by several of the manufacturers in interest.

"There is nothing that is as likely to shake the stability of the agreement as just such reports as this," said one of them. "I believe, however, that conditions are now such that the agreement will hold of itself, regardless of such malicious reports. There is business for all, and within this week and since the time when cut prices are reported to have been made we have turned away business offered at lower than the minimum prices of the agreement, only to find it return to us after futile efforts to place it elsewhere at reductions."

Other manufacturers asserted that the high prices of coal, the waning gas supply in the Indiana gas belt and increased labor and raw material prices make it imperative to maintain the advanced prices. It was stated that while probably none of the manufacturers would heed the report of cutting, it would tend to complicate dealings with jobbers who in the past are credited with having upset several agreements by reporting to one concern that another is making lower prices. About 90 per cent of the flint bottle production is represented in the new agreement.

FROM CROSSED WIRES.

Blaze in Liberty Avenue Hardware Store Caused a Loss of $3,000.

The friction of two electric light wires in the store of the J. C. Lindsay Hardware Company, No. 719-721 Liberty avenue, about 7:45 o'clock last night caused a small fire in the third story of the building. The loss, $3,000, is covered by insurance.

Henry Diehl, boss of the first floor, turned in an alarm. The firemen had little work to do, as the blaze had been extinguished before they arrived.

H. A. Bibler, treasurer of the J. C. Lindsay Company, said that the firm's loss by fire would be small, but the great amount of water used to put out the blaze leaked through all floors and the hardware was badly damaged.

MRS. CAMPBELL RE-ELECTED.

United Presbyterian Women's Association Holds Annual Meeting.

The 24th annual meeting of the United Presbyterian Women's association was held yesterday in the Tenth church, Allegheny. The work of the association is to care for three charitable institutions, the Orphans' home, the Memorial hospital and the Home for Aged People in Wilkinsburg. Mrs. Helen C. Campbell presided and was re-elected president.

The general report showed that during the year the work of the association has been carried on with great success. The income for the support of the institutions has been up to average. Mrs. John D. D. Frazer reported on the Home for Aged People.

Held Up by Negroes.

Two unknown negroes yesterday morning held up and robbed Henry Whitney, an employe of the American Steel and Wire Company, in Neville island, of a diamond stud, valued at $125, $18 in money and a gold watch, while on his way to work. Owing to the heavy fog Whitney, who carried a revolver, did not see the men until he was commanded to throw up his hands.

Sir Albert Rollit Arrives.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Sir Albert K. Rollit, member of parliament, arrived today on the Teutonic to take part in the celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the chamber of commerce. After attending the celebration he will go to Canada.

BOLD ATTEMPT TO SWINDLE BANK

Plot to Cash Bogus Check for $6,500 Was Cleverly Laid.

ALMOST SUCCESSFUL

Crook Took Name of Parkersburg Business Man and Had Telegrams Sent Authorizing Payment—Officials Too Suspicious.

An expert bank swindler is at work in Pittsburgh. An attempt made on Monday to defraud the Republic National bank of No. 241 Fourth avenue, out of $6,500 by means of a forged check, became known yesterday. While the attempt was unsuccessful, the detective bureau has obtained a good description of the swindler and a determined effort is being made to catch him.

The crook is operating in Pittsburgh under the name of D. M. Miller, who is a prominent business man of Parkersburg. His scheme is to make a deposit in a bank, draw several checks on it, then make other deposits and finally draw out all he has on deposit and attempt to have a forged check cashed.

About two weeks ago the swindler stopped at one of Pittsburgh's leading hotels and was dressed in the height of fashion. The fellow is described as rather tall, of medium build, with black hair and mustache. His eyes are sharp, black and piercing.

When Scheme Leaked Out.

Shortly after his arrival, the swindler appeared at the Republic National bank and said he wished to open an account. Teller J. H. Hiller asked the man for references, as is customary, and he replied that he did not need any references, as he expected to do a strictly cash business.

He opened his account by making a deposit of $1,500 and later in the week issued a check for a small amount, which the bank paid. Then the swindler made another deposit of about $1,000, making his balance $2,400. He went to the bank last Friday and drew the $2,400.

On Monday the swindler returned and wanted to have a check for $6,500 cashed. It was drawn on the Citizens National bank of Parkersburg, and was signed "D. H. Miller." The check was not certified and Teller Hiller refused to cash it. Later in the morning the crook appeared at the bank and stated that he wished to use the money in paying for some property that day and requested again that the check be cashed. Teller Hiller referred the check to President Charles Holmes, who also refused to allow payment on it.

Telegram Was Answered.

Then it was the proposition of the teller that the Citizens bank of Parkersburg be asked by telegraph if the check was good and the swindler paid 41 cents to send the message. In about two hours the Republic National bank received an answer from the Citizens National bank of Parkersburg as follows: "D. M. Miller's check for $6,500 is good."

Then the officials of the bank became more suspicious than ever, because D. M. Miller, although so prominent, did not have any means of identification. A hasty consultation was held between Teller Hiller, President Holmes and Cashier J. H. Rodgers, and when the swindler returned for his money he was told that the Citizens National bank would have to certify to the check before it could be paid.

The swindler agreed to send another telegram to the bank and left the forged check with Teller Hiller. It then appears that the swindler telegraphed Mr. Miller in Parkersburg to come to Pittsburgh at once on an important timber deal. Mr. Miller started for Pittsburgh and several hours after his departure his clerk received a message to have the Republic National bank here guarantee payment of a check for $6,500. Mr. Miller's clerk turned the message over to the cashier of the Citizens National bank and it was not answered.

Check Was Forgery.

Early yesterday morning the Citizens National bank called up President Holmes of the Republic National bank and informed him that if he had a check of D. M. Miller for $6,500 it was a forgery and would not be paid. The check is still at the Republic National bank and remains unpaid as the swindler never appeared at the institution again after the second telegram had been sent.

The attempted swindle was talked of in nearly every bank in Fourth avenue yesterday afternoon and all the financial institutions in Pittsburgh have been warned to be on the lookout for the forger.

It is believed the fellow is well acquainted in Pittsburgh and in his attempt to victimize the Fourth avenue financial institution had an accomplice in Pittsburgh and one in Parkersburg. The Republic National bank has been in existence only seven months. On this account it is supposed the swindler presumed he could readily get an advantage and be successful in his scheme to defraud the institution.

Temperance Meeting to Resume.

The gospel temperance meetings under the auspices of the National Reform Conference Movement, in Temperance hall, which were suspended for the summer, will be resumed next Sunday at 2:30 o'clock. The Sheraden branch of the W. C. T. U. met yesterday and elected officers for the year. The Sheraden Prohibition union will meet on Thursday evening at headquarters, elect officers and arrange for active work for the borough ticket, which it will put up at the spring election.

If there's a hint of Catarrh Taint apply Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder without delay. It will save you suffering, heal you quickly whether you have been a slave one month or fifty years. It relieves cold in the head and catarrhal headaches in ten minutes. The Hon. David Mills, Minister of Justice for the Dominion of Canada, endorses it.—2.

BIG WAREHOUSE AT SHADYSIDE

Bindley Hardware Co. Will Build on Line of P. R. R. Improvements.

FLOOR SPACE, 90,000 FEET

Follansbee Bros. Co. Yesterday Opened Another Great Metal Warehouse at Foot of Third Avenue—Building Mills.

The Bindley Hardware Company will erect, just west of the Shadyside station, on a tract of one and a half acres recently purchased, one of the largest and most substantial warehouses of the two cities. The site is in the block at the point where the Pittsburgh railroad main line intersects Amberson avenue. Decision to locate the warehouse there is in part the outcome of the purpose of the Pittsburgh railroad to improve its terminals in the East End and to erect the Brilliant cut-off, which will be the link of a new belt line. The new East Liberty station of the Pennsylvania railroad will be erected a little east of the present Roup station, nearby, and this entire district is the proposed scene of a vast work of improvement.

The Bindley company warehouse will be a means of concentrating under a single roof all of the business which the company now transacts from four or five scattered warehouses. It will be used for all the out-of-town business of the company, while the central building, on Seventh avenue, will continue to serve the local business.

Of Strongest Construction.

The new structure will be of the heaviest fireproof construction of steel frame and heavy walls of selected brick. It will be of four stories and have a floor space of 90,000 feet. Architect Charles Bickel has been engaged to draw the plans.

On both sides of the warehouse, which will be of imposing and at the same time extremely strong construction, a siding from the Pennsylvania railroad will be put in, one for out-bound and the other for in-bound freight. The structure will be of such strength that on any of its floors stores of iron and steel material may be packed in from floor to ceiling.

For the construction of this building the expenditure will be about $200,000, while the site cost an additional $75,000. Plans will be ready in a short time, and limited term contracts placed for speedy erection.

In establishing this new warehouse, which will provide for the Bindley company taking up a more extensive carload trade, it will enter as extensive jobbers in merchant pipe, iron and steel bars, sheets, angles and other of the heavier lines not now handled.

Follansbees Make Improvements.

The Follansbee Bros.' Company yesterday formally opened its new tin plate, sheet and metal warehouse building on the block at the foot of Second and Third avenues. This structure is one of the best of the kind in the country. It is 100x150 feet and a switch from the Duquesne branch line of the Pennsylvania railroad enters the building. The second and third floors of the building will each hold 50,000 bundles of sheets of 150 pounds each, being erected to sustain 1,000 pounds to the square foot. Strength of the first floor is about double that, and the structure is the strongest of the kind now standing in Pittsburgh. The company has moved its offices there from the old building in Second avenue.

A new sheet and tin plate plant which is being erected for the Follansbee company at Mahan station on the Panhandle road in the northern spur of West Virginia, is well along in construction, foundations being up and the superstructure under way. The plant will have four sheet and four tin plate mills. It is expected to be ready for operation by next summer.

LOCAL GROCERS MAY COMBINE

Many Seem Willing to Enter the Pittsburgh Wholesale Grocery Company.

SECRET MEETING HELD

About 35 Members of Prominent Grocery Firms Convened at the Hotel Henry — Philadelphia Capital Interested.

Many of the most prominent wholesale grocery firms of Pittsburgh will probably be merged into a combination at a special meeting of the wholesale grocers of the city to be held at the Hotel Henry at 11 o'clock this morning.

A secret meeting to discuss plans for the new organization was held in the Henry last night, attended by about 35 members of wholesale grocery firms in Pittsburgh. The meeting was called by C. L. Minshall of Philadelphia, president of the Merchants' Wholesale Grocery Company.

Associated with President Minshall were J. B. Oblinger, C. W. Shoemaker and E. S. Hildreth, other members of the same corporation who came to Pittsburgh to organize an affiliated concern. The local organization, if completed today, will be known as the Pittsburgh Wholesale Grocery Company.

The capital stock has not yet been determined upon, but will be sufficient to cover the business of all firms that may be absorbed.

Looking for a Site.

President Minshall and the other members of the Merchants' Wholesale Grocery Company of Philadelphia have been in Pittsburgh for several days working up the scheme of consolidation locally, and the entire day yesterday was spent in looking for a site for a new building here. None suitable, that could be secured, was found, and more attention will probably be given the site proposition today.

At last night's meeting the proposed plans for the new organization were laid before the Pittsburgh men, presented by President Minshall, and at the end of his address he and his other representatives retired.

A special committee was then appointed by those in attendance at the meeting, and a chairman named. At the conclusion of the meeting none of the grocers were willing to talk of the plans. President Minshall said:

Promoter Is Confident.

"The new organization, which we propose to form here, is in connection with our company in Philadelphia. We have an entirely different method of doing business from the regular wholesale grocers, and believe our methods are the most correct. We have been looking for a site here.

"We are bound to come into Pittsburgh, and Philadelphia capital will be linked with that of the Iron City. I cannot give you any details of tonight's meeting, as the plans, if published, would probably block several of our schemes.

"Our organization, however, will be completed this morning and then there will be nothing secret about the affair. Our new branch here is to be known as the Pittsburgh Wholesale Grocery Company, and we expect to organize others in nearly every large city in the United States."

LIBRARY DEDICATION.

Carnegie's Gift to Washington to Throw Open Its Doors on December 16.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 5.—The Washington public library building, the donation of Andrew Carnegie, will be formally opened Tuesday, December 16, with simple exercises. This was determined at a meeting this morning of subcommittees appointed by the building commission and the library trustees to make the arrangements. It was also determined that Andrew Carnegie should be invited to make an address, and it is believed Mr. Carnegie will do so. He is expected to return to New York by the first of December.

As the capacity of the library building is not large, the invitations will have to be limited to official and other representative persons. The president, the cabinet, congress, the supreme court, the district government, the principal army and navy officers, the librarian of congress, representatives of the board of trade and the Business Men's association, and of the colleges and universities will be among those invited.

THE CUBAN CHILDREN.

Minister Quesada Says Those Detained at Ellis Island Have a Right to Come.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 5.—Senor Quesada, Cuban minister, has received information regarding the Cuban children who recently arrived at New York destined for a school at Point Loma, Cal., and who were detained by the immigration officials.

The departure of the children was properly authorized by their parents and tutors, the message says. The minister also has received cable dispatches from the civil governor, the senator and newspapers of Santiago province protesting against interference with the children proceeding to their destination.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—A rehearing of the case of the 11 Cuban children en route to Point Loma, Cal., held for especial inquiry, began today. A telegram from the mayor of Santiago, Cuba, was read, demanding that the children be released. The case was adjourned until Friday.

Nuptial Event at Canonsburg.

CANONSBURG, PA., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The marriage of Miss Alice May McKown to Joseph Harry Caldwell was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McKown, this evening, the Rev. C. D. Fulton officiating. Only the immediate friends were present. The couple are prominent in local society circles. They will reside in Canonsburg upon their return from an eastern wedding tour.

Theater Party at the Alvin.

Miss Martha Dalzell gives a theater party this evening at the Alvin, her guests including a few out-of-town girls and men, together with some of the younger people in Allegheny. It will be followed by supper.

Cockrell's Son Married.

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., Nov. 5.—Francis M. Cockrell, Jr., son of United States Senator Cockrell of Missouri, and Miss Milley Pope of this city were married tonight. They left at midnight to reside in New Orleans.

SOCIETY

ANNOUNCEMENT is made this morning of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth Chambers, the eldest daughter of James A. Chambers of Ridge avenue, Allegheny, and William Nimick Murray. Although the engagement has been rumored for some time, the formal announcement was postponed until Mr. Chambers and his family came up to their city home after spending the summer in Leetsdale. The Chambers house was opened yesterday and the formal announcement is being made this morning. Miss Chambers, who is one of the coterie of Farmington girls on the North Side, is a granddaughter of Mrs. Alexander A. Chambers of Shadyside, and was introduced into society a few seasons ago by her grandmother, a season or two later Miss Chambers introduced her younger sister) Miss Marion Chambers, a formidable task for a young girl to undertake, but successfully accomplished. Miss Chambers is a member of the Pittsburgh club set and of the Allegheny Country club. She has traveled a good deal in this country and abroad; and since the death of her mother several years ago has presided over the Chambers home with grace and tact. Mr. Murray is a member of the Pittsburgh club and of the Allegheny Country club. He was the first to introduce the automobile into Pittsburgh, puts up a good game of golf, and is a member of one of the old families in Pittsburgh. Though no date is set for the wedding it will take place in the late winter.

Cards in the East End.

Mrs. Edward J. Frauenheim gave a very handsome series of entertainments yesterday afternoon and evening at her home in Rebecca street, East End. During the afternoon she entertained at euchre and her guests surrounded 24 tables. The house was handsomely decorated in yellow and white, save in the parlors, where were brilliant American Beauty roses with palms and spreading ferns. Chrysanthemums, yellow and white, appeared throughout the large hall, the library and dining room. A number of beautiful prizes rewarded the efforts of the players and were presented at the close of the games. Refreshments were daintily served at the tables. Assisting the hostess during the afternoon were the Misses Villasick, Miss Frauenheim, Mrs. August Frauenheim, Mrs. Joseph O'Neil and Mrs. J. J. O'Reilly. Dinner followed the euchre, the guests at dinner being the assistants of the afternoon and an equal number of gentlemen. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Frauenheim gave a general reception which was a large and elaborate affair. Music added to the charm of the series of entertainments.

Laughlin—Miller.

The home of Joseph M. Laughlin at Indiana, Pa., was yesterday the scene of a pretty though simple wedding, in which his daughter, Miss Olive S. Laughlin, was united in marriage to David M. Miller of Glenshaw. The ceremony was strictly private, only the immediate families being present. The Rev. S. W. Crawford of the First Presbyterian church officiated, and the ceremony, which occurred at 1:30, was followed by a wedding dinner. The bride and groom left for a few hours later for an eastern and southern trip and will be gone three weeks, after which they will be home at No. 304 Pacific avenue, East End. The bride is well known in Pittsburgh, where she has frequently visited, and is a sister of Drs. John H. and Edward Laughlin of the East End. The groom is a prominent young attorney of Glenshaw and is now assistant United States district attorney for this district. Among the relatives present were Drs. E. J. and J. P. Laughlin and Harry J. Laughlin of the East End, Misses Callie, Mamie, Rachel and Sadie Miller of Glenshaw, sisters of the groom, and Henry Miller, a brother.

Entertainment Preceded Wedding.

AKRON, O., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The First Congregational church of this city was the scene today of two brilliant weddings. The first at 4 o'clock, united Miss Minnietta Heneberber, a well-known musician, and Spillman Riggs, the lecturer and Lyceum bureau manager of Columbus. The ceremony was preceded by a concert by Bresee's Marine band of Chicago, for one hour, and the recitation of a poem of seven stanzas, written and delivered by Fred Emerson Brooks, the poet-humorist of New York. The concert was enjoyed by the invited guests, and immediately following it was the ceremony. This was performed by the Rev. S. B. Hershey of Rochester, N. Y., uncle of the bride, assisted by the Rev. H. F. Macaveal, pastor of the First Congregational church.

At 8 o'clock this evening the Rev. Howard S. Macaveal united in marriage Miss Gertrude, daughter of Frank H. Mason, and Howard E. Raymond, a young business man of Akron. Four hundred invitations were issued. A reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Raymond at the Mason home after the ceremony.

Williams—Shallenberger.

A quiet little wedding on Saturday at Elderton, Pa., was that of Miss Mary Alma Williams, daughter of the Rev. George A. Williams, to the Rev. Thomas G. Shallenberger of Millerstown, Pa. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, and the couple were attended by Miss Edith Mowdell of Terentum, Pa., and Howard A. Williams, a brother of the bride. The Rev. Mr. Shallenberger is a member of the Pittsburgh conference and is stationed at the Methodist Episcopal church, Millerstown.

Advanced Pupils Recital.

Simeon Bissell, director of the Curry Conservatory of Music, is arranging the program for the local contest of advanced pupils, to be held on Friday evening, November 7, in Curry college hall. A gold medal will be awarded the most successful student.

Entertained for a Bride.

Miss Helen Lewis of Black street, East End, entertained at cards yesterday afternoon, the guest of honor being Mrs. Wilbur Shenk, who was Miss Rebecca Chaffant, before her marriage a few weeks ago to Wilbur Shenk. It was quite a large card party and the game was six-hand euchre with 11 tables scattered throughout the parlors and adjoining apartments. The rooms were decorated prettily in yellow and white, the flowers being principally large chrysanthemums. There were a number of handsome prizes.

Shields—Fickeisen.

A large wedding took place last evening in the First Presbyterian church, Wood street, the bride being Miss Ida May Shields of "Hazel Knoll," Hazelwood, and the bridegroom Irwin Marquis Fickeisen. The hour was 7:30 o'clock and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. V. Wilson, pastor of the Ames Methodist Episcopal church, Hazelwood. The church was decorated in green and white. Garlands of smilax hung from the galleries, palms and ferns were massed upon the pulpit platform and large white chrysanthemums were the only flowers used. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lillian Shields, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Eugene Vallhant, Miss Virginia Beall of Wellsburg, W. Va.; Miss Louise Elkins, Miss Jeannette Riggs, Miss May Llewellyn, Miss Alice Thomas and Miss Ray Thomas. Howard Fickeisen was his brother's best man and the ushers included Eugene Vallhant, J. Boyd McGown, Harry Knox, Harry Curll, Whitcomb Ballard and William Bayard of Cambridge Springs. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white mousseline de soie over white silk en traine. Her veil of tulle was worn court fashion, not falling over the face, and her bouquet consisted of white bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maids were gowned in sheer white trimmed with lace and with short veils falling almost to the waist. They carried white chrysanthemums tied with pale green chiffon. After the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at "Hazel Knoll." Mr. and Mrs. Fickeisen went away for an extended trip. They will be at home after January 15 in Bond street, East End.

Dinner for Eastern Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis King Wainwright of Philadelphia, who came on for the wedding of Miss Alice Painter and Burrows Sloan in Trinity church, and are remaining in the city as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. McLean, were the guests of honor at a dinner given last evening by Mrs. William L. Abbott in Morewood avenue, Shadyside. It was a small and informal dinner and was followed by a theater party at the Alvin to see Joseph Jefferson.

Two Card Parties.

There are two very pretty card parties dated for today in the Sewickley valley, Miss Constance Allen has issued invitations for a large card party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen, in Shields, this afternoon. Mrs. Henry Bishop of Osborne will entertain at cards tonight, this being the second of a series planned in honor of Miss Myra Murdock, whose engagement to Percy Bishop was recently announced.

Wedding at Steubenville.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—William F. Steele, manager of the Brunt porcelain works, East Liverpool, O., and Miss Katherine F., daughter of James H. Bair, were married at the bride's home this evening, by the Rev. R. M. Higgins. Miss Helen McGowan was maid of honor and Fred Lawrence of East Liverpool, best man. After a four weeks' trip in the east, the couple will make their home in East Liverpool.

Sewickley Women Meet.

At the meeting of the Woman's club at the Edgeworth club house, Sewickley, yesterday afternoon, Miss Trimble, instructress at the Central Young Women's Christian association of Pittsburgh, gave a second of her series of talks on "Cookery for Children and Invalids." The department of home, of which Mrs. George McCague is chairman, had charge of the meeting.

Notes of Society.

Miss Olive Pardee of Germantown, one of the maids at the Painter-Sloan wedding, who was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Park Painter in Allegheny, returned east last evening. Nearly all of the other out-of-town people who came on for the wedding left for their homes yesterday morning.

Miss Spalding of Buffalo, N. Y., is spending a few days with Miss Elizabeth Chambers and Miss Marion Chambers at their home in Allegheny. Miss Spalding and Miss Marion Chambers were in Europe together last winter.

Women In The World.

The girl who dares to forsake her sex and step across the dead line which marks true femininity from stern masculinity is she who courts the ill-will of her sex and who has seemingly lost the charm of her womanliness. But the mannish girl has not come to stay. At any unlooked for moment she may disappear, for, be it known, she is not a real thing but a counterfeit and is as far from being genuine as the spurious differs from the solid coin.

The Mannish Type of Woman.

The mannish girl assumes and presumes. She has the asumption that all "make believes" have, and the presumption that she will hold her own, even though all else fall.

We regard the mannish girl as we would any imitation. She may be called sexless, as she fails to have the effeminate bearing of her own sweet self; and yet she is definitely stamped with her own aproval that she is a woman with well poised and advanced ideas from her necktie down to her broad, sensible boots; from her views of life down to her exact science of the game of "bridge."

The mannish girl hates a womanish man, and yet adores the power she wields over her best man friend who studies to please her without losing the reins once, but without her knowledge.

And yet the mannish woman looks at her feminine sister and wonders why she herself cannot lay claim to such sweet and charming piquancy, refusing to recognize that the lack of it lies in her dress and in her aggressiveness.

The maternal instinct rules in all women, even so in the women of "advanced" and new ideas. She craves the love of little children, although she may hide it behind a masculine air, and a braggadocio bearing that completely disarms her unsuspecting sister.

The truly alert man sees and kens. He may often succeed in tearing away the mask in which she has enveloped her womanhood and find within her all that he has sought in the woman of less bold views and has failed to discover.

The Twelfth Night is a club composed of women who are either on the stage or else connected with it. Jogging along happily in its rank and file are Viola Allen, Elizabeth Tyree, Blanche Bates, May Robson, Felicine Rosselle (the contralto), Eleanor Robson, Mrs. E. E. Kidder, Mrs. Doremus, Mrs. Henry de Mille, Miss Harriet Ford, and when one adds that the society is presided over by Alice Harcourt Fischer, it can readily be understood that this is one of the few clubs that is really worth while.

The Twelfth Night Club.

It has charming quarters at the Berkeley Lyceum in New York, and its walls are hung with autographed portraits of all the great male celebrities who have been in New York since the club came into existence, some twelve years ago.

The club room is, in point of fact, a kind of feminine "Bluebeard's chamber," and these autograph portraits are regarded by the members in something the same light as an Indian regards his bunch of scalps, for they are the trophies wrested from the victims who have run the gauntlet of a tea.

According to Twelfth Night traditions the guest of honor at each social meeting must be a man, and further, he is the only man invited. Imagine the situation from the man's point of view.

Hoffman, Carolus Duran, Coquelin, Sir Henry Irving have all passed through the ordeal, and left their effigies hanging on the walls in evidence, but in spite of the fact that all the great men of the day have had the honor it is but fair to say that this distinction is more dreaded than sought after.

There is about to be established in Washington a "diet kitchen," under the direction of a young woman. Its patrons will be largely physicians, who will send in their prescriptions for meals to be supplied, just as they furnish prescriptions for medicines to be filled by the apothecary. Doctors nowadays realize that proper food is as important for sick people as suitable medicines, but it is difficult for them to control the former satisfactorily, inasmuch as the ordinary cook is not intelligent enough to prepare it exactly as it is wanted. The diet kitchen, however, will furnish meals precisely according to prescription, preparing them in a scientific manner, adjusting with accuracy the proportions of "protein" and "carbohydrates," and delivering the food three or more times a day at the residence of the patient. Incidentally, of course, all dishes used will be thoroughly sterilized, being carried back in the wagon to the culinary establishment for a bath of five steam, to supplement the ordinary process of washing.

Lady Colebrooke is a clever woman inventor. She is well known as a sculptor, and has turned her attention to a branch of work hitherto almost exclusively confined to men—that of carpentering. She holds every week a large class of women and girls from the district around her home at Arlington, and teaches them needlework and carpentering. The latest achievement is a pillar box on a new plan, which is in use in the hall at Abington.

A couple of years ago Miss F. E. Buttulph of New York began for her own pleasure collecting bills of fare of all dates and conditions of entertainment. At the end of the first year her collection of menus numbered 5,000, and they offered such interesting data that Miss Buttulph felt that the accumulation would be better suited to be a public treasure than a private hoard. Her offer to transfer it to the Astor library was eagerly accepted and installed in comfortable headquarters in that great building. She is continuing her interesting search for rare and curious bills of fare that will tell future generations how this and preceding centuries were fed. Miss Buttulph claims the idea as original, and no one seems willing to dispute the fact any more than the other that it is bound to be rich in interest. Cap-a-pie with the bill of fare of a supper in a Baxter street basement restaurant is that of one of the latest "banquets tendered to our martyred President McKinley." The birthday bills range all the way from Lincoln to McKinley dinners and include Grant, Washington and St. Patrick among the great men honored in banquets. The collector has so systematized the arrangement that she has patriotic societies represented in one group, historical celebrations in another, and social clubs and special functions of different sorts in others.

At the old-fashioned inn and restaurants in Sweden it is customary to charge less for women than for men, on the theory that they do not eat so much. At some hotels in Sweden a man and wife are charged as one and a half persons if they occupy the same room. A husband and wife may travel as one and one-half persons by railway, and also by the post routes, furnishing their own carriage.

HAVE YOU ANY OF THESE

Symptoms of a Very Common Trouble?

There is no disease so common in the United States as Catarrh because it appears in so many forms and attacks so many different organs.

It is a common mistake to suppose that catarrh is confined to the nose and throat. Any inflammation of the mucous membrane wherever located accompanied by abnormal secretions, is catarrh, catarrh of stomach or bladder, or intestines, is nearly as common as nasal catarrh and much more serious although it is true that stomach catarrh and catarrh of other internal organs is the result of neglected nasal catarrh.

A new remedy has recently appeared which, so far as tested, seems to be remarkably effective in promptly curing catarrh, wherever located. The preparation is sold by druggists generally under name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and in addition to being very palatable and convenient, possesses extraordinary merit in many cases giving immediate relief from the coughing, hawking and constant clearing of the throat and head, those symptoms with which everyone is familiar who has ever suffered from colds in the head and throat.

Catarrh is simply a continuation of these symptoms until the trouble becomes chronic and grows gradually worse from year to year.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are composed of Hydrastin, Red Gum and similar antiseptics and catarrh specifics, from which it will be seen that no secret is made of the ingredients and also that no mineral poisons are used, as is the case with many well known catarrh medicines.

For catarrh of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes, for catarrh of stomach, intestines or bladder no preparation is so safe and gives such rapid and permanent results as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full-sized package. You can use them with assurance that you will not contract the cocaine or morphine habit as the results from this catarrh cure are apparent from the first day's use.

The Style of a "Dorothy Dodd." It's Different!

It is the American point of sensitiveness not to know how to do things as they are done by recognized authorities.

Recognized authority is another name for "Style." If a woman has style you know it at once. You examine her credentials in your first glance at her shoes. If they are not stylish, she is not.

The style of a "Dorothy Dodd" shoe is the first thing that attracts attention. It is unmistakable. The "Dorothy Dodd" is as different from an ordinary shoe as day from night.

But don't take any one's word for this! Merely try on a pair and see the difference in the appearance of your feet.

STRIKE REGION TOUR IS ENDED

Arbitrators Spend Day Among Collieries and Mines Around Mahanoy City.

THEY HAVE DAMP RIDE

Mules Stop While Car Is Directly Under Waterfall—Grimy Trip in a Wet Mine—Meet Again at Scranton, November 14.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

MAHANOY CITY, PA., Nov. 5.—The anthracite strike commission ended its tour of observation of the coal fields in the Panther Creek valley today, and the members of the party will return to their homes tomorrow to meet again at Scranton on November 14 to take the testimony of the miners. The commissioners made a complete inspection of two large collieries and a tour of the region between Mount Carmel and this city.

The commissioners first visited the Potts colliery in Columbia county, owned by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company. The breaker of this colliery is different from those seen by the commissioners at other places. From there the train proceeded through to Ashland, Girardville and Gilberton to the Maple Hill colliery of the Philadelphia & Reading company in the Mahanoy valley, a few miles from Shenandoah.

Came Out at Noon.

This is one of the best mines in the field and is equipped with all modern appliances. The bottom of the shaft is 750 feet below the surface, and during their two hours' stay in the workings the commissioners went about a mile and a half from the shaft. The whistle blew the noon hour just as the party came to the surface. At the breaker nearby the commissioners talked with the boys, whose faces were black from coal dust.

Judge Gray and Bishop Spalding seemed most interested in the lads and each gave some of them small coin.

From the Maple Hill colliery the commissioners' train was run down through Mahanoy City and Tamaqua to the Panther Creek valley. Then the arbitrators visited the No. 8 colliery of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company of Coaldale. The entrance to the mines was through a drift. About 100 feet inside the entrance the party was lowered by means of a shaft to the bottom, 850 feet down. The proved to be quite wet and every one in the party got a wetting.

Mules Proves to be Jokers.

As the members of the commission passed along the gangway on the mine cars drawn by mules they went under worked-out chutes, from which water flowed in streams. While going under one chute the mules stopped and the water fell into one of the cars, thoroughly soaking all its occupants. The commissioners in the other cars took it as a good joke on their colleagues, who were directly under the chute.

To get into the chute the commissioners had to climb a ladder and crawl over broken coal through a small opening. Their hands and faces were smeared with coal dust when they came out.

After leaving the mine a number of idle mine workers crowded around Chairman Gray of the commission and told him that they had been discriminated against by the company in the matter of getting their old places back. They said Superintendent Behner would not take them back for some reason unknown to them, and that other men had been given their positions. On the other hand, the company officials claimed that they have not enough work at this time for all the men, on account of repair work now being done in the mines. Judge Gray made no comment.

NEW DIVISION OF NARROW GAUGE LINE BETWEEN B. & O. AND B. B. & K.

The plan now under consideration to rearrange the leases of the Bradford, Bordell & Kinzua and provide for the new contract with the Baltimore & Ohio for the lease of the Pittsburgh & Western narrow guage lines, furnishes a new division of this narrow guage system.

The Bradford, Bordell & Kinzua is expected under the new arrangement to lease that part of the Baltimore & Ohio line between Kane and Mt. Jewett, while the Baltimore & Ohio will take back into its own system again the part extending from Kane to Foxburg.

The details of the new arrangement will not be complete for a month or so, and during that time the Bradford, Bordell & Kinzua will continue as at present to operate the old narrow guage line, acting in the capacity of agent for the road that owns it.

The extension of the standard guage by the Baltimore & Ohio along the present narrow guage line as far as Kane is believed to be pressed by this arrangement. Nearly two years ago the line south of Foxburg was standard guaged, and it is the general plan to keep up this work in order to render the line a more integral part of the larger system and make it a paying property.

CONTRACTS NOT YET LET.

Bids for the Little Kanawha Extensions Require Some Consideration.

President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash spent a busy day here in conference over the various interests of the road. The bids for the extensions of the Little Kanawha were opened, but, as foreCasted in yesterday's Gazette, there will be some delay in awarding the contracts. President J. T. Blair of the Little Kanawha, who is himself one of the best known railroad builders in the country, will have charge of this work.

There was another conference yesterday on the progress in reaching the Fayette and Greene county coal and coke fields. E. D. Fulton of Uniontown, who has active charge of the Wabash interests in that territory, was here for the conference. Other matters which come under the supervision of J. W. Patterson, general manager and chief engineer, and A. M. Neeper, general counsel of the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western, were likewise reviewed by the Wabash executive.

FOG BLOCKED TRAINS.

Suburban Passengers Late in Reaching the City as a Result.

The heavy fog yesterday morning caused a blockade of passenger traffic in the Union station yards. The many incoming suburban trains were all late, owing to the engineers being unable to distinguish lights and signals. One suburban train made the run from East Liberty to the city in 45 minutes. At each signal tower the trains were compelled to stop to receive orders. From 8:30 to 9:45 not one train was permitted to enter the trainshed at Union station.

As a result of the fog J. L. Alton, 25 years old, a brakeman on the Fort Wayne railroad, was badly injured owing to his inability to see the Ridge avenue bridge, and while his car passed under it he was hurled from the top of it. He was taken to his home in Sheraden.

New Men for Zanesville & Western.

The work of organizing the traffic department of the Zanesville & Western, the line which recently acquired for the Hocking Valley interests a part of the old Columbus, Sandusky & Hocking, is going forward rapidly. S. E. Clark has been appointed district passenger agent with headquarters at Zanesville, O. L. Gorham, formerly contracting freight of the Short Line, has been made agent of the Zanesville & Western at Zanesville, J. W. Patton is appointed traveling freight agent of the road, and Carl H. Fisher has been made traveling passenger agent, with headquarters in Columbus.

Good Work by D. F. Maroney.

A high compliment to the present management of the Pittsburgh, Shawmut & Northern is paid by a Pittsburgh railroad man, who recently passed over that line. The active management has been vested for about a year in D. F. Maroney, formerly general superintendent of the Kilmore & Ohio here. Mr. Maroney is president and general manager of the road. He says the roadbed has been greatly improved and the methods of handling the freight and passenger traffic altered correspondingly under the present administration.

President Loree's Busy Day

President L. F. Loree of the Baltimore & Ohio was in the city yesterday. The object of his visit was the dinner given by Francis J. Torrance in honor of the crown prince of Siam. While here a number of railroad matters were brought to Mr. Loree's attention by Gen. Supt. L. G. Haas and General Agent Robert Finney. Mr. Loree left yesterday afternoon for New York.

Railroad Notes.

F. H. Trieman, assistant general passenger agent of the Wabash at Pittsburgh, is in Columbus, O., today on business.

The time card meeting of the northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines was held yesterday. That of the southwest system will be held today. The changes will be announced. The new schedules will be effective November 30.

A heavy fog, throughout the Union station yards in particular, and all over the riverside parts of the city seriously delayed trains yesterday morning. It was not until 9 o'clock that it was impossible to distinguish the semaphore signals.

E. M. Norton, chief clerk to the general superintendent of the northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines, yesterday severed his connection with the company preparatory to taking his new position with the Santa Fe Central. He will not leave for the west for some days yet. The appointment of E. B. McConaughy, announced as secretary to the general superintendent, to succeed Mr. Norton.

ORCHESTRA PROGRAM ISSUED.

Allegheny Chinaman Voted.

About 500 North Side voters had considerable amusement in the Ninth ward, Tuesday afternoon, when Lee Yee Fong, a Chinaman, who conducts a laundry at No. 916 Preble avenue, Allegheny, went to the polls to vote. Lee, who is 63 years old, has lived in Allegheny for many years and on Tuesday cast his ballot for the Republican ticket. He was induced to vote by Maj. John Thompson, a Republican worker, who, on starting for the polling place, placed a pet coon in Lee's arms and with about 500 men and boys, with horns and cowbells, marched to the ballot box.

ARE YOU AMBITIOUS?

Coffee Makes Some People Helpless.

We inherit our temperaments. Some children are happy and bright, while others are nervous and cross. Care should be taken that the child is given proper food and drink so as not to increase natural nervousness or to bring it on; but this is often overlooked by mothers who permit their children to drink coffee without check.

The wife of a groceryman living in Siloam, Mo., says: "I was born with a nervous temperament, and this was increased by my parents giving me coffee when a child, unconscious of its bad effect on my nervous system. In time, a cup of coffee in the morning invariably soured on my stomach, and a single cup at night would make me nervous and wakeful and often cause a distressing heartburn. Last year I laid in bed all summer with nervous prostration, a complete wreck from coffee drinking. I craved a good, nourishing, hot drink and commenced to use Postum Food Coffee.

"There was a gradual improvement in my health almost from the commencement of using Postum. I could sleep well, the heartburn and nervousness disappeared, my stomach trouble stopped and now (a year later) I have gone from the sick bed into the store behind the counter day after day; from a helpless to a stirring business woman, with new life and strength, new hopes and ambition; from the pale, weak 102-pound woman to my present weight of 120 pounds. Thanks to Postum.

"We carry Postum in stock and recommend it to our customers; we love to sell it and often give a trial quantity to the faltering to induce them to use this health-giving drink." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

POLITICS DOMINATED THE STOCK MARKET

Wall Street Turned Very Bearish and Prices Closed at the Lowest of the Day--Brewing Common the Strong Local Feature.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Politics dominated the eastern stock market during the greater part of the session yesterday. The fluctuations turned almost entirely upon the varying reports as to the situation in New York and estimates as to the complexion of the next house. At the opening prices were strong and generally higher, under the stimulus of London's advances ranging from ½ to 1½ per cent. Foreign buying orders were estimated at between 10,000 and 15,000 shares, and during the first few minutes the dealings were active. By the end of the first half hour, however, all the buoyancy disappeared. Prices shaded off rapidly under the lead of St. Paul and those stocks which have recently been the objects of bullish manipulation on the part of the western clique. At the decline shorts were liberal buyers, giving the speculation a better tone. A rally was in progress, when the report was circulated that Gov. Odell's plurality had been figured down to 1,000, and there were rumors that the Democrats threatened to contest the county. This was the signal for a renewal of the selling and prices again sagged on a limited amount of business. In the early part of the afternoon Gov. Odell's plurality was estimated at a figure that no room for dispute, but only a feeble rally occurred, speculation growing quieter. In the closing half hour the industrials, which had held up comparatively well during the early part of the session, became heavy. United States Steel common sold down to 39, or within ¼ per cent of the low point of the day, while the preferred at 88⅝ recorded the lowest price of the year. The only explanation for the weakness was that a reduced majority in the national house foreshadowed an opening of the tariff question. Amalgamated Copper broke to 67 and closed at the low point, the result of the Montana election being construed as in favor of the competitors of the combination. Sugar broke to 119¾ on the announcement that all grades of refined product had been reduced 10 points. The general market closed weak at the lowest prices of the day. The sales reached 582,000 shares.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

Aside from the election returns, the market paid no attention to the news of the day, which included some very flattering railway returns. Canadian Pacific, for instance, reported an increase in gross for October of $543,000, but the stock sold off from 136½ to 133⅝. Mexican Central reported an increase for the fourth week in October of $210,000 and for the month of $538,000, but the stock gained only the merest fraction. Louisville & Nashville broke 2½ per cent to 123⅝, although the road reported an increase for the fourth week of $92,000 and for the month of $317,000. Southern Railway reported an increase of $60,000 for the fourth week and an increase of $241,000 for the month, but the stock followed the general declining tendency. Missouri Pacific dropped 2 per cent, although the decrease in gross earnings for October was only $35,000. Of all the return made during the day the worst was the decrease for October of $267,000 by Chesapeake & Ohio, but the net decline in this stock was only 1¼ per cent. Pennsylvania, which made a good report for September, sold off 2 per cent and closed at the lowest.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

Call loans ruled nominally unchanged at 5 to 5½ per cent, closing at 4 to 5 per cent, the last loan being at 5 per cent. Sterling exchange was steady and the offerings of commercial bills fairly large, but as there is no fast steamer this week the inquiry for remittance was not urgent. In the opinion of bankers, however, the export of gold is certain in the near future. The London money market was reported easier. Since last Friday the New York associated banks have gained $178,000 through sub-treasury operations, but there was transferred yesterday for account of the banks $340,000 currency to New Orleans. In view of last Saturday's bank statement these movements have lost some of their interest as bearing upon the money market. A subject of more interest just now is the movement of grain. For the past two days the primary receipts of wheat were 3,480,000 bushels, as compared with about half that amount for the corresponding period last year. Bradstreets reported an increase during the past week in the world's supply of 3,500,000 bushels, as compared with 2,200,000 last year. The increase in the United States for the week was 4,605,000 bushels, showing that the movement of the crop to market is now well under way, and if not obstructed by high prices, exports should be on a liberal scale.

The irregularity of the local stock market yesterday made it rather difficult to determine its exact tone, although at the close the feeling was undoubtedly influenced by the weakness prevailing in New York at that time. Of 29 securities dealt in, 9 showed net gains for the day, 12 net losses and 8 were unchanged, as compared with the last previous transactions. Pittsburgh Brewing common was most active and at the same time the strongest stock on the list, advancing to 33¾, the highest price of the year, and closing at 33¾, a net gain of ⅝. There were no transactions in the preferred, but the stock was firm at 48⅛@48⅝. The strength was based upon the annual report, published elsewhere in this issue, which was the best in the history of the corporation. Pittsburgh Coal was next in point of activity, selling to the extent of nearly 1,000 shares at 30½ to 30¾. The preferred stock was a shade lower at 88¾ to 88¾. River Coal securities remained nominally unchanged. Window Glass opened firm and higher and advanced to 54⅝, but just at the close it was offered down to 53¾ and closed without bid. The steel stocks were heavy, in sympathy with the tone in the east. United States Steel common sold at 40, but was later offered at 39¾, while the preferred declined to 87⅛, the lowest price of the year on the local board. Crucible Steel common sold at 21⅜ to 21⅝, and the preferred declined to 83½ at the close, a net loss of ⅛ for the day. Fire Proofing common was a shade firmer, selling at 28⅛, while the preferred sagged to 39. The Westinghouse stocks opened strong, but later sold off. Westinghouse Electric advanced to 107½ in the early dealings, but subsequently declined to 106, closing at 106⅜ bid. Airbrake sold at 176 to 177.

Considerable interest centered in the bank and trust company list, but in only three instances were price changes significant. American Trust opened firm and higher, advancing to 151, or a dollar above the price at which rumor had it that the stock had been optioned, and it closed at 150, a net gain of $1 for the day. A sale of 25 shares First National bank was made at 635, a decline of $55 from the last previous sale, but the price later recovered to 650 bid. Second National of Allegheny sold at 370, a decline of 5 per cent. The rest of the list was steady and unchanged. Pittsburgh Brewing 6s sold at 113½, an advance of ¾ per cent.

PITTSBURGH STOCKS.

Transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday aggregated 6,270½ shares stocks, $48,000 bonds, $181 scrip and 1-10 right. Sales:

NOTES AND COMMENT.

United Realty Trust was offered at 125 at the close.

North American Savings closed at 128½ bid, 129½ asked.

Cosmopolitan National Bank closed at 107 bid, 109 asked.

Harbour was a seller of $18,000 Pittsburgh Brewing 6s. Long bought.

Marlin was the principal seller of Crucible Steel preferred on the decline at the close.

Pennsylvania Railroad and Pressed Steel Car common were quoted ex-dividend yesterday.

Schmidt, Long and Wetzengel were the principal sellers of Pittsburgh Brewing, and Hill & Co. were the largest buyers.

The directors of the Liberty Oil and Development Company have declared a dividend of 5 per cent, payable November 10.

George L. McFarlane, who has been confined to his home by illness, left last night for Mt. Clemens, in the hope of finding relief.

At yesterday's prices United States Steel preferred nets the investor about 8 per cent, and Crucible Steel preferred about 8 per cent.

The semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent on Bessemer Railroad preferred will be paid December 1 to stock of record November 15.

An officer of the American Cement Company says: "Our earnings this fiscal year, ending November 30, will be at least 10 per cent."

On election night Slease & Co., the Wood street brokers, received election returns in their office and entertained their patrons.

Sproul & Co. and Hill & Co. sold Pittsburgh Coal. Kuhn Jones bought 600 shares. Pressly, Watt & Schoyer and Miller were also buyers.

The gross earnings of 53 roads for the third week in October increased 7.81 per cent. The net earnings of 42 roads for September decreased 3.61 per cent.

The newly elected board of directors of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company will meet next Monday to take action on the dividend. It is possible that the rate on the common stock will be increased.

Telegraph linemen were at work yesterday preparing for the installation of a local stock ticker service. It is expected to have everything in readiness for the occupancy of its new quarters by the Pittsburgh stock exchange.

The car shortage in the Connellsville coke region is reported to be greater than ever before on any day this year. It is possible that the foggy days in succession, which interfered with the movement of traffic, were responsible for the condition of affairs, nevertheless it is the situation appears to be growing worse instead of better.

Treasury statistics show that from March 14, 1900, to March 14, 1902, 1,210 national banks were organized in the United States. Of that number 805 banks were organized with individual capital of less than $50,000, the total capital being $21,006,500, and 467 with a total capital of $40,000,000, with individual capital of $50,000 or over.

The formal opening of the German-American Savings & Trust Company will occur on Monday next and invitations have been issued to the public to inspect the company's quarters at Sixth avenue and Smithfield street on that date. The German-American has a strong directory and counts business under the most favorable auspices.

The treasury department has declined to accept more state and municipal bonds as security for United States deposits. The working balance of the treasury has now got down to $50,000,000. The traditional amount regarded as a safe working balance is $50,000,000, and $75,000,000 is generally accepted. Even $40,000,000 millions is regarded as coming so close to the established figure as to make further retrenchment unwise.

The supreme court in effect has affirmed the judgment of the supreme court of Michigan that the silver dollar is a legal tender. The case arose over the tender of Stephen Baldwin of Oakland, Mich., of 336 silver dollars in payment of a mortgage held by Frank Ashley, declined to receive, on the ground that the legal tender provisions of the law of 1878 were unconstitutional. The lowest court and the supreme court held silver dollars were full legal tender for all debts.

Sentiment in Wall street at the close of the market yesterday was more completely bearish than at any previous time this year. All the arguments that have been heard recently, such as gold exports, tight money at the end of the year, our foreign indebtedness, threatened labor troubles and higher cost of operating railroads and industrial enterprises, were rehearsed, and the general impression was prevalent that the result of the elections foreshadowed a return of possible congressional action as a factor in the market. In fact, the bearishness was almost pronounced enough to warrant a rally on the short interest.

Of a total of $782,024,330 of United States bonds only $16,072,850 are held by foreigners, of this amount $5,000,000 is reported to be owned by foreign insurance companies and are on deposit with insurance officials in the different states for the protection of policy holders there. The net individual foreign holdings amount to only $3,444,850, or less than one-half of 1 per cent of the bonds outstanding. Of this amount $3,174,850 are the 4 per cent bonds of 1907, the oldest large government loan now outstanding. With the exception of these foreign holdings of United States bonds would be practically eliminated. This is certainly a remarkable exhibit and indicates the rapid way in which American investors have been absorbing the foreign holdings of our government debt.—New York Commercial.

Pittsburgh Brewing is relatively the highest priced of the brewery industrials, the common being on a basis of 67 times the earnings. The former pays 4 per cent and the latter 2 per cent per annum on par. Some of the common shares of local industrials paying a similar dividend on their par value considerably below the parity of Brewing common. The reason for this is seen in the annual report of the Brewing company submitted to stockholders yesterday. The company's profits last year were $568,000 larger than for the previous year, which shows that the business continues progressive, and the charging off of $500,000 for depreciation, compared with a charge-off last year for the same item of $240,000, shows that the management is taking advantage of current prosperity to maintain its plant at a high degree of efficiency. At the close of the last fiscal year the surplus remaining after meeting all charges and dividends amounted to $1,218,804. For the year just closed $578,390 has been added to this sum, increasing it to $1,797,284.

THE THREE RIVERS.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 5.—River 5.3 feet and stationary. Raining hard. Local packets on time.

LOUISVILLE—River falling; canal, 5.1 feet; falls, 10 inches; foot of locks, 4.7 feet. Business good. Rain. Packets on time.

HUNTINGTON—River 4 feet 5 inches and stationary. Light rain. The Kate Nic. is running in the Chevallers trade.

WHEELING—River 3 feet 2 inches and falling. Light rain. Departed, Bessie Smith, Parkersburg, 4 p. m.

WARREN—River two-tenths feet.

POINT PLEASANT—River 2 feet 8 inches and falling. Raining.

OIL CITY—River 8 inches and stationary.

GALLIOLIS—River 3 feet 2 inches and falling.

GREENSBORO—River 6 feet 6 inches and stationary. Elizabeth and Columbia down Thursday.

PARKERSBURG—River 5.6 feet and stationary. Raining. The Cricket left at 9 a. m. for Wheeling.

Notes of the Rivers.

At 9 o'clock last night the stage of water at Davis Island dam was 2.9 feet and falling.

There are 25 empties at Cincinnati waiting to be towed to Pittsburgh.

Good water is reported in the Tennessee river and Muscle Shoals.

The Morganiorn packet Elizabeth arrived yesterday at noon and departed for an up river points at 5 p. m.

The towboat Oakland, which is receiving a new boiler at Wheeling, will probably be ready for service in about 10 days.

There is but one boat remaining in the Wheeling trade, the Lemyr, and she may have to quit today on account of low water.

The Raymond Horner is to be docked at Elizabeth for repairs. The Volunteer and Little Fred are now on the ways at that place.

Fishermen say the fog of the last two days is the worst known on both the Monongahela and Ohio rivers and has caused an imperative demand for rousers.

Sunday quiet pervaded the wharves yesterday all day. In the morning the absence of all tower river navigation and the delay of the river packets made the quiet especially noticeable.

Henry McClanahan, who resigned the position of chief engineer of the steamer City of Louisville to accept a position as engineer of the waterworks at Maysville, Ky., has given up the latter employment and returned to the City of Louisville.

Yesterday morning another heavy fog hung low on the river and packets from up the Monongahela were compelled to tie up until the atmosphere cleared. As a result boats were late in reaching port and delayed in starting up the river yesterday afternoon.

The big dam in Little Wheeling creek, above Boney's point, W. Va., is breaking in the middle. The county authorities have been requested to take steps to prevent loss of life in the valley. Twelve feet of water are back of the dam. The people living in the lowlands are thoroughly alarmed.

A special meeting of the masters and pilots of Harbor No. 25 will be held next Saturday morning, November 8, at 9:30 o'clock. Business of importance requires attention and it is hoped there will be a large attendance. This meeting was to have been held yesterday morning, but was postponed to Saturday.

Capt. Robert S. Oakes, pilot of the towboat Valiant, appeared before the local board of steamboat inspectors and presented his report of the trouble with the P. M. Pfeil, of which Capt. Holmes Harger, Jr., is pilot. Capt. Oakes claims that the Pfeil ran into his tow when the Valiant was coming through a chute, almost ruining him ashore and endangering the lives of the crew.

Through the Real Estate Trust Company it is property at Nos. 628-630 Liberty avenue has been sold for a price approximating $60,000. The lot faces 31.5 feet on the south side of the avenue, between Virgin alley and Sixth avenue, and has a depth of 110 feet. It is improved with a four-story brick building which stands next to the Schenck & Demler block. The rate of sale is $1,777 a front foot. It is understood the property was bought by a prominent business man for an investment.

The Pittsburgh Brewing Company has sold the property at No. 1134 Penn avenue, Fourth ward, for $36,000. The deal is credited to the Real Estate Trust Company and the buyer's name is withheld pending the delivery of the deeds. The property, which measures 24x100 feet, is on the south side of the avenue next to the Hotel Roma, and extends back to Spring alley.

Sewickley Municipal Building.

It is probable that the much talked of municipal building at Sewickley will materialize in a short time. Architects were asked to submit plans and estimates on the proposed building several weeks ago, and as a result 20 sketches are now in the hands of Civil Engineer J. Campbell of Sewickley. From this number a design for the building will be selected at a meeting of the council committee to be held soon, and it is expected the work of building will be started at once. A limit of $40,000 was placed on the architects. The building will be erected at the corner of Thorne and Chestnut streets, on a lot which the borough has owned for some time.

It develops that the purchaser of the property at No. 518 Grant street, the sale of which was noted in yesterday's Gazette, was James H. Park, instead of D. E. Park, as reported. The exact consideration was $50,000, or $2,083 a front foot. The former owner, Attorney W. L. Sloan, bought the property in 1897 for $17,000 with the intention of erecting a building for attorney's offices, but owing to the slow removal of the hump and the appreciation in property decided to dispose of the lot.

Frick and Wanamaker Want It.

On November 12 the committee appointed by the German Evangelical Lutheran church to arrange for the leasing of its property at the corner of Sixth avenue and Smithfield street will meet to decide on some definite schedule of conditions, which the proposed lessees must agree to when they submit their offers. At present five different parties are seeking to get possession of the Smithfield street corner. It is reliably reported that John Wanamaker of Philadelphia is one of the two outside men ready to submit propositions, and that H. C. Frick, through a prominent real estate agent, is one of the three local parties in the field. The church committee will demand that the proposed lessees state what sort of a building they will erect, for what purpose the property is to be used, and how long a lease they will want. Restrictions are to be named by the church also before the committee invites the five parties to submit bids for the lease.

Through Barr Bros. & Co., W. S. Larson, secretary of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, has bought from William and Caroline Pfenninger the property at No. 7118 Frankstown avenue for $12,500. The lot is 50x140 feet and is improved with a double tenement house and a frame dwelling. By this purchase the traction company becomes owner of all the property on both sides of Frankstown avenue between Homewood and Lang avenues.

Big Warehouse for Allegheny.

Architect Hodgens & Burns are preparing plans for a four-story warehouse to be erected for William P. Lenge & Co., dealers in hides and tallow, at a cost of $30,000. The warehouse will be located on the north side of Church avenue, Allegheny, near Madison avenue, and will extend through to Washington street, having a frontage of 50 feet in the last street and 71 feet on Church avenue, with a depth of 150 feet. It is to be a brick and steel structure, built on the slow-burning plan, and will be of extra heavy construction.

The same architects have plans for a $4,000 frame house for J. Banfield in Beaver.

Architect William Young Brady is preparing plans for an 18-room stone house to be built by D. McIntosh at Franklin. The residence will cost $20,000. He also has for the contract to McGinnis Bros. for an $8,000 residence to be built in Dellington road, near Murray avenue, for William Kuhn. The house will be a unique specimen of the old Elizabethan type, being half brick and half timber, and having big cement panels on the outside. Architect Brady is also preparing plans for a colonial brick house for Attorney P. M. Speer of Oil City to cost $8,000.

Bids Were Too High.

The plans for the Beth Eden Baptist church, to be erected at the corner of Juniata and Locust streets, Allegheny, are being revised by the architects, Thomas W. Boyd & Co. The first bids called for an expenditure of $40,000, which the congregation desires to cut down to $25,000 or $30,000. The same architects have given the contract to C. W. Cochran of Butler for a $9,000 colonial pressed brick house to be built in Butler for Edward E. Abrams, and are preparing plans for a $6,000 frame dwelling to be built at No. 939 Liberty avenue, owned by Henry Rea.

Ernest H. Wagner has bought from Sue E. Lang a lot 24x100 feet at the southwest corner of Forty-fifth street and Long alley, Seventeenth ward, and another lot, 30x100 feet, at the west corner of Forty-fifth street and Eden alley, same ward, for $11,000.

Available Supply of Grain.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Special cable and telegraphic advices received by Bradstreets show the following changes in available supplies, as compared with last reports: Wheat, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, increased 4,665,000 bushels; afloat for and in Europe, decreased 1,100,000 bushels; total supply, increased 3,565,000 bushels. Corn, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, increased 45,000 bushels. Oats, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, decreased 500,000 bushels. Among the more important increases reported were Toledo, 1,010,000 bushels; Duluth in Manitoba, 380,000 bushels at Chicago private elevators, 300,000 bushels at northwestern interior elevators, 88,000 bushels at Ogdensburg and 82,000 bushels at Rochester. The leading decreases are those of 125,000 bushels at Portland, Me., and 75,000 bushels at Minneapolis private elevators.

TEN POINT DECLINE IN REFINED SUGAR

Apples and Potatoes in Heavy Receipt With Prices Lower. Danish Cabbage Here.

After election excitement was evident in all markets yesterday, and there was more or less distraction on the part of business men, as is always noticeable at such times. This of course had its effect upon trading, which was less spirited than usual, and quotations were allowed to remain largely unchanged.

In the hay and grain markets there were lighter receipts than the average for the last few days, although there were plentiful stocks of hay and oats, while straw is as scarce as it has been of late, and corn arriving only in very moderate quantities. Clover hay was a little easier, going down about 25c a ton, while all other grades held firm. Oats continue steady at the decline of Monday, and bran is in light receipt and strong at Tuesday's advance.

The important item in grocery circles was a decline of 10 points in quotations for refined sugar affecting all grades. This move has been expected for some time, and has not come earlier, simply because demand has continued steady. In the meantime refiners and raw sugar has been firm. Flour demand is good, while difficulty in getting consignments through promptly is giving jobbers some trouble in filling orders.

Heavy Apple Receipts.

One hundred cars of apples were in the produce yards yesterday and prices declined, though very little, the demand for storage holding the market level, with retailers purchasing freely. Potatoes were also in large supply, and quotations were down. Sweet potatoes are firm. Danish cabbage is in the market and bringing prices to little better than those for domestic. String beans are in better supply and lower. Quinces are abundant and have declined, while pears are lower than they were on Tuesday, best stock offering at $3.00 a barrel. Concord grapes are cheaper, slightly better returns than those quoted yesterday morning, but stocks are plentiful, and the demand is not as heavy as dealers would like to see. Oranges and lemons are holding at the same figures as have ruled all week, while California grapes are still in good supply. Jamaica grape fruit is in the market, bringing from $6.00 to $8.00. Cocoanuts are here selling at $8.50 a bag.

The poultry market is unsettled, the country market is a slight lowering in price of five turkeys, which are in plentiful supply. There will likely be an abundance of turkeys for the Thanksgiving trade, and there is not much likelihood of high prices ruling.

Butter, eggs and cheese are all unchanged, with the market very firm.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 17 cars hay, 4 cars oats, 5 cars corn, 2 car straw. 5 cars hay: Baltimore & Ohio, 2 cars hay; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 3 cars hay; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 2 cars hay, 2 cars oats; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 3 cars hay, 1 car corn, 1 car rye. Total receipts, 44 cars.

NEGRO CONVICT IS GUILTY OF A COWARDLY ASSAULT

Handed Knife to Prisoner With Which He Slashed Detective Barry, Who Had Arrested Him For Robbery.

In criminal court yesterday before Judge Collier, William McCann, charged with felonious assault and battery on Detective Edward Barry, pleaded guilty to slashing the detective with a knife and pleaded no defense to a charge of entering the house of Mary Milcaret, No. 3037 Brereton avenue, on April 15, and stealing four suits of clothes, a watch and other articles.

N. J. Saunders, colored, who was indicted jointly with McCann on the felonious assault and battery charge, stood trial and was convicted. He is the man who handed to McCann the knife with which the latter cut Barry, narrowly missing the jugular vein.

In the trial of Saunders McCann testified against the defendant and said the negro had come across the street while McCann stood at the patrol box manacled to the detective, and under the pretense of shaking hands passed the witness a large pocket knife with a blade opened, remarking, "Go at him; I'll stick." With his right hand handcuffed to the detective's left, McCann began stabbing the former about the face. The detective was taken by surprise.

James H. Aeklin, charged with feloniously assault and battery by Alfred Maines, was acquitted. It was charged he struck Mains with a pair of tongs across the head at Clairton on June 17 last. The costs were placed on the prosecutor.

Vale Tomacis, charged with illegal sale of liquor, was acquitted and the costs were placed on the prosecutor. Mike Manch.

ASKS AN INJUNCTION.

Plaster Company Alleges a Contractor Is Interfering With Its Work.

A bill in equity was filed by the Rock Plaster Manufacturing Company against J. M. Enyeart. The plaintiff company was awarded a contract to plaster three houses owned by W. D. Uptegraff, and then sub-let it to the defendant. It is charged the defendant failed to complete the work and has maliciously delayed and refused to carry out the contract.

The plaintiff claims to have cancelled the contract with the defendant and awarded it to George W. Erhart. Enyeart, it is said, has refused to allow Erhart's men to work and an injunction is asked preventing him from interfering. A preliminary injunction was granted.

HUDDLESTON APPEAL.

Supreme Court Hears Arguments in a Number of Allegheny County Cases.

Arguments were heard yesterday in the supreme court, in the appeal of Catherine A. Huddleston from a decision of the orphans' court in deciding she was not the widow of the late Charles L. Davis, the theatrical manager. Nothing new was brought out in the arguments. Other Allegheny county appeals heard were:

Walter B. Lawson, appellant, against the American Steel & Wire Company, an action to recover for alleged personal injuries; Joseph B. Woods against the Greensboro Natural Gas Company, appellant, an action growing out of a right of way to lay a gas line; J. M. McGinnis against William Kerrs Sons, an action to recover for the death of the plaintiff's son. Peter Lehman against Carbon Steel Company, appellant, an action to recover for personal injuries received; William T. Doyle, appellant, against Pittsburgh Waste Company, an action to recover for alleged personal injuries received; Charles H. Kelly against the Pittsburgh & Birmingham Traction Company, appellant, an action to recover for personal injuries received; Thomas N. King and others against the New York & Cleveland Gas Coal Company, an action in ejectment to recover possession of 85 acres of valuable land in Plum township.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

An inventory and appraisement of the estate of the late Rev. Dr. W. J. Reid shows a valuation of $20,851 37. A like statement shows the valuation of the estate of Michael Graver to be $10,000.

A new trial was refused in the case of Robert B. King against the Consolidated Traction Company.

In the case of James Hatton and wife against the Fisher Foundry and Machine Company, for damages for the death of the plaintiffs' son, the jury awarded the plaintiff $1,300. The boy was playing near the foundry when a large wheel fell on him.

The case of the Columbia Fire Proofing Company against the Great Northern Paper Company is on trial in common pleas court No. 1. The plaintiff claims a balance due from the defendant on a contract of $12,000. The defendant has a setoff of about $12,000 for alleged breach of contract.

THE PENNSY'S TUNNEL.

Amended Franchise Approved and Will Go to the Alderman.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—It was announced by Secretary Borrows of the rapid transit commission this evening that the Pennsylvania tunnel franchise, as amended, had been approved by the Pennsylvania railroad.

The franchise, signed, has been sent back to the rapid transit commission and will be sent to the board of aldermen, so that it can be acted on next Tuesday.

Several Ranchers Missing.

NATER, NEB., Nov. 5.—The most destructive fire that ever visited this county has been raging on the Rosebud Indian reservation since Sunday. Three hundred cattle have been burned and scores of ranches in the path of the flames have not been heard from. Several hundred settlers are now holding the flames in check along the north line of Boyd county.

First free schools established in Roxbury, Mass., 1645. Law passed in Mass., 1647—established grammar schools. The manufacture of cloth began in Mass. in 1640, and from that day to the present time American looms have kept hustling. And still some men can't get over the habit of buying and selling imported (so-called) woolens. Come in, let us show you the real genuine American Suits for Men and Boys. Made by American workmen in our own Pittsburgh workshop—Better still, take our samples and

These Are Only a Few of the Many Good Things This Store Has Prepared for You Today.

The Fall in Price of Fall Overcoats.

Men were either up too late Tuesday night or were too much engrossed in the election returns yesterday to give thoughtful attention to the $30, $28, $25, $22 and $20 Overcoats that we offer for $15.

Probably the fault was ours in asking you to buy Overcoats when your thoughts were on your preferred candidate.

Well, the matter is settled; so come and make your selection today.

For $15 you have choice of long, medium and short length dressy Top Coats in such materials as fine imported black vicunas, thibets, cheviots and coverts. Besides black there are such popular colors as Oxford gray and light and dark staple shades.

Sack Suits $12, worth $16.50.

Many different styles at this price, among them the coat with cutaway corners, the coat with round corners, and the coat with an almost square cut. Homespun with indistinct plaid effect, tweeds in black and white mixtures, cheviots in pretty brown and green mixtures.

It does not take a fat pocketbook to buy stylish and good clothes these days.

Fine Persian Rugs Reduced.

Opportunity for people who can use and who desire fine Oriental Rugs, but have thought they were beyond their reach.

No. 2942—size 12.1x10.5 feet—was $185, now $123.
No. 2854—size 11.0x 9.9 feet—was $150, now $100.
No. 2858—size 11.8x 9.0 feet—was $158, now $105.
No. 2905—size 11.9x 8.9 feet—was $150, now $100.
No. 2897—size 11.0x 8.6 feet—was $145, now $ 97.
No. 2883—size 10.1x 7.0 feet—was $105, now $ 70.

We also have some India Rugs—12 feet by 9 feet—red ground mixed with pink and green—best quality of India Rugs, selling for $125, now reduced to $65.

A limited number of small Rugs, formerly sold for $9 and $12, have been reduced to $5.

These Thanksgiving Linens

Our Daily News of Cotton and Wool Waists.

If it were not that you come after Waists every time we mention them (this is the fourth series this week), we would not think of inviting you to read our daily talks on Waists. But these Waists are all the rage, and it is only fair for us to keep you posted.

Some details for today:

$1.25. A prepossessing Waist of quite heavy Oxford in white. Worth at least a half dollar more.

$1.50. Another new line Waists — cheviots in the preferable basket weave.

$2. Reduced from $3.50 and $4. Choice of Waists in either French flannels, twilled flannel or albatross. Now, a good many women have handled these Waists and they are slightly soiled. Not many of them, mostly white and light shades.

$2. Waists of white fleeced lined Marseilles. Front of tucks and large buttons; French back. Come in several different patterns.

$3.50—Sold for $4—white fleeced lined Marseilles, the front of slot tucks, trimmed with small pearl buttons; French back; bishop sleeves; stock with turn-over.

$3.50. New Waists of white vesting with a small black figure. Tucked front; large pearl buttons; fastens to one side; stock collar.

$3.50. Waist of a white wool basket weave cloth that will wash. This is something decidedly new. Front of tucks and large buttons; French back; bishop sleeves; stock and collar.

Helps for Preparing the Thanksgiving Dinner.

There are so many inventions for helping along culinary art these days that the preparation of a dainty and appetizing meal becomes a pleasure to the expert in cookery.

We verily believe there is not a single thing missing of all the requisites for helping along the Thanksgiving dinner in our big Department of Household Supdries in the Basement. Here are some of them:

11 by 17 inch Illinois Covered Roasting Pans, made of heavy Russia iron, only 75c. 12 by 19 inch size, 85c.

Peerless Steam Cookers, made of extra heavy planished tin. We have these in three sizes, 3½, 5½ and 7 gallons, and the respective prices are $2.50, $3.50 and $4.50 each.

Universal Food Choppers, the kind that chop all kinds of meats, raw or cooked, and all kinds of fruits and vegetables. 85c, $1, $1.25 and $1.75.

Fancy shaped extra heavy imported Tin Jelly Molds, $1 per dozen.

Stag handle nickel plated furrowed steel blade Carvers, $1.50. Another and better line at $2.50 each.

Nut Picks and Cracks—set of 6 Picks, 10c; set of 6 Picks and Crack, 25c; extra Cracks, 15c each. Better sets, 50c and $1 each.

For preparing oysters, mushrooms and lobsters there is no vessel like the Chafing Dish. We have special lines of Chafing Dishes at $3, $4, $5 and $6 each.

Fannie Merritt Farmer, principal of the Boston Cooking School, is the author of a book, entitled "Chafing Dish Possibilities." It is full of instruction. We sell it for $1.50.
